Jane Addams Figurine Is Added To Gallery

A figurine representing the late Jane Addams, founder of Hull House and internationally known world peace worker, has been added to the gallery of these little figures of prominent Chicago women in the Chicago Historical Society in Lincoln Park, says the Christian Science Monitor in a story from Chicago.

The small wax figure dressed in an orchid-colored silk gown is carrying a tiny book titled "Forty Years at Hull House." It was made by Mme. Minna Schmidt, costumer and originator of several thousand figurines of women from many nations who have contributed something to the progress of humanity. Some 400 of her "women of the world" are now in Washington, D.C., and are gradually added to when diplomats of foreign countries propose women of their nation who, they think, deserve this honor, Miss Schmidt said.

Alleged WIT

It never pays to worry about what other people are thinking about you, for they are probably wondering just what you are thinking about them.

Harold — "Was Ed shocked over the death of his aunt?"
Jacob — "Shocked? He was electrocuted."

Ashes to ashes, dust to dust;
If it weren't for paint, women would rust.

Handler — "He failed on legs — not long enough."
Exhibitor — "Well, they touch the ground."

Man (to farmer) — "Why are those bees flying around so frantically?"
Farmer — "I guess they have the hives."

BILLBOARDS
I think that I shall never see
A billboard lovely as a tree
Perhaps, unless the billboards fall,
I'll never see a tree at all.

Lady — "Here you are again, and I just gave you a pair of shoes last month."
Tramp — "Yes, lady. I just came back to see if you would have them half-soled for me."

READ IT OR NOT !—Dutch clocks are made in Germany.

Exhibitor — "Why didn't my dog win a prize?"
floor, don't they?"

Operator — "Number please?"
Drunk — "Number nothing. I just put a nickel in here. Where's my chewing gum?"

Guest — "Well, goodnight, I hope I haven't kept you up too late."
Host (yawning) — "Not at all. We would have been getting up soon anyway."

Breathing through the mouth is said to be harmful, talking through the mouth also has very serious results at times.

Friend — "She'll come along soon, without a doubt."
Man — "Yeah? Shell be doubting my sobriety, my veracity and my fidelity."

Explaining gets to be a chronic habit with a lot of people.

Traveller — "This rain should do a lot of good."
Porter — "Yes, sir. An hour of it would do more good in five minutes than a month of it would do in a week any other time.

The fellow who got that job away from you yesterday is a low-down, chiseling so and so, and he cut the price to the bone to get it. When you got that job away from him last month it was superior salesmanship.

June Grcom — "Who spilled that mustard on this waffle, dearest?"
June Bride — "Oh, Jack how could you? This is lemon pie!"

His employer said he was an independent salesman; he took orders from nobody.

Bountiful Crop Ruined By Rains

Serious Loss Caused in Grain Fields in Many Points in Ontario Potatoes in Danger, Too

TORONTO—Rain, tumbling down out of sodden skies during the past week and soaking farmlands over a large section of the Province, has blasted the hopes for a bountiful grain crop held by farmers earlier in the season.

Reports from numerous Ontario points indicate that an over-abundance of rainfall is liable to cause a serious loss of grain, while farmers in the Chatham district have encountered an outbreak of foot rot among their herds of cattle, result of wet ground.

Farmers in the vicinity of Woodstock report grain crop conditions in Oxford County to be the worst in many years. In the London district, several cases were reported of grain sprouting in stooked wheat on the field. The hot, damp weather, it was said, is also having a bad effect on the potatoes, and it is feared that a continuance of such weather may result in blight.

In the St. Thomas district there were also reports of grain sprouting while lying in the fields. Many sheaves have fallen over, sprouted and grown fast into the ground.

Rain fell upon Kingston in heavy sheets, coming down in such quantities that windshield wipers were of little use and street lights were turned on to enable drivers to see approaching traffic.

