ALWAYS READY TO ASSIST

During the past three or four weeks it has been brought to my attention, just how valuable an organization can be to a community. When it became my problem to arrange for a banquet for nearly seventy-five individuals on a surprisingly small amount of capital, caterers were as hard to find as a needle in a haystack. Meeting the Secretary of the local W.I. one day, I ventured to ask if that worthy organization might consider the task. The answer was "we would be only too glad to help in any way we can." That answer was a tribute to the organization and needless to say a relief to myself. The ladies of the Institute rallied to the call of their President and put on a banquet "fit for Kings." They catered to our every request in a very obliging fashion and one could almost take from their action that they were fulfilling an obligation to mankind.

Their value was also exemplified a couple of weeks ago at a meeting to organize committees for the coming Short Course. The attendance that night was marked with willing workers from various Institute organizations. Their progressive attitude toward the project, not only did much to make the meeting a success but has been responsible in no small way in assuring the committee of a large enrollment for the course.

Undoubtedly the Institute are lending such valuable assistance continually throughout the year to some worthy cause or cause. Unfortunately their efforts will never be appreciated by the ordinary individual. The monument to their efforts is continually being moulded in the character of our race, and we hope that such an inspiration will help them to carry on with their good work for years to come.

What this country needs is more permanent wives and less permanent waves.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN ?

Nomination is little more than a week away. Next Friday night, November 27th, the ratepayers will have another opportunity of expressing their dissatisfaction or satisfaction publically, or of renominating the old or giving the new a chance. The only hope we wish to express is that the Town Hall is packed on the occasion of nomination, whether it is packed with dissatisfied citizens or not. By being present at nomination you are giving evidence of your interest in the welfare of the municipality in which you reside. If you are a supporter of Democracy you will consider your presence a duty.

Three members of the school board come up for re-election, namely W. Willis, F. W. Reicheld and S. R. Leatherdale. These gentlemen have concluded two consecutive years on the Board and are not eligible for re-election. The remaining three, namely, Carl Smith, Wm. Hodgson and Gunner Dosser, have just completed one year of their two year term, and do not come up for re-election until next year.

All positions on the Council as well as the Reeveship are open for

SHOWER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hair, on No. 3 Highway, west, was the centre of much enjoyment on Tuesday evening when about fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holterman gathered to tender a miscellaneous shower to the newly-weds.

The evening was spent playing Bingo, cards and other games. A great deal of amusement was taken from the manner in which the bride and groom were called to receive their gifts. At regular intervals throughout the evening an alarm clock sounded. This indicated that the bride and groom were to locate the gifts and open them. Many beautiful gifts were received, and the guests of honor expressed their sincere thanks for the kindness shown them.

A delightful lunch was served later in the evening by the ladies present. Mr. and Mrs. Holterman leave for their home at Pickle Crow on Friday.

nominations. Street corner gossip has done little to enlighten us on the attitude of the ratepayers toward either body. It is to be hoped, however, that some feeling exists one way or the other.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE

Thirty-six days from to-day we will all be celebrating Christmas festivities. For several years past a Christmas tree has been sponsored by some organization, with the aid of others. The Christmas tree tree has never gone over in a great big way, because of the fact little effort has been put behind it. We do not wish to belittle the effort made by some individuals, but to make a public Christmas tree the success that it should be, requires the combined effort of a great many individuals.

Our neighboring towns have already made extensive plans for this festive occasion, and unless we present something that will compare favorably, we can hardly expect a large volume of Christmas trade. Now is the time for arrangements to be made, not next month or the week before Christmas Day, but now! Who is going to make the matter an issue and call a meeting without further delay ?

SIDELINER

Now that the National Hockey League is in full swing, we feel that it is due time for a few comments on the various teams.

The Leafs this year have a team strengthened by various upcoming stars and veterans stinging from their Stanley Cup defeat at the hands of Detroit last year. Their showing to date has not been exceptional, but we feel that they have not hit their stride and they are our choice for the Stanley Cup winner this year. In Sylvanus Apps, they have what we consider the best rookie of the season and a promising centre for Jackson and Conacher. From reports we gather that Jimmy Fowler has strengthened the Toronto rearguard not a little. Dick Irwin appears to have a magnificent blend of power, fighting spirit, experience and youth at his service and before many weeks the Leafs should be up there.

No longer the doormat of the N.H.L., the Amerks present a force this year to be reckoned with. "Red" Dutton has apparently fired them with his magnificent "never say die" spirit. The present league leaders should wind up the season just behind Toronto. Again in this team there is the added advantage of experienced ability and speeding youth.

