SAFETY AS A FACTOR IN HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

same type. Obviously, those selected after careful consideration by the Department of Highways, and used on King's Highways, are the ones best adapted to our secondary and township roads as well. Also, such signs and symbols are desirable because the public has learned to recognize them and any sign to be effective, must be such that its significance is evident at a glance from a travelling car, since no one is likely to stop to read in detail any roadside warning.

J. P. Bickell, in his paper "Safety on the Highways" given before the Ontario Good Roads Convention in 1933, pointed out that of the accidents on rural roads the most frequent cause was "Driving off the Roadway." This points to the desirability of having road grades as wide as possible and reducing the depth and abruptness of the ditches as far as is consistent with proper drainage. Under the best conditions a narrow road is dangerous, especially in passing or overtaking slow moving traffic, but when covered with ice or snow it is especially so. A few feet of extra width is often sufficient to permit a motorist to recover control of his car and thus avoid plunging into the ditch. Since the original cost of grading the average secondary road is not seriously increased by increasing the width of roadway, this should be considered on all new construction.

Where large ditches cannot be avoided, and have steep sides or a depth greater than 4 feet, some other method of protection is required and a guard cable should be constructed along the berm of the ditch.

Suggested Improvements in Roads

Improved mechanical equipment has brought greater speeds to all types of vehicles using the roads. This applies to the secondary roads as well as to the highways and in order that this increased speed may be used with safety, many roads which previously have been satisfactory must now be altered so as to provide better alignment, better vision on curves, more adequate warning of cross roads and highway junctions, as well as other improvements. The elimination of jogs, right-angled turns and sharp curves is often effected quite economically, especially where land values are not high. Such improvements add greatly to the safety of the roads; while the widening of grades, the cutting down of sharp summits, and the flattening of excessively steep grades are of equal value in reducing the probable causes of accidents, although somewhat more expensive. Super elevation and the widening of the road way at curves, one thought to be a refinement for roads other than speedways, are now becoming general practice not only on highways but on secondary roads.

It often happens that road authorities are tempted to nibble at the badly needed correction of a dangerous road condition instead of fixing it properly in the first place. The work and material used in each successive, slight, improvement is scrapped and lost when the next is undertaken, resulting in economic waste. If the full job cannot be afforded in any one year, then at least a plan can be prepared of the complete final improvement, and each year some definite part of the final plan can be carried out, in which case there is no lost effort. In many cases, however, it would be better to leave the condition, thoroughly safeguarded by adequate warning signs, until a proper and complete improvement can be effected so that, as far as possible, all work and material put into the job will remain as a permanent asset.

It is true that many of the accidents on our highways are caused by carelessness, recklessness, or a disregard by some motorist for the rights of others. This, however, does not relieve us, as road builders, of the responsibility of putting into our highways all of those elements which will make them completely safe to the great majority of the motoring public who are careful and considerate drivers.

CREAMERY GASCONADES

(By Nosey Parker)

Having just completed a correspondence course in Interior Decorating, Dinty is demonstrating his skill along that line by artistically daubing white paint all over the pasteurizers.

The formerly timid Babe is now fast developing into a hard-boiled milk hauler.

—:—

The other day, Muriel expressed great concern over the Manager's premature grey-headedness, but anyone with half an eye could see it was only casein dust.

—:—

There is a movement afoot to present Thorne with a medal for bravery or a trophy for sprinting. On Friday last, a team of horses, knowing the 24th to be a holiday, gaily departed for home, neglecting to wait for their driver. They were proceeding happily along the highway when, much to their disgust, Thorne came streaming shreast, his apron flying in the breeze, mounted the wagon with much agility and pulled them to a halt.

The Manager steadfastly refuses all offerings of chewing gum or peanuts.

—:—

Instructor Bingleman of the Dairy staff is at present visiting a nearby creamery in his capacity as an authority on the art of casein making.

—:—

Things We Would Like to Know—

—Why Newt Fletcher and the Manager always back their vehicles into the garage of late ?

—How Dinty and the Pup expect the separator to work with a block of wood jammed into the bowl ?

—When George Keefer is going to mow his lawn ?

—Why all the boys went home an hour late for lunch on Tuesday just because Botwright's watch was an hour slow ?

