Since Jarvis and Selkirk battled to a tie last Monday night, we are now prepared to say that Selkirk, along with Jarvis, is capable of beating any of those Norfolk County teams, especially Simcoe or Port Dover Since making some reference to this last week we have had our opinions confirmed by some well qualified Haldimand hockey authorities. Naturally not a peep has been heard from Norfolk County.

Just as life started to settle down to something of a peaceful nature, after festivities at the year end, we are reminded that another Minstrel Show is about to take shape. The mere thought sends cold chills down our back. Where in the world is the material going to come from. Nothing is deader than last year's jokes and if there are any more they are evading us completely. An appeal last year brought lots of material. Maybe we can get some help again this year. Just so long as its funny we're interested. Just send it along to this column. Thank you.

Andy Johnson's decision to rebuild the Bowling Alley will be good news to the bowling enthusiasts. Some of the teams have found space in alleys in neigbouring towns in order to complete the league bowling for the season, while some others have been discontinued. There can be no question that bowling has become a popular pasttime in Jarvis and the new facilities cannot be revised too quickly to suit most people.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

R.R.2, Cayuga, January22, 1959

Mr. Editor:

As a Haldimand County resident it was with a jolt that I read in the Dunnville Chronicle of January 15 that a Dunnville man and a former chairman of the Grand Valley Conservation Authority, Reeve Garfield Disher is advocating the destruction of the Dunnville Long Dam.

This destruction of some 20 miles of valuable, scenic water level above the dam urged in an offhand discussion of the town's plans for a new bridge over the river by a member of a body founded for the 'conservation' of the Grand River seems hardly creditable.

A Welland Tribune article of January 14 reporting remarks attributed to Mr. Disher in addressing a meeting as chairman of the Haldimand County bridge committee, says in part:

"Later discussion showed that a traffic island may be constructed at the end of the bridge to help filter traffic and that the dam would be removed making one level of water in the Grand River."

The attendant destruction of this great natural reservoir holding an immense quantity of stored water is dismissed in what appears to be an afterthought.

Why not strengthen the dam, put in a small boat lock at the GVCA's new Byng Island Park and open the smooth expanse of the upper river to the boating public?

Removing the dam would lower the upper river level some six feet certainly 'making one level of water' as Mr. Disher says. That level would be from two to six feet below the bottom of almost every farm well in the lower watershed ,it may well be presumed. The area's water table or level of ground water must be solidly anchored to the level of the upper river. The removal of the dam in this case would be catastrophic.

This handsome, winding lake which is spread between the rolling hills of the country's heart belongs to everyone in Haldimand County and it belongs to them, in right, as it is a gem for every fisherman, hiker, trapper, hunter, artist or mere motorist or passerby.

In candour, I admit my home is among those situated on the banks of the river below Cayuga.

To save the river organized resistance to the scheme must be made known, it would appear. I would encourage readers sympathetic to the preservation of the river to inform their reeve of their wish to save the Grand.

For what it is worth I suggest a petition be taken up among owners of property and municipalities bordering on the lower Grand opposed to the tearing out of the dam and the resultant destruction of this tranquil lake, the largest body of its kind in south western Ontario.

The petition could be forwarded, in copy, to the county bridge committee county council and Ontario Water Resources Board.

Yours truly,

J. A. CURTIN,
River Road West,
North Cayuga

CHEER UP! CHEER UP

If the cold weather is getting you down maybe Spring is not far off. Lynn Collins, R. R. 5, Simcoe, reports this week seeing a robin, apparently enjoying the brisk cold weather. This is extremely unusual for this time of year. To make the incident more newsworthy was the fact that Mr. Red Breast seemed to be in perfect health and was chirping as one might expect he might do on a sunny May day.

