To $1.50

For some time past, in fact since shortly after the outbreak of the war the publishers of the country weeklies have been having a series of sick spells, to be mor edefinite, cold chills. These uncomfortable spasms have not been caused from the usual origin ill health, the issuer of a ppaper is always supposed to be "fit" whether he feels like it or not, but more of the mental species, caused from the continual rise in the expenses of issuing his weekly bulletin of news. In all lines of the printing industry, the prices have been soaring, especially that of paper, until now it is becoming so serious that the outlook for the weekly paper, and in fact the daily is becoming undoubtedly dark. For some time past the publishers throughout the province having been seriously thinking of raising the subscription rates to $1.50, a 50 cent advance on the old rate, and in a large number of counties, after due delibe.-ation, the new rate has bee adopted, and one by one the remaing counties are getting into line.

On Friday of last week the publishers of Haldimand County met at Caledonia to consider the adviseability of asking their subscribers for the new rate of $1.50. A full attendance was present as well as others of the fraternity from outside the county After considerable discussion it was unamiously voted to adopt the new schedule, to tak eeffect on December 1st, 1916, present subscribers having until February 1st, 1917, to complete their renewals. Those wishing to pay in advance of January 1st, 1918, will be charged the new rate.

The readers of the Record, we hope and are sure, are broad minded and fair and in the new advance will see the justness and advisability of the coming raise. We feel sure the many subscribers to out earnest endeavor will back us up in th enew departure and if any of th esaid readers feel that we are not justified in doing so we most earnestly ask them to come in and talk it over with us.

A meeting of the Niagara District publishers is being held at Niagara Falls on Friday of next week for the same purpose, while a general conference of the publishers throughout the province is to be held in Toronto on Friday, October 6, for the purpose of discussing the paper situation. The men, who are in th epositions to know, declare that the present situation is such as to warrant the gravest concern o nthe part of everyp ublisher, no matter how small are his newsprint requirements, and declare that immediate and probably drastic action is imperative if the interests of Canadian Newspaperdom is to be safeguarded.

Millinery Openings

The Autumn Millineyr Display at the Montreal House and The Busy Store last Saturday was as usual, well attended when all the most desirable novelties for the winter and fall seasons were shown. All the new ts, shades of purple, greens, Copenhagen blues, greys, etc, were used to good advantage on the different shapes and styles, brass and silver shades being prominent. Metal trimmings and metal flowers, mounts and wings are worn on hats both small and large. Large felt hats in two toned effects, plain felt hats, mushroom shapes, rolling brims and brims of the softening efects are also in the pyramid of fashion, and in spite of th epopularity of the large hats the small ones are very much in evidence. Fets combined with satin trimming and hatter's plush are used extensively this year. The leading ladies of the two houses, Misses McFarlane and Kelly for the Busy Store and Mrs. A. Williamson and Miss Walter for the Montreal House are to be congratulated on th efine showing and commendable work of their showings.

To the Altar

Booktos, Sept. 19th, 1916.

This neighborhood turned out en masse to witness the marriage of Miss Helena, second and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moore to Dr. Bruce Eaid, of London, formerly o fSimcoe. The ceremony was performed after Mass at the Church at LaSalette, by Father Brennan, Father Nagel, of Simcoe, assisting in the Mass.

The bride looked charming in a handsome gown of embroidered Brussels net over white satin, and wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms, and was attended by her sister, Miss Winnie Moore. Mr. Joseph Maloney, of London, now teacher in the Institute for Blind at Brantford, was best man. Miss Leita Leitch, of Toronto, played the wedding march and during the signing of the register, Miss Emma Hdanick, of Simcoe sang "Ave Marie."

At the conclusion of the ceremony th ewedding party drove to the home of the bride's parents, where the guests, forty in number, partook of a sumptuous wedding breakfast, prepared by "Russels", Brantford, who were engaged for the purpose.

The popularity of the bride was attested by the large enumber of useful and costly gifts which she received. The parents of the groom presented a house and lot in London to their son. The egroom was also remembered by Mrs. John Hawthorne, of Simcoe, on behalf of the late John Hawthorne, who requested that if "Bruce" ever married a present should be sent.

The young couple left amid showers of rice and congratulations for a honeymoon, but so far have not divulged their destination.—British Canadian.
