A WEEKLY REVIEW OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

ed that the pacts will be completed some time in September.

Tourist Highways and Mining Roads

In addition to the work being carried on by the various provinces in the improvement and construction of roads within their boundaries, the Dominion Government is also helping to improve tourist highways and is aiding the mining industry by building roads into remote mining areas. Reports show that this work is now in full swing. In supplementary estimates passed last March the following appropriations were made: $1,310,000 for mining roads; $1,750,000 for tourist highways; $400,000 for national parks; $300,000 for the Banff to Jasper highway, now completed except for 35 miles; and $600,000 for the road from Golden to Revelstoke (also with about 35 miles to complete) and for routes from the international boundary to Banff, Yoho and Kootenay Parks. The tourist traffic which last year brought about 275 dollars into the country, according to estimates, is receiving the attention which it clearly deserves. There is still, however, plenty of work to be done. Of the 400,000 miles of roads in the country about one quarter has been surfaced. The four or five years programme involving 50 million dollars in the province of Quebec shows the extent to which the provinces are engaged in road improvement which augurs well for the future.

Penal Reform

While the penitentiary reform bill based upon recommendations of the Archambault Commission failed to pass in the final hours of the last session, the Department of Justice is gradually putting into effect some of the commission's suggestions. The most recent changes in the administration of penal institutions relate to more liberal remission of terms for convicts who are behaving themselves. The object is to give more scope to the reformative treatment of prisoners.

ALINER M. BLANEY WEDS MABLE REID, BRANTFORD

A midsummer wedding took place at the United Church Parsonage, Brantford, when Rev. F. W. Mafarty officiated at the marriage of Miss Mabel Estelle Reid, daughter of Mr. Albert Reid and Mrs. Reid, to Mr. Aliner M. Blaney, of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Blaney, Riceville.

The bride wore a white Tahiti cloth suit with touches of blue. Her corsage was of Talisman roses. Mrs. Stuart McNeilly and Miss Hazel Reid were her attendants and wore multi-colored sheer frocks with white accessories.

After a wedding trip to the east coast, the young couple will reside in Toronto.

NATIONAL SERVICE OF DR. HILTON

When a man comes to the age of retirement, that period in his life when he feels he should step aside to spend his remaining years in greater ease and comfort, it is satisfying if he can look back upon a career of useful and distinguished service.

This Dr. George Hilton of Ottawa may do with complete confidence. He is now retiring on superannuation after thirty-three years with the Health of Animals Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture. From 1905 till 1924 he was Chief Veterinary Inspector and for the past 14 years has been Veterinary Director General. He passes over the reins of office encouraged by the knowledge that Canadian live stock is now universally known as the healthiest in the world.

It is not a coincidence nor just luck that there has never been an outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Canada, a disease that is the most infectious and costly among farm animals except horses, one that has caused some of the countries of Europe many millions of dollars and that has on occasions proved expensive and troublesome in the United States. This enviable record is explained by the exercising vigilance and prevention demanded by successive Veterinary Directors General and by none more so than Dr. Hilton. He has maintained, often against strong opposition, an inflexible determination in the safeguarding of the Canadian live stock industry one of the largest and most important of the Dominion. Neither is it a coincidence nor luck that dourine, a breeding disease among horses, has been absent from Canada for 18 years and that not a case of sheep scab has been reported in ten years.

When Dr. Hilton became V.D.G. the work of eradication of bovine tuberculosis had just been started. Since then more than 3,000,000 cattle in the Dominion have been placed under the supervision of the Department. In the meantime accredited areas have been established and extended. The work in connection with the control of Bangs disease, hog cholera, glanders, mange, rabies and other diseases among animals has been efficiently and effectively developed; so too have the services of meat and canned foods inspection been maintained and their efficiency increased.

Dr. Hilton's contribution to the public welfare has been national in its scope and of outstanding importance. The leadership he has given in the centennial war on animal diseases is typical of the excellent work done in the Government service of which little is known by the general public.

A GOOD TURN SERVICE FOR THE BLIND

Are we proud of our Canadian Champions? Well, we should be. Jarvis "Record" had again captured the "Charters Cup" offered for the best all round weekly newspaper in Class "D". This is the second win for our paper and we naturally feel highly elated. It was also our honour to have won at this convention first place in best front page in the same class weeklies, offered by the "Printer & Publisher" of Toronto.

It has been the aim of this paper under the present management, to try and publish a weekly paper that would be a credit to the community which it serves. To give to the public news that is news without cluttering up our space with unimportant trivialities, to convey to our readers public sentiment on the economic and social welfare of the community which we serve, and all we ask or expect, in return is the support of that community. We welcome from time to time, any due criticism, or suggestions that may be offered leading to the betterment of this journal and any such criticism will be received in friendly spirit and made use of as the occasion demands.