Some apple growers in the Ingersoll district are preparing to give their orchards an extra spraying to counteract the effect of the wet spell. An attack of apple spot is feared. Usually the orchards receive five sprayings, but owing to the almost continuous wet weather for nearly a week, it has been deemed advisable to give an extra spraying.

One grower stated that there is a plentiful yield of early apples. The later varieties, it was estimated, will not be more than 60 per cent of an average crop, with the indications that the Spys will probably not be 50 per cent of the average.

Soviet-U.S. Trade Pact Won't Affect Canada

OTTAWA. — The new commercial agreement between the United States and Soviet Russia proclaimed at Washington will have little or no effect on Canada's trade with either of the countries in the opinion of trade officials here.

Interpretation placed on the agreement here is that the principal change will be to give Russian coal and coke free entry into the United States. Canada and Russia are not competitors in this commodity and there is little competition in others.

The expansion of Russia's purchasing in the United States will also make little difference to Canada. The trade between Canada and Russia, freed last September from a mutual embargo, amounts to only a few thousand dollars a month.

Size of Dairy Herd to Keep

To Prove Most Profitable on Average Farm

The question is often asked as to the size of a dairy herd likely to prove the most profitable on the average farm.

The profit in milking cows lies mainly in the selection from, and in the breeding of high-producing, pure-bred dairy stock. Good cows are seldom bought, but they can be raised. This means beginning with a pure-bred sire with either the cows one already has or with young heifers selected from practical, pure-bred herds.

The size of the herd should be determined by the amount of pasture land that is available, the possibility of growing the bulk of other feeds necessary, can be cared for without the employment of additional regular labor, or without requiring added buildings.

A group of fewer than five cows is unprofitable because it requires too long to fill the cream can, does not easily justify buying a separator and demands approximately the same amount of labor and barn room as a large number of cows. A herd of more than ten cows per family demands further employment and assistance, and more buildings on the average farm.

Boy Scout world census figures for 1937, just compiled by the International Bureau, reveal a new record increase of 240,000. The figures bring the world total membership to 2,812,074. The last world census, taken in 1935, gave a total of 2,472,014. Scouting is active today in 49 countries counting the British Empire as one.

The Herculean job of feeding some 25,000 Boy Scouts is reflected in some of the catering figures of the American National Scout Jamboree, recently held in Washington. For the 75,000 "boy meals" served each day, the cooks ordered 250 tons of foodstuffs. This included 900 bushels of potatoes, 13,000 pounds of bread, 25,000 quarts of milk, 4,000 pounds of butter 50,000 eggs and 1,200 gallons of canned vegetables, such as tomatoes, corn, succotash and string beans, which, after consuming, the boys went out into the arena and played Indians-and-cowboys.

The rescue after two hours' of effort of a young woman clinging to the face of a cliff was an achievement this summer of the 6th Bridgewater Boy Scout Troop, Somerset, England. A young man and his fiancee had been caught by the tide in a cove, and attempted to scale the cliff. The young woman was unable to the ascent, and her companion finally gaining the top, called Scouts, and called aloud for help. With rope and Scouts descended the cliff by route, then ascended to the lady, secured her with the climbing ahead, hauled her to safety.

Honors Belgian Minister

OTTAWA. — Presentation of Vimy Memorial medals to Baron Silvercruys, Belgian Minister to Canada, Major Baltz, Belgian Consul in Ottawa, was made by the Canadian Legion at a function here this week. Presided by Dominion Command officers, the ceremony was presided over by Brig.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, D.S.O., Minister of National Defense and a former Dominion President of the Legion.

Brig.-Gen. LaFleche recalled the hospitality extended to the Canadian pilgrimage of a year ago by the Belgian people, and commented particularly on the reception accorded members of the National Pilgrimage Committee by King Leopold.

Crystal Palace Ruins Razed

The section left standing after the fire and which now has burned included the "old school of fine arts" and the roller skating rink.

