DUPLICATION OF BONDS CONFIRMED AT IPSWICH

PROBERS VERIFY SWINDLE ON HUGE SCALE EXPOSED BY FORMER JARVIS MAN

The issue of the Washington Herald of Saturday, February 25th, contains an interesting article on the findings of the House Committee named a year ago to investigate Liberty bond operations during the war.

This graft was first exposed at the close of the war by Attorney Jas. W. McCarter of Ipswich, who at that time was Register in the United States Treasury. Mr. McCarter secured considerable evidence of underhand work being done by government employees and this material was turned over to Congressman R. C. Johnson, of South Dakota, who made an untiring effort and secured the appointment of the committee to investigate the charges. As will be seen by the following article, the committee has been active and the Messrs. McCarter and Johnsons' efforts have not been in vain.

The Herald says as follows:—

The special House committee named a year ago to investigate Liberty bond operations has agreed tentatively on a report which, it was learned that night, will contain a number of highly sensational findings.

The committee will say it has confirmed charges that there were duplications on a tremendous scale in the issuance of these bonds and that much of this work resulted from fraud, rather than from errors in numbering.

4,000 DUPLICATED

The report will state that there has been discovered evidence of more than 4,000 duplicate bonds, ranging in value from $50 to $10,000. It will declare further that more than fifty bonds have come into the Treasury bearing numbers that were said to have been left blank in order to allocate to these numbers the duplicates in cases where two bonds bore the same number.

This latter phase of the situation is cited as a clinching evidence of duplication operations and that the Government is having to redeem more of the securities than lawfully were issued.

In addition to the duplications, the report will assert that redeemed bonds have been stolen from the vaults of the Treasury and again put in circulation.

REGAH THEATRE

"THE BORDER LEGION"

"The Border Legion," with Antonio Moreno and Helene Chadwick featured in the leading roles, comes to the Regah Theatre, Hagersville on March 13th and 14th.

The picture is an adaptation of the popular novel of the same name by Zane Grey. It deals with the activities of a band of ruthless outlaws which spread death and destruction in the gold towns of the early '70s. The production was filmed in isolated and beautiful locations selected by the author.

It tells of the love affair of a young cowboy and the daughter of a cattle owner. There's a locers' quarrel and the boy stalks off to join the Border Legion. The girl repents and goes after him. She is captured by the leader of the Legion and carried off to his cabin and made a prisoner.

How the cowboy beats the bandits at their own game and saves the girl, makes one of the most entertaining pictures shown in the Regah Theatre in some time.

Rockliffe Fellowes has the role of Kells, leader of the Legion. Gibson Gowland is his lieutenant, and Chas. Ogle is the ranchman-victim of the bands' maraudings.

Other big names in the strong supporting cast include James Corey, E. Gribbon and Luke Cosgrave. George Hull adapted the story to the screen and William Howard directed the production as his first for Paramount.

REVEALS NEW SIDE OF SOCIETY LIFE

In the First National production, "For Sale," which comes to the Regah Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 17th and 18th, Adolphe Menjou interprets the part of a climber, a parvenu, who seeks entrance into the Four Hundred via the matrimonial route, the object of attention being Eleanor Bates, who he later learns to love.

"For Sale" was written for the screen by Earl Hudson, and reveals a side of society heretofore unpictured. It shows society folk when prosperity is in their favor and exhibits them in all their nakedness when poverty has stuck their tender skins. It takes the spectator from the scenes of gayety in New York to scenes in the Latin Quarter of Paris.

The cast is of unusual merit and includes such popular names as Clair Windsor, who plays the part of Eleanor; Adolphe Menjou, Robert Ellis, Mary Carr, Tully Marshall and many others of equal note. George Archianbaud directed the picture.

Don't forget the Auction Sale of Horses, Farm Implements and complete dispersal of the Spruceholme herd of Holstein-Friesen cattle owned by H. J. Miell, March 17th, on Lot 7, Concession 10, Township of Walpole, ½ mile west of Garnet station.

IN MEMORIAM

HYDE—In sad and loving memory of our dear son and brother, John, whom the Lord called to rest, two years ago, Feb. 20th, 1923.

Gone in the best of his days,
Blighted in manhood's bloom,
Torn from the hearts that loved him,
To sleep in the silent tomb.

No one knows the silent heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell
Of the grief that is borne in silence
For the one we loved so well.

Hats with subjects written on slips were passed around and each member took one and was asked to speak or recite according to what they drew. As a result the gathering was treated to some real good oratory. A spelling contest and a public speaking stunt, when four prominent members tried to outspeak each other, also contributed to the merriment.

A formal program occupied the opening portion of the meeting and included a pianoforte duet by Mrs. Harvey Keene and Miss Dora Laidlaw; a duet, "The Good Old Times," by Misses Pearl Falls and Verna Sockett; story by Mr. Frank Laidlaw, "My Opinion of Men" by Aunty Snowball Washington, and a paper on Sir Isaac Brock by Miss Cecile Ince.

CAUSE AND CURE OF PYORRHEA

By Dr. W. H. McCoy, Sacramento, California:—In the light of over 20 years of clinical experience, the remedy that has never failed to cure pyorrhea is exercise. You may laugh, but alas, your laugh comes too late. Just as a disused muscle will deteriorate from lack of exercise, so sloppy foods, soft foods, will bring on this condition called incurable by some even today. The remedy is obvious. A change from sloppy foods to hard foods is indicated, and wheat, raw wheat, chewed until it becomes a liquid, will bring a healthy condition of the teeth and gums in a week or two. The remedy is simple and economical. I will stake raw wheat against all the ding dongs of curetting, etc., etc., and win case after case, in quick relief, and positive results. I have passed it on freely for the past 50 years, and as stated above the results have always been gratifying to those who combine it with clean living, hygienic and social, as advocated by P. C.—Exchange.

IT'S NEWS, HAND IT IN

The merchant who doesn't believe in publicity, soon gets to be a back number. The same rule applies to public organizations which rely upon the interest the public takes in them for their success. A good many local organizations overlook the opportunity that might be freely theirs to get a lot of good publicity through the local newspaper. For instance, secretaries of fraternal organizations might well hand in lists of newly elected officers for publication without having to have this information pried out of him by a painful process. There are a lot of happenings connected with various organizations that are of the nature of interesting news and that would be gladly accepted for publication. But in many cases the officers of the organizations who know about these things let the opportunity get by them.