FILMS IN EDUCATION

The practical use of movie Films and Filmstrips was the subject of a very successful "Film Workshop" held on Saturday last, January 24th., at the Rural Youth Centre, Kohler. Sponsored by the Haldimand County Film Council and under the direction of Mr. Roy T. Brown, Inspector of Public Schools for Haldimand County, over sixty Public School teachers from South Walpole, Rainham, South Cayuga, Moulton, Canboro, Seneca, Oneida, North Cayuga Township School Areas and the Villages of Cayuga, Caledonia, Dunnville and Hagersville.

Mr. Howard S. Adams of Hamilton conducted a most interesting and practical course, explaining how films can materially assist the teacher in the classroom. Demonstration lessons were conducted in the use of a Filmstrip and a movie Film during the morning session.

A delightful turkey dinner was served by the Little Erie Mission and Sewing Association at noon when Mr. Daniel Werner, President of the Haldimand Film Council acted as chairman.

For the afternoon sessions the teachers were divided into groups by the Grades taught when a film and filmstrip particular to each group was demonstrated and a discussion on how the Film Council could assist in furthering Audio-Visual Education in all the schools of Haldimand County. Following a short intermission Mr. Adams briefly spoke of the several other Audio and Visual aids available to teachers, such as Radio, Record Players, Opac Projectors, Tape Recorders, and in the future Television.

Teachers suggested that the Film Council build up a large Filmstrip library for use by the schools on a low rental basis. That Movie Projectors stay in a central school or school area for at least a week on a pre-arranged schedule so that teachers could secure movie films adapted to the subject being studied. Also that any printed material on films be circulated as much in advance as possible.

The Haldimand County Film Council as a result of this most successful Film Workshop are considering similar courses for Sunday School teachers, Women's Institutes and any who are interested in Audio-Visual Education.

BALMORAL LADIES AUXILIARY MEET

Mrs. Ken. Bousfield's home was opened to the Balmoral Ladies Auxiliary on January 23rd. The meeting opened with the singing of "Saviour Like a Shepherd" followed by prayer by the President, Mrs. G. Hoover.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. P. Slote and adopted as read.

Due to bad weather and cancellation of the December meeting, the Roll Call was answered with the exchange of Christmas gifts from their "Secret Sister" with fourteen present.

The President thanked those who had donated flannelette and baby clothes for layettes during the past months.

She also told of the hats and mitts donated to the Rural Life Mission at Christmas time for needy families in Hagersville.

Mrs. Don Sloat, Mrs. Wm. McNiece and Mrs. W. Person led in prayer during the devotional period.

Mrs. Lee gave the message of the evening, choosing for her topic "Paul's Faithfulness" taken from Philippians 3: 7 - 14. With the new year ahead, suggested we keep in mind verses 13 - 14, "Forgetting those Things Which Are Behind and Reaching Forth Unto Those Things Which Are Before, I Press Toward the Mark For the Prize of the High Calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Bousfield closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Walker gave thanks to the hostess and the lunch committee Mrs E. Gibbons and Mrs. Don Teal for the delightful lunch.

The forepart of the evening was spent finishing the layettes.

THE MORE I SEE OF IT THE BETTER I LIKE IT

-by Ronald More-

The more I see of Canada, the better I like it. There is still so much to see for, after all, Canada is an immense country full of the most delightful scenery so that-apart from the Prairies- there is something new at almost every turn and it becomes better the further one travels West.

Last April, I travelled by Canadian National Railways from Toronto to Prince George, B. C. and was fortunate enough to be able to watch nature turning from Winter into Spring. It was an amazing sight. The trees were thrusting their buds out to the sun, millions of various types of duck sported on the many sloughs, hundreds of Canada Geese looked up from their feeding, with a look of disdain, at the throbbing monster which hauled our train to the West.

Knowing there were certain stories to be written within a few months, one was able to concentrate on them and begin to outline the general trend but had the train seats not been comfortable and the atmosphere one of "complete personal service", this would not have been possible. I was able to leave the train with a perfectly pressed flannel suit, though how the "presser" managed it I shall never be able to guess.

And so on to Jasper, Alta. and those magnificent Rockies.

