OLD HALDIMAND BOY WRITES LETTER IN 1906

men who have ability, energy and enterprise enough to build up an industry that has paid the farmers of this Dominion over $13,000,000 in the last twelve months for hogs for export alone.

I have been feeding hogs over 20 years. In that time I have received for hogs over $10,000.. Last fall, in October, I bought and put in my pen 46 pigs, costing $109.00. The last I bought October 28th. I had the grain in my barn at the time to feed them, but owing to the discussion goingon in the different papers at that time, regarding the profit and loss in feeding hogs, I decided to test the matter for myself, which was no new venture. I went to the mill and bought the feed. Here is the result:

46 pigs cost	$109.00
10 tons millfeed at $19.50 ..	195.00
51000 lbs milk at 15c cwt. ..	76.50
To interest on the cost of pigs and feed for five months, at 5 per cent	8.30
To total cost of hogs and feed	$388.80
Hogs sold for:—
3 Dressed, 223 lbs each, 669 lbs. at $8.00 per cwt.	$ 53.52
3 Dressed, 210 lbs each, 630 lbs., at $8.00 per cwt.	50.50
40 Alive, 205 lbs, each, 8,200 lbs at $6.80 per cwt.	557.60
9,499 lbs. at	$661.52
Cost	388.80
Profit	$272.72

Those hogs were sold to the buyer in the ordinary way. They were not weighed before leaving home, for fear the buyer might cheat me out of a pound or two on each load, as I think both the packer and buyer are just as honest as the man that produces the hogs, and, in a few instances, a great deal more so. This applies to a few chronic kickers only.

I think it is up to the intelligent farmers of this country to see that the output of hogs is not diminished, but increased, as it must be plain to the dullest observer that the packing house is a real necessity, inasmuch as it gives a market for our hogs all the year round. To go back to the old way of marketing all our hogs dressed in the winter months, would be a calamity unendurable. I am not yet old yet, but I can remember seeing hogs drawn by horse-power 30 miles to market and sold for $3.75 per 100 lbs., dressed weight. I think the packer would be quite willing to guarantee that price twelve months ahead to the few who want an even price throughout the year, even for live weight.

One thing worth remembering is: When I bought those pigs, the farmers I purchased them from had their profit and the farmer selling the grain to the miller had his profit, the miller selling it to me to feed those hogs had his profit, also the hog-buyer had his profit, and the packer had his margin; then the poor, despised grunter gave the feeder a clear profit of 70 per cent, on the investment. I think it would be a safe venture to presume that the profits of the first five participants to this little transaction combined did not amount to 70 per cent.

I have learned by previous experience that the bacon hog can be produced as cheaply per pound as the short, thick, fat one. I find some farmers will have them short and fat no matter what breed they are. The kind of feed, the mode of feeding, and the surroundings, have more to do with the production of the short, finished hog than the breed has. If this is not the case, then why do so many farmers have one or two short, fat hogs in each lot they market. They are all the same breed, and all the right breed. The bulk of the fat hogs the packers get are produced in this way.

This lot of 46 hogs was the bacon kind when bought, and was finished as bacon hogs. The cost per pound, including the cost of pigs when bought, was under 4.10 which concurs with all my past feeding tests. When the price of feed is considered in the different tests, I am aware that the cost of production to me is somewhat under reported tests sent out by some of our Agricultural Colleges. I know they are doing a grand work, and doing it with an honest purpose, that we, as farmers, point with pride to our own Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph and the good work they are doing for the farmers at a very reasonable expense, and yet I must add, that if they will send a part of their staff over here, I will introduce them to a number of farmers who can teach them how to grow hogs cheaper than they are doing now.

NEEDS MORE SLEEP

The old farmer shook his head, but the city man, out of work, was desperate.

City Man—If you can't give me a steady job, at least put me up for the night. I'll earn it working tomorrow.