Norfolk County Registrar Makes Exit Under the Axe

McGuire Dismissal Results in Resignation of Entire Staff

Colonel Dennison, inspector of legal offices at Queen's park notified Dr. McGuire, registrar of the County of Norfolk on Saturday morning that his services in that capacity would be terminated on June 15th. It was immediately announced when Mr. McGuire's dismissal became known that his two assistants, Henry Johnson and his daughter Miss Enid Johnson would definitely tender their resignation. This will leave the Norfolk Registry Office without experience in its entire staff C. H. Flick, well known Simcoe man has been notified of his appointment to the office. It is generally known that Dr. McGuire's capabilities in the capacity which he filled were unequalled. It was only recently that Col. Dennison visited the Norfolk office and announced that it was being operated in a most efficient manner.

This is just another case where politics is playing a detrimental part in the civil service of the country. We naturally looked for some changes in offices held under the Henry government but nothing quite so marked as this.

Flowers for the Juvenile Club

Alibis have been so plentiful since Selkirk, in no uncertain terms gave the local lads to understand that they haven't the only Juvenile baseball club in the County, that the public have been stuffing batton in their ears to get away from the noise.

We had more hits, we had more strike outs, we played better ball as a matter of fact they seemed to feel that they had more of everything except runs, of course not taking into consideration that it is runs that decide a winner in any baseball game.

—:—

It would appear that a general acceptance of the old inferiority complex would possibly be as beneficial as anything in helping the boys hit their stride in future engagements. Of course, it is hard to pin them too much because after all they are really a very intelligent aggregation of ball players.

—:—

Captain O'Donnell with a two bagger, a three bagger and almost a home run still maintained his credit standing. Peters had the first nine put outs to his credit therefore he still maintains his rating. Sandy Mitchell definitely proved to the Selkirk Moundsmen that they absolutely could not throw that old base ball past him therefore, he still stands with bright illumination.

—:—

As a matter of fact it was a difficult game to summarize, all of the boys seemed to have little difficulty in hitting, yet there seemed to be a brick wall at third base that none of them could jump over and get any farther. The Selkirk lads, however, showed a good deal more evidence of track work on the bases and made every effort count.

—:—

Jarvis had eight left on bases while Selkirk had six. Jarvis had fourteen strike outs, while Selkirk had ten. But Jarvis had seven big errors while Selkirk had but four very small errors. The credit goes to Selkirk, they had the better team on the field on Saturday and their efforts were rewarded.

—:—

AND TO THINK SELKIRK WERE NOT GOING TO ENTER A TEAM IN THE JUVENILE LEAGUE THIS YEAR.

SOUTHERN ONTARIO TELEPHONE BUILDING REMODELLED

The Southern Ontario Telephone Company Building on the corner of Peel & Main Sts. has been completely remodelled during the past two weeks.

The inside of the building has been entirely changed and the outside painted giving it an entirely changed appearance. The door into the telephone exchange has been moved from near the centre of the building to the southern corner.

Jarvis Horseshoe Tossers Display Lack of Practice

The local Horseshoe club officially opened their 1935 season on Monday night when eight of the most outstanding players went to Springvale to demonstrate their ability against that team. Springvale however, matched wits with the local masterminds and the contest ended a tie, six all. Chas. Brown and W. J. Elliott were outstanding on the local team while Geo. Riedell and A. V. Roberts gave evidence of having plenty of practice during the winter months. They possibly have a court with potter's clay and all fixed up in their barns. Other members on the Jarvis teams were: I. Holterman, E. T. Carter, Wm. Hodge, John Kindree, Lea Marshall and Peter Banks.

Jarvis Firemen Attend Decoration Day Services

The annual Fire Department decoration day service was held at Dunnville on Sunday. Fire Departments from Jarvis, Dunnville, Thorald, Crowland and Port Colbourne took part in the services. The Dunnville Band and the Port Colbourne Boy's Band were present throughout the day. Humphrey S. Mitchell, M.P., of Hamilton was the chief speaker. In paying tribute to the memory of the veterans of the Great War, Mr. Mitchell spoke of the memorials in France, the memorial to those who fell at St. Julien and the Menin Gate at Ypres particularly. The peculiar make-up of Anglo-Saxon government was the envy of the whole world he said. The firemen fight their battles, very necessary battles, in times of peace and in paying tribute to those who had passed on, Firemen, Soldiers and pioneers, he urged all to so fashion their lives that they too might be an inspiration to future generations.