On behalf of the Editor, we heartily appreciate the many congratulations tendered to the "Record" on winning these honors and we can also on his behalf, promise that no effort will be spared in the future to make this paper still bigger and better than ever.

FALL FAIR PRIZE LISTS NOW READY

The Jarvis Fall Fair Prize Lists are now out and ready for distribution and can be obtained upon application to the Secretary, Geo. L. Miller.

Many special awards are being offered this year, and all intending exhibitors should give the prize list careful perusal.

Junior Plowing Match October 7

Preliminary arrangements have been completed for the holding of a Junior Plowing Match under the auspices of the Haldimand County Junior Farmers' Association on Friday, October 7th. This Match is intended for Juniors only and should not in any way conflict with the Senior Match, which will be held later in the month on October 27th. As a matter of fact the Juniors are receiving every assistance from members of the senior executive.

Five classes have been arranged for with three of these open to boys who have never plowed at Matches before. This should give a number of the younger, inexperienced boys an opportunity of competing. The location for the Match will very likely be somewhere in the vicinity of Selkirk, with definite announcement being made later.

Those directly in charge are Gordon Roulston, President of the Junior Farmers' Association, Walker Hedley, Secretary and Murray Cover dale, Treasurer of the same organization.

Full details can be secured from any of these officers or from the Department of Agriculture, Cayuga.

Auto Accident

Mr. F. Cole, of Jarvis was involved in a slight motor accident on Tuesday afternoon of this week, on No. 3 Highway at Simcoe, when he attempted to pass a vegetable truck, driven by Mr. E. Brayton, of Simcoe. Apparently Brayton failed to notice the Cole car and attempted to make a left-hand turn into a lane just at the moment Mr. Cole was passing.

The damage caused by the impact was not very serious, dented fenders being the extent of harm done. Mr. Cole was driving the car owned by Mr. Albert Leng.

WEDDING

WAITE—POLLOCK

A lovely mid-summer wedding was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in Alma Street Presbyterian Church, St. Thomas, when Vera Jean, only daughter of Mrs. J. A. Pollock and the late James A. Pollock, became the bride of Jack Tyler Waite, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Waite. Rev. D. C. Soules read the service and Mrs. Gretia Wilson, of Detroit, presided at the organ, playing the bridal march from Lohengrin for the processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march at the recessional. She also played softly during the ceremony and during the signing of the register accompanied Miss Alice Sutherland, who sang "O Promise Me." The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns, and many summer flowers. Given in marriage by her brother, W. Wilfred Pollock, of St. Catharines, the bride wore a gown of oyster white organza. It was fashioned with a full skirt and long train, appliqued with satin gardenias. The bodice was made with a square neckline and short puff sleeves. The veil and face veil were of white tulle and she carried a shower of Premier roses, larkspur and lilies of the valley. The bride wore a white gold bracelet, the gift of her groom. Miss Kathleen Elsie, of Detroit, attended as bridesmaid, and wore a Victoria gown of yellow organza, the skirt being made with inserts of chantilly lace. Her headdress was a quaint arrangement of blue velvet ribbon and ostrich plumes. The accessories were hyacinth blue and she carried yellow rosebuds and blue larkspur. The brother of the bride, Bruce L. Pollock, was the groomsman, and Douglas Waite, brother of the groom, and Charles Fenn were the ushers.

A reception was held in the Y.W.C.A. parlors, where the parents of the bride and groom also received Mrs. Pollock wore a redingote ensemble of turquoise blue lace with a white picture hat and a corsage of Premier roses and sweet peas. Mrs Waite chose pale blue flowered chiffon with a large white hat and her flowers were Talisman roses. The tables were attractive with gladioli and other summer flowers and refreshments were served by Mrs. Don Parkr, Mrs. Georgina Gorrett, Mrs. M. Clark, Mrs. A. Herbert, Mrs. R. McGeein, and the Misses Bertha Carr, Betty Buchan, Irene Newsome, Laura McKaild, Grace Morrison, Grace Curtis and Ruth McNames. Later Mr. and Mrs. Waite left on a motor trip to Northern Ontario, the bride travelling in a blue suit of navy crepe, with one of the new "doll's hats," in navy, and her accessories were white. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses. On their return they will reside at 64 Forest avenue About seventy guests attended the wedding including Dr. and Mrs. H. Simpkins, Mrs. C. Blackwell, of Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. William Grant, Mr. and Mrs. G. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Davidson, of Detroit; Mrs. C. Ecclestone, Mrs. E. Bartrum, Mr. and Mrs. H. Reaviey and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McManus London, Ont.; Mrs. M. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. William Parkinson, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. R. McCarter, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Howard, Miss Helen Howard and Mrs. William McKeen of Jarvis; William Miller, of Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pollock, St. Catharines.

Mrs. Waite is a grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Parkinson, of this village.

A Fishun They Did Go!