The farmer consented. At 9 o'clock next morning the new farm-laborer was called to breakfast. A few minutes later the farmer missed him. Going outside, he was astonished to see him disappearing in the darkness.

Farmer (yelling) — Hey, say! Come back and eat your breakfast before you go to work.

City Man—I'm not going to work. I'm going to find a place where I can stay all night.

CUPIDS CAPTURE

REID — MERCER

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Presbyterian Manse, here, on Saturday, March 25th., when Eva Lillian, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mercer, of Simcoe, was united in marriage to James Reid, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Reid, of Townsend Township, by the Rev. G. Lloyd Evans, Pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church. Miss Doris Timmins, of Simcoe attended the bride while Phillip Colwill, of Townsend, supported the groom.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a lovely powder blue frock of silk crepe with hat to match and seal-skin jacket. The bridesmaid was attired in a green crepe dress with accessories to match.

After the ceremony, at the home of the brides mother, a sumptuous dinner was served to the bridal party and a number of their very intimate friends, after which they were entertained by Miss Doris Timmins, soloist, and Miss Isabel Cameron, pianist.

After a short honeymoon in the Eastern Provinces they will be at home to their many friends at the beautiful farm home of the groom in Townsend.

The "Record" joins with many friends in wishing for this happy young couple, many years of contented married life.

WHAT TONY THINKS ABOUT MOVING PICTURES

Tom Mix Translates Some of the Horse Sense of His Partner in "The Rider of Death Valley."

"My horst-pardner, Tony, has the right idea about our present-day motion pictures," observes philosophical Tom Mix, the very greatest of the cowboy stars.

"Tony's 22 now — and a grand old horse. He's given the folks who go to the picture theatres some real thrills in his blessed old lifetime — saving heroines in last minute rescues — taking fences in hair-raising leaps — and just about standing a million picture fans on their seats with his general, all-round breathtaking antics."

"Now he comes back to the talking pictures after few seasons of the circus, where he knew he hao to go out in the big ring twice a day and give the folks a show full of action or they'd go to sleep on him."

"Old Tony trotted into his stables at Universal's Western Town, and take it from me, he looked around disdainfully. The rest of the so-called picture horses were lying around getting fat — the cowpunchers bunkhouses were well night empty — and you couldn't hear the least bit of a sound if you tried."

"That horse of mine went into a blue funk that he didn't come out of until the day we went out to make our first picture, and that picture had all of the pistol shootin', fightin' and ridin' in it that makes action for the fellows who go to the shows."

"Now, there's a lesson in that. These movies of our have been lying around, like those horses, talking their heads off — and, maybe, getting fat. The folks in them have been talking action with some high-falutin' accents, but, like a couple of general checker players over a cracker barrel, they haven't been doing much about getting out and going through the motions."

"When these pictures of ours do just that and follow the old Texas saying — 'shoot first and talk later' — Tony's going to feel a lot better about being back — and so are a couple of million film fans about paying their money to go into the theatres."

And judging by the rip-roaring, fierce riding thriller that appears at the Regah Theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 31st and April 1st, currently, Universal's "Rider of Death Valley," Mix and the self-same Tony are out to set the example.

SPORT REVIEWS

Although it is almost time to pack up the hockey equipment for another year, some of the boys are still making the rink a nightly habit, thanks to the efforts of a few members of the town league.

However most everyone right now interested in hockey are turning their attention to the activities of the Toronto Maple Leafs, the only Canadian team in the N.H.L. who are still in the running for the Stanley Cup.

The way they turned the tables in the Brusing Boston Bruins on Tuesday night after fifteen minutes of overtime to win the second game of the play-offs, makes interest pitch high, and the remaining games which are to be played in Toronto will pack the arena gardens and have everyone else sitting in their loud speakers.

It's a wonder that anyone with a nervous disposition have any finger nails left after listening to that game Tuesday night. What a pal we have in Foster Hewitt, if a game was terrible, he could make it good.