Ice Packs For Horses

WINNIPEG—Manitoba farmers this week were instructed to place ice packs on horses' heads and put animals in a dark place whenever they showed signs of drowsiness, first symptom of encephalomyelitis, the strange sickness which has killed hundreds of animals in the province.

Supply of serum and little hope of large quantities from the United States or Northwest, where the disease is prevalent, has prompted Hon. R. W. Campbell, Manitoba Minister of Agriculture, to prepare a circular outlining household remedies to save horses from the worst epidemic of sickness the province has ever had.

Killed In Ontario Storm

Sweeping across Southern Ontario in a blinding, electrical storm of unknown proportions left death and ruin in its wake and caused heavy damage that totalled well into thousands of dollars.

Mrs. William Brown, North Oxford, and George Rennie, steeplejack working at Sarnia, were both instantly killed during the Ontario storm which was followed by a broken Hydro wire. Rennie, a Toronto man, was in a lightning strike working on the Sarnia smokestack.

Rain and lightning were also responsible for the damage in a wide path of the storm. At Carp Place, near Ottawa, the gable roof from a hotel and tossed into the street. In the same district trees were damaged by falling lightning.

Fatalities were reported from other centres, including four golfers were stunned while playing near Bracebridge.

Lands In Earthquake

CAPE TOWN, P.I. — A series of three earthquakes, following each other in succession, shook Manila this week. The city was thrown into panic. Walls of modern office buildings were cracked and water pipes burst. Hundreds of persons, refugees from war-torn Shanghai, fled but apparently there were no deaths. Many citizens were injured.

Reports from China were disembodied, the Inner President Jefferson, at the time of the first shock.

Iraq Army Split

BAGHDAD, I.A.—Iraq was without a cabinet this week and its army was fighting with divided loyalties in the crisis caused by the death of Sekir Sidki Pasha, chief of general staff.

Hikmet Suleiman's Cabinet resigned last week and former Premier Madfai was commissioned to form a new Government.

Suleiman, in an interview at the capital, that the internal situation was quiet despite rumors to the contrary.

It is reliably understood that the army planned to revert to the neutral policy prior to the coup which placed Suleiman in power October, turning out all those who came into office after the coup in the exception of army and other chief heads.

Hit by Cholera Epidemic

HONG KONG.—The British colony was gripped by a cholera epidemic this week-end. The disease has spread through the island. Scores of new cases have been reported daily with 39 per cent. of them ending in death.

Because of the Sino-Japanese war raging at Shanghai, authorities were unable to obtain fresh supplies of anti-cholera vaccine there.

China National Airways Corporation planes transported 600 pounds of the serum to Hong Kong before the outbreak of the Shanghai fighting a week ago.

Special appeals were made to other Far Eastern ports to rush more vaccine by air.

Japs Spurn British Plans

TOKIO.—Japan this week-end informed Great Britain it could not entrust its Shanghai interests to foreign protection, as proposed by the British Government in its plan to restore peace in Shanghai.

Japan demanded instead, convocation of the powers which helped conclude the 1932 truce terminating the Sino-Japanese hostilities in Shanghai of that year. This assembly of nations, according to the Japanese proposal, would persuade China to abide by its obligations under the 1932 truce and withdraw its troops from Shanghai.

The Japanese stand was communicated here to the British charge d'affaires, J. L. Dodds, by Foreign Vice-Minister Kensuke Horinuchi.

Wilkins Expedition to Rescue

TORONTO.—The Arctic-bound plane in which Sir Hubert Wilkins and four companions plan to search for the six Russian aviators, lost in the Polar regions for over a week, landed at the waterfront here at 3:30 o'clock E.D.T. Thursday afternoon.

No "Static" War Says Duce

CALATAFIMI, Sicily. — Premier Mussolini told the Italian army high command gathered here this week that the Sicilian manoeuvres proved that no Mediterranean or other foreign power could disembark troops in Sicily, large island at the toe of the Italian "boot." Mussolini said the war games demonstrated that so-called "static warfare" was out of the question for an army trying to invade Italy. He said Italy had developed her own doctrine of "war of movement."