A number of local nimrods, claiming to be deciples of "Isaac Walton" being deeply depressed with the intense humidity and the rising temperature, hied themselves to the Port of Nanticoke on the second Sabbath in August, fully equipped with all the essentials of regular first-class fishermen, rubber boots, marlin spikes, casting reels, dip nets worms, flys, frogs, toads, minnows and all other tackle unknown to the ordinary ink-thrower, but at least sufficient paraphernalia to make a real fisherman look on with envy. Arriving at the Port in due time and being unable to secure the services of a duly qualified Captain, they commandeered the first freight boat they could find, which proved to be one in daily use carrying inland dippers to the feeding ground of the "Mighty Muskies."

They cast lots as to which one of the crew was to be installed as Master Mariner, when the count was made it was discovered that the mighty "Swat" of the Nanticoke O.A.S.B.C., had won the honor. They then cast anchor and shipped their course in the direction of the renowned reef, where it is said more of the great Bass abounds then in any other fishing field on the north shore.

Making the run in record time, the sport commenced. At this time it was approaching the setting of the sun, when it is generally supposed to be the feeding time of the fish. Well, they continued to feed them for some time without a lift, when finally "Morg" decided that the sight of land would be a pleasure to the eyes and the anchor was lifted for the return journey, but after the entire crew, Captain, Wheelsman and all had made an unsuccessful attempt to start the engine, it was discovered that the carbonated carbon in the carburetor would'nt let the darn thing carbortate and not having any supply of uncarboned carburettors on board, they finally resolved to remain on the mighty deep until the arising of the sun. The moon arose and its brightened rays over the wide expanse of ocean deep created much concern among the nimrods, when someone suggested that it was only a few miles to the brink of the mighty Niagara Gorge, the morale of the occupants of the craft broke down, the barber suggested that the eldest lead in prayer and "Feller" led in singing "For Those in Peril on the Sea." After this service "Pap" removed his clothing and used them (after soaking with gasolene) in making midnight flares, which was seen from the beach by the hundreds who had congregated awaiting the direful news, and Captain Jackson immediately launched the "Seek-and-Find" and in a few hours brought them to Port and the comforting words of their distressed friends. In the excitement, the fish were lost.

Machine Made Highway

Five Miles Under Construction by One Man

With the aid of a newly purchased road grading machine, said to be the second of its kind in Ontario, Haldimand County has one lone man constructing a new highway which is to be a short-cut from Dunnville to Hamilton.

The outfit consists of a 7-ton Diesel tractor and 3-ton waggon scraper which holds five tons of dirt and has hydraulic control. With it, the operator and road builder, Charles Haslett, former chief of police of Hagersville, cuts down the hills, fills the hollows and grades to highway specifications. The operating cost is said to be so low that it means a very great saving over the old-fashioned method of road building. The outfit, it is claimed, does as much work in a day as 25 teams of horses and close to a hundred men. The operator is paid $4.50 for a ten-hour day and the cost of fuel oil is in the neighbourhood of $2.00 a day.

Short-Cut to Hamilton

The road on which work is being done at present is known as Haldimand County road No. 19, running from Canboro to Caistorville (five miles). When completed, it will be a short-cut from Dunnville to Hamilton, meaning a saving of several miles in the trip.

A Weekly Review Of National Affairs

(By "Spectator")

Changes in National Defence Department

Ottawa — The most momentous announcement that has broken the midsummer silence of parliament hill during the past week has been the word of plans to increase the efficiency of the country's defence forces. As has been said in the case of the United Kingdom, although in Britain defence measures are, of course, on a much more extensive scale, Canada does not intend to be "shot sitting." There will be a gradual and thorough reorganization of the military forces. Boards of advisers for the three services, army, navy and air force are to be appointed. These committees, composed of men with records of distinguished service will be available for consultation on matters concerning the efficiency of the services. Air marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., distinguished airman of the war will be a member of the air board and General Tremblay, famous commander of the 22nd regiment of infantry will serve on the army board. The others on the committee also stand high on the country's roll of honor.

A number of promotions in rank have been announced, among these being W. A. Bishop formerly vice air marshall to air marshall, a new rank for Canada's forces, Col. L. R. La Fleche, Deputy Minister of the National Defence Department to the rank of major general and Commodore Percy W. Nelles ranking officer of the navy to rear admiral.

A new vitality is being instilled in the defence forces. The development of militia training camps has made rapid progress in recent months. The air force, comprising 2100 men, and which will have about 300 planes by the end of the year is coming more to the fore, and taking its rightful place as an extremely important arm of defence. The estaglishment of 130 search-light bases at strategic points on the Pacific coast, to be followed by the establishment of similar posts on the Atlantic seaboard is a forward step in the creation of an effective air shield for this country. It has been suggested that Canada might perhaps coordinate civil and military aviation in the manner which is to be followed in the United Kingdom. In any event the lessons to be learnt from the destruction wrought by aerial attacks in Spain and China, have given the air force an assured place in Canada's line of defence.
