GEO. L. MILLER
Editor and Proprietor

The initial payment of the Alberta Wheat Pool on the 1934 crop was boosted 15c a bushel this week to 50c bettor prices and a generally improved demand resulted in the decision to increase the payment from 35c a bushel which was paid on the 1933 crop to the half dollar mark.

In view of illness that kept him confined to his home, Premier Hepburn was unable to attend the Six Nations Fair last week. Mrs. Hepburn attended in Proxy for the Premier and along with the Hon. Harry Nixon were made Indian Chiefs by representatives of the tribe. The event was unusual and attracted a large crowd to Ohsweken.

* * * * *

By a unanimous vote of the Windsor City Council the Hepburn Government was urged on Monday to impose a Provincial Income tax to be used to defray the entire cost of welfare throughout the province. In the event that such action is taken industry in general will possibly submit such a petition to the government to impose such an income tax on those on relief.

Samuel Insull, who once directed the largest utility system ever dominated went on trial on Tuesday. Mr. Insull it is claimed possessed a personal fortune of over 100,000,000 dollars. Insulls son and fifteen others of the book financial figures, will answer charges with him. It is estimated the prosecution will require at least five weeks time before the case will be completely unfolded.

Forecasts of taxation reductions and lower interest rates to borrowers were contained in addresses on Monday evening to the people of Canada by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett who spoke from London, England and from the Minister of Finance E. N. Rhodes who spoke from Ottawa. Both speeches were in connection with the 250,000,000 refunding loan which went on the market on Tuesday.

* * * * *

The clash between Attorney General Rebbuck and Col. George Drew, Commissioner of the Frauds Securities Act resulted in the latters dismissal from the government service on Tuesday. Col. Drew has made public his charges against the Attorney General in no uncertain terms and the eventual outcome of the affair, to put it mildly might result in a general shakeup of the present government. Regardless of the claims of the public servants and their usefulness toward public welfare, it is quite apparent that they are not to stay in public service if they were appointed under the conservative regime.

7. BREAKING THE TARGETS

NATURALLY, no amount of reading about Skeet will help you as much as even a few practice shots, and you will find the information contained in these articles of greater value once you have made a start at the game. It is for this reason that we suggest you keep the complete series for future reference, so that you will be able to practice the advice given to you herewith. The following suggestions come from a well-known Skeet shot, Frank G. Traeger, Jr., of Rossland, 1933 New Jersey State Skeet Champion, and will undoubtedly be helpful to the beginner. Mr. Traeger won the State Championship with the perfect score of 100 straight, and was also High Gun in the Tri-State Shoot, including Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, breaking 99 x 100.

He writes:

"Shooting Skeet requires not only the haphazard pointing of a gun in a predetermined path and spasmodic firing of the gun, but also requires extreme alertness and the coordination of the mind, eye and trigger finger. Skeet differs from straight trapshooting in that the gun used is the same one employed in field shooting, and the shooting position is the same a hunter would use when expecting to flush birds. This means that you are increasing your skill with the very gun you would use in actual field shooting. I have heard some hunters say that they shot Skeet nearly as much as actual shooting, and to a certain extent it is advantageous—it can be done in all kinds of weather and at all times of the year.

"The type of gun is a matter of individual taste and preference. The same applies to length of barrel and how it is bored. Once a person tries Skeet, he often gets bitten by the 'Skeet bug', and from then on will acquire more knowledge of shooting, pointing and leading than otherwise in half a lifetime.

"The shooting position is the same as the field position when ready to flush a bird; that is, the gun is held down and somewhat forward in the position of 'Ready', and the bird is called for. The gun is thrown to the shoulder after the target appears in the air, and not before. A free, easy style of constant swing is required and following through even after pulling the trigger, is important. A constant lead on the target is necessary. Targets should be broken as near as possible to the edge of the Skeet field and not over. Stated in a sum up, the beginner should cultivate alertness, concentration, good form or position, swing, lead and follow through, and practice to improve skill."

This is No. 7 of a series of 12 articles on Skeet Shooting. Cut it out. When they have been clipped, you will have a complete write-up of this sport which is rapidly becoming the vogue across Canada.

THE PROPER CARE OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE
Sport Model Tops

WHILE they are made of a different material and are not coated with a varnish, as are the tops of closed cars, a certain amount of inspection and care is necessary to the upkeep of the sport model top. This style of top is made from a gray, tan or khaki coloured fabric called teal or Burbank cloth. It usually consists of two layers of closely woven cloth which are fastened together with rubber cement. When this material is new it will resist weather.

After the car has been in service for a year or two, however, the top material sometimes loses its waterproof qualities and leaks develop.

When this occurs it is useless to try to waterproof the material with a coating of varnish, lacquer or any other kind of surface finish. They are not suited to material of this type, and are liable to cause it to stiffen, pucker, or become discoloured. The proper compound to use on sports model tops to renew their waterproof qualities is one which will sink into the cloth and waterproof the fibres without changing the color or appearance of the material in any way.
