NEW NOTES FOR THE HUSTLING FARMER

By Baldmand Harry —

Milk production is a topic of great discussion these days. County along with all the rest in the province will share of the responsibility in the increase in total production concerned. The average supply of feed grains in Haldimand during the past ten years is 1,000,000 and the average total of feed grains on this acreage for the same ten years has been 1,000,000 bushels.

v v v

This crop year of 1948 we are asked to increase our total acreage-yield which in the case of Haldimand will amount to close to quarters of a million bushels. The bushels to be exact. This is a total yield of 2,892,992 bushels. This cannot be achieved unless every farmer will be willing and anxious to reach his individual objective. It certainly is not a wild objective since we already had this total yield in 1942 when 2,891 bushels were harvested. In other words the objective is 1 bushels greater and on the average of approximately 68,500 bushels means an increase of 3 bushels are more than was produced in 1942.

v v v

Farmers can increase their total amount by doing nothing but using the right variety. Experimental tests, the variety suited to the particular set of conditions has consistently outyielding variety by just that much. Use of good plump seed properly cleaned and also do much to get a good stand. Then too, there is a way of seeing to it that the seed is properly tilled and in a state of fertility.

v v v

Cleaning of seed is an item of a high priority right now. Shortage of feed grain this year is all know that. And there is a shortage of seed grain if we do not plan carefully. It would be good business to have sufficient grain over the fall to produce enough high grade for your own use this fall and Christmas and then for the next three months. If you haven't any grain to spare on the poor crop of this year it is urged that you make arrangements with the other hand you have a surplus and can spare you will be doing a favour if you will clean it up and offer for sale.

v v v

Production has been maintained very high level in Haldimand until the end of October. That month according to figures which have just reached the production of cream in Haldimand amounted to 1,000,000 as compared with 1,000,000 during the same month. The total production for the months ending October 31st 47,365 lbs. or close to a million more than during the year of 1946.

v v v

A milking cow requires an ample supply of fresh water and the should have it as well. No cow can be expected to do her best in producing if she can get to the water only once a day or at the most twice is something that too often is forgotten until we think milk production is down. Cattle are housed in the stable and wonder what happened. A system of water bowls installed in the stable it will solve the problem. Failing that the cows should have access to water at least three times a day.

v v v

The reason for the panic sell of stock has as yet been not clear. It is true there is a shortage of grains and the price has risen considerably but the dumping of sheep and swine on the market not better the situation. The story it is likely to depress price out of proportion to demand. This column is of the opinion that if the herds have to be reduced then the cows should take the first cut and the undesirable poor producers.

Athletic Assoc Report Shows Big Turnover

Although the attendance at the annual meeting of the Jarvis Athletic Association was barely large enough for a quorum the report of the Secretary Treasurer indicated extensive activity of the organization over the past seven months.

Receipts over that period were close to $5,000.00 and expenditures for the same period came very close to that figure. The main source of revenue was the Spring and Fall dances but the high operating cost this year left a very small margin of profit. Other main items included the sponsoring of the Jarvis Athletic Softball team and the operation of the floodlights at the ball park. Total revenue for the ball team were slightly better than $600.00, while operating expenses were $6.60 in excess of that figure. The floodlights were operated on a cost basis.

Due to the small attendance it was decided to leave the election of officers over until a later date. Plans were made to hold a dinner on the third Thursday in January at which time it is hoped all those interested in developing sports activities in the community will be present.

Hugh Montgomery was named by the Association to be the representative on the Teen-Town Council.

Families Are Grateful for Kindly Aid

The response to our appeal two weeks ago, for assistance for the two Holland families residing in the Township, has been most gratifying. Adequate supplies of preserves, bed clothing and children's apparell, have been turned in to meet the needs of the families this winter.

The gifts were turned over by this paper to Mrs. Cora McKenzie, representative of the local branch of the Red Cross Society, who not only investigated the needs in the first place but also apportioned the gifts to meet the needs of each family. Some items were provided through the Provincial Branch of the Red Cross through the request of Mrs. McKenzie who made a special trip to Toronto for this purpose. The local Nursing Reserve Branch are at present working on a layette which will be completed shortly.

Mrs. McKenzie has advised us that the families are most grateful for the kindness shown them and that they want us to express their thanks to all contributors through the columns of this paper. We would also like to express our appreciation to the quick response to our request but venture the opinion that everyone who has had a part in this little bit of humanitarian work feels the better for it.

NANTICOKE W.I. RECEIVE LETTER FROM BRITAIN

The following letter was received recently by Mrs. Pratten, acknowledging a parcel sent to England by the Nanticoke Womens Institute:

County Primary School,
Hampton Wick,
Nr. Kingston,
Surrey.
24—10—47

Dear Mrs. Pratten:

Thank you very much for your kindness in sending a parcel of clothes and food to this school. Its very good of you and Mrs. Tomkins and we do appreciate it tremendously.

The children were delighted and drew lots for choice of good things. The honey, alas, had run out of its carton, but nothing in the food line was spoiled completely and we have had the coat and frock cleaned. I mention this because I'm sure you would rather be told than risk the same thing happening in parcels to other lucky recipients. Your members have been awfully good to us, and we feel we have a great debt of gratitude with little opportunity to repay.

The way these children's faces light up when the postman appears with a promising looking parcel, would be quite a reward for you — if only you could see them.

They join me and the staff in saying a big thank you.

Yours sincerely,
C. M. HARDING

The Nanticoke Women's Institute wish to thank all who contributed food for Britain, in the box placed in Miller's store. A box containing twenty pounds has been packed and shipped and we ask your further cooperation in carrying on as long as there is need.

LETTER OF THANKS

Dunnville, Ont., Nov. 10, 1947

Rev. W. H. Fuller,
Jarvis, Ontario

Dear Mr. Fuller:

I am in receipt of your letter of October 28th, with cheque enclosed for Two Hundred and Eighty-three dollars and Fifty-nine Cents ($283.-59) for which I thank you, and which has gone through our Board Treasurer, Mr. W. J. Snoddy, Bank of Toronto, Dunnville, Ont.

The Haldimand Advisory Board met at Cayuga on Tuesday evening, November 4th, where it was agreed that since Jarvis had based their campaign on a special assessment for furnishing a room in the New Residence that the amount of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250.00) be set aside for that purpose. And that the residue of income over current expenses be allocated equally to the other communities for furnishing the building.

The Board feel that you done a grand job at Jarvis, and we extend to you and through you to the Seven Gift Fund our sincere thanks, I am,

Yours very sincerely,
T. H. BALLARD,
Chairman Hald. Advisory Board

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Since last Tuesday, an increasing number of men who run their own businesses have, through the new trade restrictions, been forced to close down. Those concerned extensively with certain U.S. imports are now virtually unemployed.

One man in Toronto had just received his charter for a company the day before Mr. Abbott's unheralded announcement. The cost was $600. He will be unable to do one day's work for his new company until some distant time in the future when the likelihood is that his products will either be out of date or the market will no longer exist.

We can indeed do without the goods on the prohibited lists — we could also do without electricity and go back a hundred years. Granted too, the fact that most men unemployed because of the import bans will be able to find other employment, but not at what they obviously consider themselves fitted for. To them it simply means two or three years out of their careers.

I have yet to meet a man who does not agree that by far the simplest way to solve Canada's financial problem would have been to devaluate the dollar. Even if it meant the dollar finding its level at as low a figure as 75 cents, the final result would be the same as will be achieved by Mr. Abbott's cumbersome and exacting plan, and that result would be arrived at in a much shorter time with far less hardship for the people.