Newmarket had less trouble in taking the game from Ottawa on Tuesday night then was anticipated and now they have only one more team to contend with for the Eastern Canada championship, and they are the Montreal Royals.

The Niagara Falls and Moncton fixture will end the Eastern play-offs in the senior section, and the winner will meet either Regina or Brandon.

Woodstock and Oakville are making it interesting in the intermediate play offs, after Woodstock redeemed themselves by winning the second game Monday night

Although hockey has just reached it's pitch throughout Canada, the Jarvis town league hockey clubs have long since declared their champions, the Bush Whackers, what a team, what a team.

With hockey concluded the attention of the sportsmen are turning towards baseball, and from the attendance at the meeting the other night the boys got away to a fine start.

The only dissappointing feature so far anticipated is that those appointed to attend the County League meeting in Hagersville last Monday night apparently thought it was a joke, and didn't go. If that was their intention in the first place they should have made it definitely known so as the Executive could have made other arrangements.

To insure the fact that representatives from the local club would be present at his meeting, four were appointed in case one or two wouldn't be able to go, but alas the committee worked in unison.

Wouldn't it be discouraging if Jarvis was left out of the league this year, just on that account. Oh well, we will hope that nothing so drastic as that results.

Considerable discussion of late reveals the fact that several non existing clubs in Jarvis have bank accounts, not of an enormous nature, however of sufficient size, were each summed together would make quite an interesting figure.

Such clubs as the Jarvis Girls hockey club, the Jarvis Tennis Club, The Jarvis Hockey Club, which was in connection with the Norfolk County League two years ago, and others which we might mention. We would like to hear from the Treasurers of these clubs, as to how favorable they might be towards an athletic association in Jarvis and let the people who helped start the clubs benefit.

MADE EXTENSIVE CHANGES

During the past week extensive changes have taken place at the "Montreal House" the general store which has been conducted for the past sixty years by our old and esteemed townsman, Mr. J. A. Burwash The grocery department which has been for years established at the rear of the interior has been moved up to the front of the building, and it is the intention of Mr J. S. Burwash and son Harold, who are now in charge, to make the grocery end of it one of the main features. Harold A. Burwash, who has been connected with a large departmental store in Williamsburg, Pa., for a number of years has returned to Jarvis as assistant manager of this old established trading emporium, and it is their aim to supply the needs of their many customers, with the same "A No. 1" class of goods as this store has featured since its inception, and known throughout this entire district at the "House of Quality."

BASEBALL CLUB ORGANIZE FOR YEAR

The initial meeting of the Jarvis Baseball club was held in Wm. Hodges billiard parlor on Friday evening last with a very good attendance Lea Marshall was chairman of the meeting, and after the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, general business proceeded and the officers for the club for the year 1933 were elected as follows. Hon. President, Rev. G. L. Evans, President, Lea Marshall, Vice President, W. J. Elliott, Secretary-Treasurer, Laird Miller, Playing Manager and Coach, J. C. Walker, Business Manager, E. T. Carter. A ground committee was appointed which included Robt. Smith, J. C. Walker, D. C. Allen, Albert Hyde and Chas. Hazlett. A committee of four were appointed to attend the County Baseball meeting which was held at Hagersville on Monday night, namely J. C. Walker, M. P. Church, J. S. Burwash, and Chas. Hazlett. Considerable interest seemed in evidence at the meeting and the outlook this year is if anything, a little more favorable than formerly as several of the members of the old Jarvis Club are back with us, and should add support to the team. J. C. Walker and M. P. Church were appointed to negotiate with the executive of the 24th of May celebration with regards to the activities of the baseball club that day. The prospects of a Juvenile Club was discussed and in view of the desire of the boys to get into organized baseball, Fred Creswell was appointed manager and coach should anything develop in Juvenile Baseball this year.

WEDDING

At the Manse, Jarvis, on Saturday, March 25th, Eva Lillian, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mercer, Simcoe, to James Reid, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James S. Reid, of the Township of Townsend.