Service was held in Grace United Church at 11 A.M. and a splendid sermon was preached by Rev. G. W. Moore. In the afternoon the parade left the Central park, with Mayor W. T. Congdon as chairman for Riverside Cemetery where decoration services were held. Prior to this a memorial service was held at St. Michael's cemetery conducted by Rev. Wm. G. Goodrow. Other speakers of the day included Mark C. Senn, M.P. and R. S. Colter, M. L.A.

Western Ont. Ayrshire Breeders Hold Annual Gathering

The Hamilton-Niagara Ayrshire breeders club held it's annual field day and picnic on Monday at Glen Campbell farms, guests of F. C. Biggs & Sons.

An interesting program was prepared for the occasion and prominent officials were present to discuss matters of interest to Dairymen.

Glen Campbell herd was on display and visitors had an opportunity to see one of the best collections of Ayrshire cattle in Canada. In the show rings in the Dominion and in the United States the Biggs herd has had remarkable success and members of the Ayrshire Association saw the herd at it's best. Richard Biggs, who knows each individual, supplied authentic information as to breeding, production, etc. without referring to records.

The "Parlor Bolshevik" is quite busy at the present time.

At Wesley United Church

The service at Wesley United Church last Sunday morning was conducted by Rev. G. Gomme, of Oneida, the Secretary of Haldimand-Norfolk Presbytery and Rev. W. J. Holley preached at Oneida United Church.

The Wesley United Young People's Society visited the Y.P. Society at Springvale on Friday evening last.

Throughout the summer months the evening services in the Jarvis Churches will be held at 7.30 P.M. instead of 7 P.M.

Roberts, Toronto.

Famous Finlayson Yacht Now Doing Service in Pt. Dover

The Yacht used by Wm. Finlayson former cabinet minister of the Henry Government, and which received such great aclaim by the incoming Hepburn Government has been placed in service at Port Dover. The Yacht known as the Wasp, will replace the former government boat known as the Elsie Doris. The Elsie Doris has been in service in Port Dover for a great many years, but this year failed to be put in use. The present Government boat is a great credit to the Port and they have every reason to be proud of it.

Wedding

WICKER—LAVER

Quietly, in the chapel of St. Peters church the wedding took place recently of Margaret Agnes Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Laver, to Mr. Allen McKenzie Wicker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wicker, of Port Dover. There were no attendants and the bride was gowned in a frock of white printed silk, white coat and white linen hat. She wore a corsage bouquet of pink roses. A reception for a few friends was held. Later, Mr. and Mrs Wicker left on a motor trip and will reside in Port Dover. Rev. W. H. Sunter performed the ceremony.

Arthur G. Slaght, K.C. Former Simcoe Resident Choice of Convention

Arthur G. Slaght, K.C., prominent lieutenant of Premier Hepburn in the last provincial election has accepted a nomination to contest the Perry Sound district in the coming Federal Election. Only one other name was put before the meeting, that being Roy Dixon, President of the District Liberal Association who withdrew in favor of Mr. Slaght.

After Mr. Slaght spoke at some length to the meeting, Premier Hepburn gave a brief address, denouncing the Bennett administration and pointing out the only way to bring about returned prosperity was by closer relationship between Ottawa and the Provinces and that could only be brought about by a victory in the Federal election by Hon. W. L. M. King.

Kidnapping Scare In Fisherville

Two Fisherville Children are Safe With Their Mother

The report from Fisherville that two small sons of W. O. Tudhope, Manager for the United Gas Company, collapsed entirely on Friday, when Mr. Tudhope announced that they were safe with their mother.

Apparently Mr. Tudhope became alarmed when the boys disappeared on their way to school on Friday morning. He was informed that a large automobile stopped the children and they were hustled into the car.

Police were immediately notified and action was taken in an attempt to locate the children. In the meantime however, Tudhope was advised the children were safe with their mother. He stated later that he regretted causing a sensation.

Selkirk Fourteen Jarvis Eight

The Jarvis boys did not do quite so well in their second scheduled game of the season. Leaving the home town chucked full of pep, they returned the defeated foe. Selkirk started off the first inning with a run and came back in the second with six more, which left the local lads in sort of a dreamy quandry and they did not seem quite able to shake it completely for the remainder of the game. Peters on the local mound was called upon to strike out the first nine put-outs before he could retire his team in the first three innings and that is hardly what you could call support to a pitcher. Selkirk seemed the steadier team and took advantage of every possibility that offered itself to them. They certainly do not look to be exceptionally outstanding, yet they certainly are the team to be dealt with for the Juvenile championship.
