The following was clipped out of an American publication of a recent date:

"Wanted.—An unmarried lady, under 40, educated, business abilities; small in stature; to become partner in business here mentioned; suitable building; good opening. Box—, Delhi post office, Ontario, Canada." We address all young ladies under 40 of short stature to hunt for the villain who is endeavoring to import dress goods to this village.—Reporter, Delhi.

SOMETHING NEW.—Last Tuesday evening a shadow social was held at the residence of Jas. Smith, 1st Concession, Middleton, in aid of the Baptist church. As some of our readers may not be acquainted with the procedure of a shadow social, we will endeavor to explain: All the gentlemen present enter into a room by themselves, the door of which a sheet is drawn across. A light is placed in such a position that it will cast shadow on the sheet. The ladies then come forward singly, and the gentlemen bid according as they feel disposed, the highest bidder taking the lady whose shadow he has purchased, for his partner for the evening. A good time was spent.—Ob-server.

A few mornings ago Matthew Hawley, an inmate of the Norfolk County House of Refuge, was found dead in bed, having apparently died in the fore part of the night without a struggle. He retired to bed in his usual health. He was 44 years of age; had been an inmate of the house for 20 years, and came from Walsingham.

Our hired Gurl says: 'The Record' is the best paper in the County.

Wall Paper.—We have in stock about one hundred designs of Wall Paper and Borders to match. With the exception of a few remnants this Spring's stock is entirely new and as every roll we are showing was bought direct from the factories, you cannot buy Wall Paper to any better advantage than from us.—Mills Bros. 36.

An exchange remarks: "Among all the rapid transit inventions, we have yet to hear of one that has had for its object the acceleration of the movements of hard-fisted, callous, delinquent subscribers from their abodes to the newspaper office." The much desired motive power would not come amiss in this office. Without a great stretch of imagination of the subscribers whose names appear upon our subscription list.—Reporter, Delhi.—We feel sorry for the editor of the Reporter, Ed.

The proprietor of the Simcoe Shirt Factory was taken into camp the other day in good style. A customer of his walked into the store and asked to be congratulated on the fact of his recent marriage. With the usual generosity the gent's furnisher replied that if this was true the best scarf in the store was none too good for him. The customer at once struck out and in a few minutes returned with a young lady, who resides near Port Ryerse, she corroborated the young men's story and represented herself as the happy bride. The scarf was selected and handed over at a cost of one dollar to Mr. Perry. An hour afterwards he learned that he had been "done up." There had been no wedding.—Reformer.

A YOUTHFUL VACCINATOR.—On Saturday a farmer living in the village of Dutton brought his six-year-old son to one of the offices of the village doctors for the purpose of having him vaccinated. The youngster, who had watched the operation on the arm with the closest attention, evidently regarded it as amusement, for next morning, during the temporary absence of his parents, he procured a darning needle, bared the arm of his four-year-old brother and made a mark similar to that made on his own arm the previous day. Not satisfied with this, the youthful Esculapius next directed his attention to a still younger brother and before the return of the parents had him undergo the same operation.—Dutton Enterprise.