OBITUARY

CHARLES LOFTHOUSE

On Monday morning of this week word was received in the Village of the passing of Charles Lofthouse, a well known young farmer of the Township of Walpole. His death terminated an illness of less than a weeks duration from Pneumonia.

The deceased was the youngest son of Mr. Christopher Lofthouse and the late Mrs. Lofthouse and was married in 1910 starting farming at that time on the Fourth Concession of Walpole where he has since resided.

He leaves to mourn, his widow and one daughter, six brothers, William P.; Ernest A.; Arthur; Frank E.; Omer; and Andrew, also one sister, Mrs. Maynard Wilkins, and his aged father all of the Township of Walpole.

The funeral was held yesterday from his late residence with service in the United Church at Cheapside. The service at the church and graveside being conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. A. Jewett. The pall bearers were: Hartley Pond, Freeman Sternaman, Wesley Johnson, William Greenbury, F. C. Booth and Lorne R. Dougherty.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Thursday night of last week, March 23rd, Mr. and Mrs. William Webb of Nanticoke were very agreeably surprised, when about 25 of their intimate friends and neighbors swarmed in on them about 8 o'clock to tender congratulations to William on the occasion of his birthday anniversary, and although William has not reached the meridian of his existence, he nevertheless was greatly perturbed over the suddenness of the onslaght.

Progressive Euchre was indulged in for the greater part of the evening and the guests had brought along beautiful prizes for the winners which were distributed as follows: Ladies first prize being won by Mrs. J. F. Jackson, and the "Booby" being carried off by Mrs. John Kitchen, while the gents prize was easily captured by that old veteran card shark Mr. Moses Walker, and the consolation by, Mr. Frank Ball. The hostess provided an elaborate lunch after the midnight chimes had rung, and when all had heartily voted the host and hostess as the best of entertainers they departed for home after an evening of the most pleasant enjoyment.

UNITED CHURCH Y.P.S. MEET

Here we are again! Through the unrelnting vocal pressure of our President, Mr. Ralph Gowan, the overrulling sense of indifference on the part of the editor has been overcome and we are again back on the air.

The meetings during our absence have all been splendid, Our last week's meeting being a fair sample, we shall report on it.

Mr. Harold Johnson leader for the night opened the meeting with a hymn. Miss Winnifred Steele read the scripture lesson and Ken Parkinson gave us a splendid talk on same. The topic was taken by Mrs. S. Church in her usual capable manner. Mrs. F. Moore gave us a very interesting talk on three of our hymn writers, and an example of each of their works was played by Miss Meta McMurchy, pianist, Miss P. Stallwood, Violin, and Miss M. Davidson, guitar and Miss I. Deeth gave a very enjoyable piano solo. The discussion period under the leadership of Chas Davidson dealt with the teaching of music in our public schools, and the unanimous opinion was that it should be taught. What can we do about having this in Jarvis?

To assist in interesting the people of Canada in the importance of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina, in July and August this year the M. E. McKenzie Seed Company Limited, one of the largest seed houses in Canada has devoted a large portion of its 1933 catalogue to announcements respecting the show.

KNOX YOUNG PEOPLE MEET

The Knox Y.P.S. met in the S.S. Room of the church on Thursday evening, March 23rd, with President Thos. Wright in the chair. A hymn was sung followed by a prayer by the President. The minutes were then read and adopted followed by a business discussion. The Scripture lesson was read by William Howell. The Topic "How We Can Work For Christian Unnty," was taken by Marjorie Leatherdale and was enjoyed by all. The meeting closed with a hymn and the Benediction by Rev. Evans.

The meeting next week will be postponed on account of the Oritorial contest at Hagersville. This contest will be held in St. Andrew's church, Hagersville on Thursday evening, March 30. Those takipg part will be Caledonia, Hagersville, Stone Church and Jarvis. All members of the Knox Y.P.S. are asked to meet at the church at seven fifteen, on Thursday evening and all cars are to go from there.
