Opportunity.

Some say that Opportunity
Knocks but once and goes away.
Yet others claim that still again
It comes and haunts the lives of men.
It all depends on what one may
Consider Opportunity.
But I know well, if others guess,
This angel is the Printing-press;
For printer's ink, if wisely used,
Success must win. Though oft refused,
Its agents pound upon the door,
And, oh, my goodness, what a roar
Goes up from these contending wights
When some one seizes on their rights
By simply hinting that their figures
Reveal a woodpile full of niggers.
The reader's pardon, we digress;
The subject was the printing-press.
I think 'twas Archimedes who
First used what we know as the screw,
And, satisfied with his invention,
Was graciously disposed to mention
That if some one who sells supplies
Would make some extra lengthy pries
Or levers stout, with such a probe,
If long enough, he'd move the globe.
Of course, this philosophic stuff
We know to-day is true enough.
But we should worry—what's the use—
When just to-day there's lying loose
Around each print-shop ammunition
To boost the world to what position
May suit the minds that have the pep;
But they must get the printers "hep."

What might have proved to be a serious accident, occurred at the Jarvis Roller Mills and Elevator on Monday morning. When the mill had been running but a short time time, the govenors of the engine slipped off, allowing the engine to run away and before it could be stopped' things got quite lively in the mill. The chopper was destroyed and other machinery was damaged to a more or less extent. Fortunately none of the men were hurt. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $100.

The citizens of Jarvis will not forget in a hurry the gale which visited our village on Good Friday, an occasion long to be remembered. Many out buildings and windmills were blown down, barns unroofed, etc. The implement building of Allen Wyckoff was completely blown to the ground. The Methodist Church shed was so badly damaged that the wind of Sunday night completed the work it had begun on Friday. A great deal of other damage was done about the neighborhood.

The people of Jarvis and vicinity are looking forward with great anticipation to the concert of the Jarvis Choral society which comes on April 11th. Jarvis folk have never before had an organization of the kind in town and while the singers have never sung choral music before yet, under the leadership of W. G. H. Bates, Hamilton, they have made great strides and expect to give their townsmen a rare treat on the night of their concert.

A string of lies has tangled many a man up.

Few men now-a-days submit to the irritating delays, the frequent disappointments, and the high cost of made to order clothes, when in half an hour they can get a BETTER suit ready—fabric, fashion, and fit. FALLS tailors make some suits to sell for as little as $5 to $7.50, but their reputation was built on the better suits at $10, 12, 15, 20 and 25.

Farewell Banquet.

Mr. L. Goodliff who is leaving on Thursday for the Old Country was tendered a complimentary banquet at the Exchange Hotel last night. The gathering was not as large as it would otherwise have been had it not been for the almost impassable condition of the roads and weather, but nevertheless about twenty well-wishers gathered around the festive board. After the inner man had been supplied, a rather lengthy toast list was presented, with Dr. Jaques as toast master, which was responded to as follows:

The King and Country, by singing the National Anthem.

Financial Institutions and Insurance. R. R. Telford, Bank of Hamilton; L. S. Parsons, Union Bank; G. L. Miller, Insurance.

Professions, Dr. S. A. Overend.

Commercial, Dan Steele, F. C. Fess, Col. J. S. Burwash.

Agricultural, Edward Hydes, Stanley Yeomans, W. H. Brennan.

Retired Gentlemen, James Whitwell, W. E. Armstrong.

The Ladies, A. W. Mattice, Robert Horne, John Waters.

Mine Host and Hostess, F. M. Hewson.

The toasts were all responded to in good style, and the best wishes of all go with Mr. Goodliff on his important mission, and trust that he may be able in some small measure to assist the Haldimand farmers to solve the farm labor question.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. William Trousdale, sr. has, to the delight of her many friends, safely passed the eighty-fifth milestone. On Saturday evening, 22nd inst., her birthday anniversary, her sons, daughters and granddaughters gathered at her home to celebrate the event. A very pleasant evening was spent Mrs. Trousdale herself, though recently suffering from an attack of "La Grippe," being well enough to share the luncheon with the happy company and narrate many interesting experiences of by-gone days. A number of appropriate gifts testified to the regard and affection in which she is held. The Record joins with others in wishing her many more years of joy and usefulness.

Rural Dean Godden Dead.

Rev. Rural Dean Godden, of Caledonia, one of the best-known Anglican ministers in Ontario, died in Hamilton on March 19, aged 47 years. He had been ill only a week. Appendicitis was the cause of death. He was the son of the late Thomas Godden, of Clarenceville, Quebec, received his education at Toronto University, taking the degrees of B. A. and M. A. He did missionary work in Toronto for five years and since then had a number of charges in the Niagara district. The funeral was held in Hamilton on Good Friday. Rural Dean Godden was a brother-in-law of Rev. Mr. Ross of Jarvis.

School Entertainment

Unfavorable conditions of weather and roads resulted in a rather small attendance at the Entertainment under the auspices of the School Board given in the Music Hall Tuesday evening. Those present, however, were addressed by a lecturer of no mean ability, and though the inspiration of a large audience was lacking, Miss Tillotson gave a racy and and entertaining address on the Hawaian Islands, their natural features, people and customs. Her excellent powers of description, expressed in brief, pithy and easily understood sentences held the attentive interest of young and—those not so young, an interest heightened by the narration of episodes in the actual experience of the narrator. Miss Tillotson also gave one or two elocutionary numbers in good dramatic style. The choruses by the male quartet, acompanied by Mrs. Miller, were well received, and Miss Allen's instrumental solo received a hearty encore. On motion of Mr. Eddy, seconded by Mr. Noble, a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the lecturer, the chairman Mr. Aiken, and the contributors of the musical numbers The performance closed with the National Anthem.

Meehan-Britton.

On Thursday last the little village of Cheapside was the scene of an interesting event, it being the occasion of the marriage of Miss Alice Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. S. Britton, Cheapside, to Mr. John Meehan, one of Jarvis' well-known and respected young men. At 12 o'clock, noon, as the sweet strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Monsinger, floated through the house, the bride, clothed in a beautiful gown of white voile over silk, and carrying a bridal bouquet, entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father, and took her place beside the groom and there these two plighted their troth. The interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Monsinger in the presence of about thirty five guests. At the conclusion of the ceremony, and after congratulations were offered, a dainty lunch was given and it was a happy gathering who sat down to the well-filled tables. Dinner over, the happy couple left for Jarvis where they took the evening train for Hamilton, Buffalo and Niagara Falls. The bride's going away gown was a blue suit with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet Space will not permit us to describe the presents, suffice to say they were numerous and costly. The Record joins with this estimable couple in wishing them a long and happy life.