Our favorites up until Howie Morenz was traded, they are once again "tops" as far as we are concerned. Probably for this reason and perhaps because of the return of Morenz and Cecil Hart we pick them to wind up the season a step ahead of their inter-city rivals, the Maroons. The Habitants do not present anything in particular except a skeleton of their former selves of the late twenties. Wilf Cude in the Canadian goal is undoubtedly one of the late twenties. The once great line of Joliat, Morenz and Gagnon is undoubtedly return to a shade of its former brilliance at times and we think will lead the Flying Frenchmen to a play-off birth.

Montreal Maroons :—

In our opinion Gorman and Co. are going to wind up the 1936-37 season in the cellar. Reasons ? No reasons in particular only that "Tay Pay" and his troupe are quickly losing crowd appeal in the French-Canadian city and their rearguard seems to be going with the crowd appeal. The Maroons, of late, have seemed to be content to go along with much the same team and it is our opinion that they are due to crack this year. The above summary is the order in which we pick them in the Canadian section. It may seem all wet to you but if you have your own selection, send it in and next spring you can either give me a horselaugh or vice versa.

Several days ago the Globe carried a story of the possibility of the Kinsman Club of Canada promoting athletes in such a manner as to greatly improve Canadian chances in the 1940 Olympics. If this movement were to be made possible it would prove a great advancement to both the Kinsman Club and Canadian athletes. The Kinsman Club reaches all points in the Dominion of Canada and through the proposed method probable champions of civilized Canada and through the proposed method probable champions would be developed that otherwise would never be heard of. The C.A.A.A. would do well to seriously consider such a proposition.

ODDS AND ENDS

What do big league ballplayers do with themselves in the off season ? George Selkirk and Bump Hadley of the World Champion New York Yankees spend the autumn with rod and gun. Selkirk bagged a moose in New Brunswick a few days ago. Hadley's contribution was a black bear. The rest of the party, mainly minor leaguers, all shot deer.

Hawse Curry former Cayuga hockey star is playing in Sudbury this year with his brother Ross. The possibility of a local R.O.H.A. league may come true. Various Moguls from Port Dover, Hagersville, Cayuga, Caledonia, Waterford and Delhi have been invited to convene at the Rotary Club, Cayuga, on Friday night. If Port Dover can raise the money to pay the coal bill we should be able to boast of Pete Kelly intends to play hockey the local Junior A team next year. If Port Dover can't we should be able to boast of something that not even the Amazing Amerks could compete with. A hockey coach playing with a rival club. The Simcoe hockey club are fortunate, in that they have the benefit of Norman White's counsel. Norman's advice to the players goes something like this. "A player should not argue individually, but if there is an argument the entire team should enter it, for an entire team cannot be penalized." No, but that is the way riots start, Normy.

PEEPS INTO RADIO-LAND

(By Basil J. Donnelly)

Dr. Walter Damrosch, director of the Music Appreciation Hour, leads his orchestra from a conductor's stand with a hip-high railing. It is to prevent the distinguished maestro from losing his balance and slipping off the podium in the intensity of musical direction, a mishap which befell him several years ago. o—o Conductor Harry Sosnick, tall, slender and dark of hair and eyes, is 30 years old and unmarried. o—o Bess Johnson is a dead ringer for Ann Harding, the movie star, both in voice and appearance. o—o Martha Tilley, who has reduced to sylphlike proportions, takes daily horseback rides for exercise. o—o "Ninety per cent. of the inmates of a prison never give thought to escape. It is the other ten per cent which cause all the trouble." — Warden Lewis E. Lawes, whose 20,000 Years in Sing Sing dramatizations are heard on NBC. o—o The son of an Arkansas evangelist, Ross Graham, baritone soloist of Lanny Ross' Show Boat troupe, has been singing ever since he was "big enough to hold a hymn book," to quote himself. Young Ross used to accompany his father on his tours of the state and was so small he had to sing perched on top of their portable organ.

The girl who said "I do" on the radio last Christmas and thereby achieved national prominence overnight, finds the spotlight of public attention focused on her once more as she again plays the part of Ruby, wife of Amos in the Amos 'n' Andy Program.

This time interest in Elinor Harriot, comely 25-year-old brunette, is heightened by the fact that Ruby is now mother of a baby girl "born" Otober 20th.

The day of the great event Elinor received a basket of flowers from the blackface comedians. The basket was in the shape of a cradle.

Elinor, a native of Duluth, Minnesota, first acted with stock companies in the middle west and then played hits on Broadway. Three years ago she turned to radio and boadcast over NBC both in New York and Chicago, where her work attracted the attention of Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll.

At the time they offered Elinor the hance to play the part of Ruby in the wedding ceremony, only one o-her person had ever appeared on the program with Amos 'n' Andy. Since then they have introduced a half dozen celebrities tc their listeners.