Puts Ban on Noise

MONTREAL.—Montreal City Council, at a noisy protracted meeting, this week adopted an anti-noise by-law to become effective after ratification by the Legislative Assembly at Quebec. Ald. Lady Tweedsmuir's Air Trip

INTATA LAKE, B.C. — Lady Tweedsmuir made her first airplane flight aboard a Royal Canadian Air Force seaplane on the return from a fishing trip on which neither she nor the Governor-General caught any fish.

She boarded the plane piloted by Squadron-Leader Earl McLeod for a 10-mile flight back to camp from Natalkuz Lake at the eastern end of Intata River.

Lady Tweedsmuir said later she did not like flying but Squadron-Leader McLeod declared Her Excellency would have become accustomed to it had the flight been longer. The day was bumpy in spots. Lady Tweedsmuir was affected also by the "feeling of being in suspension."

While Their Excellencies had no luck with the fish, Alastair Buchanan, their son, Mrs. George Pape, lady-in-waiting, and the two aides, Lieut. G. Rivers-Smith and Capt. Patrick Campbell Preston pulled in six good-sized trout.

The students called the strike against their respective faculties for alleged partiality in the election of the board of directors for the student body.

$500,000 Will Be Spent On New Youth Program

Ontario Young Men and Women Will be Trained for Work and Placed In Jobs—Six Projects In View—Agreement Signed This Week-End

OTTAWA. — Ontario is the fifth Province to sign an agreement with the Federal Government providing for a program of special relief projects for youth. The four Western Provinces signed agreements some time ago.

As announced here this week-end by Labor Minister Rogers, the scheme calls for an expenditure of $500,000, split fifty-fifty between the Dominion and the Province. Work will be provided for 5,000 young men and women between the ages of 18 and 20.

The program calls for six projects—forest conservation work, technical training in mining, agricultural training, industrial apprenticeship, schools for training household workers, and technical training in urban centres.

The Province will select the youths for training, but the agreement stipulated they must be unemployed and there must be no discrimination in relation to social origin, religious views or political affiliations. Provision was made for vocational guidance by qualified officers before entering on a course of training and subsequent employment would be in accordance with the individual's aptitude.

Health Instruction

Living allowances may be paid in cases where the youths attend courses away from their homes. When possible, instruction will be given in physical education and health. Provision will be made on placements in employment on completion of the training. Special machinery will be set up for this purpose.

The agreement, which remains in force until March 31, 1938, calls for fifty-fifty expenditure by the two Governments, with Ontario paying administration costs.

Among the projects which have been approved after examination by the National Employment Commission are:

1. Forest conservation work to provide a practical course in forestry on the Provincial forest reserves for approximately 350 young men, with class instruction in related subjects.

2. Technical training in mining to be given in the Technical Schools of Northern Ontario to a selected group of 100 designed to fit them for positions in the mining industry. Instruction will be given in mine surveying, drafting, assaying, mineralogy and other subjects for a period of about six months.

Plan Farm Placement

3. Rural training, providing practical courses in subjects related to agriculture for young men. These courses will be established in various parts of the Province under the direction of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. There will also be courses for rural young women in homecraft, household economics and other suitable subjects. Through the Provincial Agricultural Representatives provision is being made to give 500 young men training in farm work by placing them with carefully selected farmers throughout the Province who agree to furnish adequate training and instruction in farming. This is not only a farm placement plan but is designed to train young men to follow agricultural pursuits.

