Our scouts tell us that since the subject was last mentioned in this column, the condition of the Nanticoke sideroad has noticeably improved. We express appreciation to the parties responsible and feel sure the people using this road regularly will remember them in their prayers as well.

—o—

Our scouts also tell us that despite the investment of several hundred thousand dollars of the taxpayer's money, certain people in Port Dover find it necessary to use the Jarvis Post Office for the quick dispatch of their mail. They have discovered, however, that it's cash on the line for postage down here in Jarvis or put up with the service available at home. It is just further proof to us of the advantages of living in a hustling, wide awake community where all the services for joyous and contented living are available.

—o—

Our scouts also tell us that a movement is on foot to get curbs and gutters on some of the streets in Port Dover. It serves to remind us that these facilities were installed in Jarvis back in 1912, without the benefit of government subsidy of any nature.

—o—

Our scouts also tell us that passenger train service is likely to be eliminated entirely in Port Dover. Which serves to remind us we had to tear up the line running from Jarvis to Port Dover several years ago because the profitable business ended at the southern suburbs of Jarvis.

—o—

Oh well, Port Dover can take comfort in the fact their interests in the legislature are being looked after by Haldimand's Jas. N. Allan, even if it did take the editor of the lakeside bugle a long time to recognize the fact.

—o—

Our scout informs us that Jim Wadel, a member of the production staff of this pleasant little Journal, was selected to draw the winning ticket on the Fisherville Firemen's car draw last Saturday night. Unfortunately we neglected to tell him we had a ticket in the drum. Otherwise we feel sure he would have selected the ticket with a little more care. Sober reflection, however, tells us it couldn't have gone to a better guy. Ross Schurr was the winner.

—o—

Now our readers will know we have scouts on the loose.

CHEAPSIDE

On the Farm Front

By Haldimand Harry

A new table of seed prices for fall sown crops has just been issued by the Seed Marketing and Publicity Committee of the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association. Actually there is very little change in the prices that have been suggested as compared with those of last year although there has been a considerable improvement in the prices of milling wheat. It is hoped that by keeping seed prices down there will be an increased demand for good seed and particularly for the higher grades such as registered and certified.

—o—

The prices as suggested by the committee are as follows: Fall Wheat, Registered No. 1, $2.50 per bushel; Certified No. 1, $2.25 and Commercial No. 1 $2.10. Rye, Commercial No. 1 (Tetra Petkus variety) $2.50 per bushel and Commercial No. 1 (other varieties) $1.75. Winter Barley, Certified No. 1 $2.50 per bushel and Commercial No. 1 $2.00. All prices are for treated seed with new bags included, retail or f.o.b. shipping point. There seems to be a great deal of interest being displayed in winter barley this year and also for the Tetra Petkus rye.

—o—

Creamery production figures for the month of June have just come out and they show another drop from the same month of last year. In Haldimand County this amounts to 15,000 pounds for the month and about 30,000 pounds for the six months period ending with June 30. The actual figures for June of this year are 254,229 lbs. as compared with 269,580 lbs. a year ago. The accumulated totals are 1,305,321 lbs. for 1956 and 1,335,427 lbs. for 1955. The provincial figures also show a decline of 5.6 per cent for the month and 4.5 per cent for the six months.

—o—

At what age should dairy heifers be bred? This will somewhat depend on their growth. Well developed heifers can be bred earlier than those that are not well grown for their age. The time of freshening is another factor that may have to be taken into consideration. Usually it is desirable that they calve when the milk market is most suitable. Smaller breeds sometimes develop a little faster than the larger breeds and for that reason it is recommended that Holstein heifers may be bred when 18 to 21 months of age. On the other hand Jersey heifers may be bred when 15 to 18 months old. Ayrshire and Guernsey heifers will come in between with the former being bred when 17 to 20 months old and the latter at 16 to 19 months.

The Canadian government in 1955 collected $1,186,513 duties on foreign goods "dumped" into the Canadian market in violation of trading agreements.

Her First Failure

The cold-numbed face of an 18-year-old school girl fell into the 46-degree water of Juan de Fuca straits. She lifted is out momentarily, but couldn't keep it up. He head lolled forward again into the water, and that was the signal for the end of Marilyn Bell's attempt to conquer the 18-mile strait.

In the bone-chilling water for almost 10 hours, she had only five more miles to swim to become the first woman and the second person to cover the treacherous waters. It was her first marathon swim failure. She had crossed 32-mile Lake Ontario and the English Channel before.

FALL SESSION POSSIBLE

Observers at Ottawa said that the Prime Minister, St. Laurent's holiday plans rule out the likelihood of a general election this year, but that a fall session is still a possibility.

Mr. St. Laurent, who left the capital on Aug. 15 for his summer home at St. Patrice, Quebec, intended to stay away until early in September.

Speculation was that the government would go to the country next June. But a fall session—seen by some sources as a good Liberal stage-setter for a 1957 election—was still a possibility.

SAFETY ADVICE

Learn to swim! It is well worth the time and effort involved. If you cannot swim, stay out of swift water, away from spots where the bottom shelves out steeply. Even if you can swim, don't go in the water alone or too soon after a meal. A bit of knowledge along this line may save someone's life.