Three Arkansas towns are enjoying remarkable business booms as a result of the attention attracted to them by the radio stardom of their favorite sons. Van Buren, birthplace of Bob Burns; Mena, home town of Lum and Abner, and Waters renamed Pine Ridge because of those famous characters, are daily visited by hundreds of auto tourists whose curiosity has been fired by the NBC entertainers.

A Brooklyn, N.Y., fan recently upset Columbia's young-lady-in-the-ticket-office-of-broadcast-tickets by requesting passes to the "Bulovia Watch Program," a production of five words giving the exact time. Jimmy Jemail, as the man-in-the-audience of the "Come on, Let's Sing" program, recently polled women present with the question: "When were you kissed and did you enjoy it?" Whereupon an eager young lady popped out of her seat, gave Jemail a resounding kiss and topped it with "How'd you like it?"

The "Strad," which is the pride of Rubinoff's life, is from the celebrated Wuritzer collection, largest and most valuable in the world with the possible exception of Hill & Son, of England. Though its peculiar matchings and the jeweled Rubinoff crest on its tailpiece, make its theft and resale without detection highly improbable, Rubinoff is insured against its loss for $100,000.

Writers See Hard Hours Television Test

New York — A private television broadcast here recently indicated that radio pictures which will revolutionize broadcasting is almost perfected and that the public must only await technical stabilization before it will be available for reception in the home.

Attending the private test showing in the NBC studios were newspaper and magazine writers. They saw a 40 minute program comprising news reels, musical entertainment, and public addresses, which was transmitted from the empire State building. Officials said satisfactory reception was possible up to forty-five miles.

Bird Refuge Island Now Clipper Fort

Honolulu — Inhabited by Mrs. George Perry, her husband, and twenty-one men who operate the cable station, Midway Island, 1,138 miles from here has been transformed into an important post for Clipper planes which now cross the Pacific on regular schedule.

Pan American Airways rediscovered the small island which in 1904 was declared a bird refuge and has been a cable station for many years as a Pacific stop over for their planes.

A modern hotel has been constructed on the island and the regular arrivals of the clippers bringing mail, newspapers, magazines and movies has changed the drab life of the Perrys and the other workmen.

Iowa Lad Wins Husking Title in

Columbus, O. — Carl Carlson, of Audubon, Iowa, was the National corn husking title here before 100,000 spectators, husking his way up and down rows of corn to defeat 17 crack competitors.

Carlson's time was 21.04 bushels in 60 minutes, which failed to set a new record, but which deserved considerable credit as the contest was conducted in an exceptionally muddy field.

Farmers for many miles around, attracted by many weeks of publicity, were the "battle of the band boards" but once at the scene realized that what they was going to be a difficult task with the field a sea of mud and dotted with pools of water.

U.S. Supports Plan to Revise Calendar

Washington — Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, has recommended that the United States support any action by the league of nations in calling an international conference to discuss reforming the calendar. Miss Perkins suggested revives a subject that was considered prior to the depression by many governments.

A plan most favored during previous discussions would be to divide the year into 13 months of 28 days each. Each month would begin on Sunday and end on Saturday.

All holidays would be set on Mondays and as the extra month would be introduced between June and July, the name suggested is "Sol." To make up the needed extra day for 365 days, a year-day would be added at the end of December, while an extra day would be added to June during leap years.

PROSPECTIVE O.R.H.A. ENTRIES TO MEET HERE

A meeting of the prospective entries in what may be a combined Haldimand and Norfolk group in the Senior Section of the O.R.H.A. is to be held in the Jarvis Record Office on Thursday evening at 8 P.M. Port Dover, Cayuga, Hagersville, Caledonia, Waterford, Delhi as well as Jarvis officials have been notified and invited to attend. It is fairly certain that Delhi, Cayuga, Waterford and Jarvis will be playing rural this year and it is rumored that Hagersville and Caledonia also will deseert the ranks of the O.H.A. At the present time Port Dover have not decided on anything definite. The invaluable efforts of Manager Charlie Mitchell have made this meeting possible and it is to be hoped that there is a full representation. If there is a presentable number of the aforementioned teams make a definite entry on Thursday night, a league will be officially organized.

Although the step Jarvis is taking into the ranks of the senior O.R.H.A. may seem steep to some fans, the fact remains that Jarvis is likely to produce a team of higher calibre than that of last year. Providing Hagersville goes rural, Harry Thom, as will be available to the locals. The acquisition of this speedster should bolster the blue and white a great deal. Edgar Hazell who has been considering the Junior ranks stated that he had decided to stay with the home town team. Hazell "Chuck" Hazell is capable of the experience and ability to the local rearguard if he were available. He however, has made no definite statement as to his plans for the coming season and he may stick with The O.H.A.

Altogether it appears at the present time as if we may be in for a great winter and a local team which will merit the support of the most cynical fan.