4. Industrial apprenticeship and learnership, to help train young men or women in skilled or semi-skilled employment by paying the cost of their instruction either in special classes in technical schools or in periods of instruction in the shop or factory. This cost may include (1) the actual cost of the tuition given; (2) travelling expenses for those who have to attend classes away from their home; (3) payment to the young people of an allowance in lieu of wages while attending classes or undergoing instruction on the job or in the shop or factory. In the case of learners at least 60 per cent. of the combined wage and instruction allowance must be paid by the employer. This project will be promoted by a staff of specially appointed and qualified officers to canvass employers of the Province, and is under the direction of the Provincial Department of Labor.

Will Assist Women

5. Women's specialized training, schools for training household workers will be established in some of the larger cities of the Province with a qualified staff in charge and under the supervision of an honorary committee of women representing local organizations. The schools may be operated on a residential basis, and will provide a three months' course with a placement and follow-up service. Provision is also made for training in other forms of specialized services suitable for women.

6. Urban technical occupational training. To provide courses of practical training in the technical schools and elsewhere to help young people fit themselves for employment opportunities in the area. Some of these courses will be used in connection with the apprenticeship and learnership project.

Apple Pie Is First In U. S.

Expert Says Peach Next In Preference; Cream Kind Gaining

PHILADELPHIA, — Monroe "Boston" Strause, hailed as the nation's No. 1 pie expert, rolled out a neat pie crust and proclaimed that in his 20 years' experience he has found apple pie is the No. 1 pie with the nation.

Peach pie is second he enumerated, tucking the crust into a pie pan. The fruit pies rank high in the United States, but recently the cream pie has taken on popularity by leaps and bounds and in the near future, he thinks, meat pies will be extremely popular.

Strause, whose home is in Hollywood gave a pie-baking demonstration last night before the International Stewards' and Caterers' Association Convention.

Philadelphia, said Strause, is the nation's leading community of pie-eaters. "Your rate per customer is the highest in the country."

He said he had been studying the Philadelphia pie situation for years and he is thinking of naming his next pie for the home of scrapple and pepper pot soup.

Peter G. Economou, of Buffalo, N.Y., told the delegates it's colour that whets your appetite. "The average diner-out will choose the dish with the fancy colours every time."

Make Your Wallpaper Match You!

Selecting a wall paper flattering to your personal coloring is the latest fashion fad. Margaret Horan, brunette; Roseann Murray, red head, and Lorraine Bennett, blonde, (L-R) demonstrate the effect. Of course, if you change your coloring it's an expensive fad.

Program For Canadian Youth

A gigantic plan for the rehabilitation of Canadian young people caught in the maelstrom of hard times and unemployment is before the Federal Department of Labor and the Unemployment Commission. $1,000,000 has been voted to the scheme by the Dominion Government, a sum which will be used to promote apprenticeship in many trades and industries so Canadian boys and girls may be properly trained for work. All groups of youth will be taken into consideration and absorption made into as many branches of industry as possible.

Ontario hopes to receive $240,000 of the total allotment, and an agreement will probably be drawn up to that effect and submitted to both governments for ratification. Much preparatory work is already going on in Ontario. Government employment offices are being asked to keep a list of all unemployed young people and maintain close touch with the situation in each locality.

Will Stay Out of Politics

It is inevitable that reports will never cease to be current during the rest of his natural life that the Duke of Windsor is about to return to England and enter politics. Already rumors are circulating that the ex-King is going back to England inside of the next six months to become Prime Minister. Londoners say that it is only in the United States that such ideas are given credence. In England, they declare, there is no apparent body of opinion that would lift a finger to facilitate a political career for the former king, and it is more probable that public opinion would strongly resist, on impersonal grounds, any attempt of a member of the Royal family to enlarge his influence with the public.

An authoritative London source says there is not a scrap of evidence to indicate that any substantial number of Englishmen regret their decision of December. They would make it again and in like circumstances with equal emphasis.

Vanish In Arctic

A four-motored Russian plane piloted by the famed Sigismund Levanevsky and bound to the United States from Moscow, is long overdue at the Fairbanks, Alaska, landing field. It was the third Russian flight over the North Pole in the past two months. A Russian plane flew from Moscow and landed at Vancouver, Wash., June 20, and another flew from Moscow to San Jacinto, Cal., on July 14 after a 6,700-mile trip. Both flights were non-stop.

While the search goes on for the missing flyers, theories accounting for the disappearance of the plane piloted by Levanevsky hold that he may have run out of gasoline and come down in the tundra, or that he may have crashed in a 100-mile-an-hour gale. Only the Arctic wastes know the secret of what happened to the plane. Meanwhile the Soviet Government is going ahead with plans for further experimental flights over the Pole.

Clash With Aberhart

The Dominion-Alberta impasse over the banking laws enacted at the recent special session at Edmonton was dramatically terminated this week when Premier Mackenzie King announced that the three objectionable statutes had been disallowed. In a wire to Premier Aberhart, the head of the Dominion Government says in part:

"It is as felt that changes should be made in the banking or currency laws of the Dominion it is open to any citizens of the Dominion residing in Alberta, or in any other province, to seek to have those changes made by the only body which has the due authority. The issue in the present instance is that a direct attempt is being made to infringe upon a field of jurisdiction universally recognized as falling to the Dominion, and to butress this action by denying any questioning of the constitutionality of this section in the courts."

It is thirteen years since the power of disallowance has been exercised by the Dominion. The Federal Government claims that by passing the three pieces of legislation (licensing bankers, introducing measures to control banking, closing the courts to actions testing Alberta statutes), the Province of Alberta has over-stepped its powers. The fight is on.

Sino-Japanese War

A conflagration that appeared to have died down somewhat last week has flared up again with the Japanese attack on Shanghai, and the Chino-Jap disagreement has been brought within the category of a major conflict, a deadly war of the first class. The greatest aerial bombings the Orient has ever known, are going on. Sections of Shanghai have been destroyed by incendiary flames, ships belonging to both belligerents sunk, and innocent bystanders done to death. Hundreds of soldiers on both sides have been killed. The war in China is looked on with great disfavor by the Japanese at home who are already overburdened with taxes, yet a mobilization of all resources of that country has been proclaimed, and Japanese troops by the thousands continue to pour into Chinese war zones. The Chinese meantime are stemming the Jap advance and using blockades to keep enemy ships from penetrating inland. Reprisals on writes are feared and the foreign population of Shanghai are right in believing themselves to be in grave danger. It is expected that in order to spare the city, Great Britain may propose that she, the United States and France assume responsibility for safeguarding Chinese and Japanese interests there.

Canadians Are Beef-Minded Parley Is Told

Roast Beef and Yorkshire Pudding Is Dominion's Favorite Dish, Says Torontonian

PHILADELPHIA. — Delegates to the International Stewards' and Caterers' Association convention diligently compared notes this week and unanimously agreed that, generally speaking, all people like to eat.

But when it comes to the choice of good food and care of the customers, a sectional diversion of opinion appeared.

Up in Canada now, people toy with a salad, but they really want something substantial, said C. W. Hitchcock of Toronto. There is nothing a Canadian customer likes better than a good roast beef and Yorkshire pudding.

Take a Philadelphian now. You cannot give him meat with a lot of ribs in it, or fish with a lot of bones. That, according to F. L. D. Seely, Germantown delegate, is because Philadelphia diner-outers are "lazy."

J. C. Ross, who hails from Los Angeles, says that if a Californian can't have his salad he gets morose and refuses to eat his spinach and drink his milk.

Will Wire Governor Every Cow Casualty

DELAND, Fla—Governor Fred Cone will be notified by telegraph every time a cow is involved in a Volusia County highway accident.

The Deland Junior Chamber of Commerce joined in unsuccessful efforts to pass laws at the recent legislative session to bar cattle from Florida's roads.

Just to keep the matter before the governor, the chamber's board of directors voted to wire him the bad news every time a cow is bumped on the county's roads.