Now, for anyone travelling to Prince George there is a wait of several hours, there, but in such a city as Jasper what does it matter? There is far too much to see- even if the usual Summer hotels and various tourist traps were still closed and the day sunny though chilly- and a walk along the highway, with practically no traffic, produced a close-up of a group of moutain goats not more than fifty feet from the road.

They even posed for the inevitable photograph looking at the camera as though to say, "Oh, Oh, here is the first of those tourist pests with his little black box. Heads up, boys! Their superelious attitude was truly laughable.

From Jasper to Prince George, the run is through some of the most magnificent scenery in Canada.

One meets all manner of men. Officials of the railway, such as a travelling auditor on his way to visit station agents, a colonel of a Canadian regiment stationed in Germany on his way home on leave. And so, the trip progresses, so the types of travellers change.

From Toronto to Winnipeg there are the inevitable travelling salesmen full of the talk of their kind and from there, all across the Prairies, the general trend seems to be either farmers or salesmen on their way to induce said farmers to buy their products or most definitely go out of business.

Later on one meets lumbermen or miners from out of the far North, on their way back through Edmonton to such places as Uranium City, Eldorado or Flin Flon and other settlements with such romantic names and the general conversations range from the type or amount of work being carried out in their areas, to how the last night was spent in the "big city", which might have been anywhere from Montreal to Winnipeg— or Chicago.

The lumbermen really begin to show up at Jasper and until it is time to go to bed, the general conversation among them in the parlour car, is one of timber prices, the shenanigans of governments, the charges for stumpage or the chances of forest fires. This latter with a hint of dread in their voices for such a fire can ruin a lumber operator overnight and so on, until someone reminds the rest that this train will arrive in Prince George at the grisly hour of 5.15 A. M. and there is a general exodus to the sleeping cars.

All in all, it was a grand trip and although I have crossed Canada three times by road, it was the first time by railway and quite frankly I enjoyed it.

WALPOLE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL MEET

Skinner, Agricultural Representative for the County at his office in Cayuga and had been informed that up to the present time there was no serum supplied to Municipalities unless there had been an outbreak of Rabies or had been the case in Townships adjacent to the north. Also reported that he had interviewed members of the Rainham Council as to their success in the vaccination of dogs which had been inoculated under their issuing of a Proclamation which had been nearly one hundred per cent.

Mr. William Austin, Veterinarian, Jarvis was present to advise Council. Mr. Austin stated that arrangements could be made with the veterinarians whereby the vaccination could be done and that by the issuing of a Proclamation it would be made compulsory to have all dogs vaccinated and that the Council would pay $1.00 and the owner $1.00 and it was also agreed that all cattle in the Township could be vaccinated. The owner of cattle will have to make his own appointment with a veterinarian as to this vaccination. The Council agreed to pay 50c and the owner 75c. It was also agreed that the Council would pay half the cost of the vaccination of cats. It is not compulsory as to the vaccination of cats or cattle.

The question of a Municipal Building for the Township which was brought up at nomination was also discussed. Members of the Jarvis Council were present and they proposed a Municipal Building in Jarvis for both Municipalities. Council appointed Councillor Montague to work with the Jarvis Council to find out the possibility of a suitable building or a building site in the Village, and to report to Council at their next meeting.

Montague and Greenfield — Resolved that we do now adjourn to meet on Friday, February 6th at 10.00 A. M.

SOIL AND CROP PEOPLE LOOK AT LOCAL PROBLEMS

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAL MEETING

After approximately ten years of special work being done in the study of soil problems in Haldimand County the Soil and Crop Improvement Association gave special prominence to the achievements that have been made on the occasion of their annual meeting held recently at the Rural Youth Centre, Kohler. Mr. Jas. Ross the Fieldman for the Soil Improvement Committee, an organization sponsored by the Haldimand Soil and Crop Improvement Association, gave a rather full and complete report illustrated by coloured slides thrown on the screen. This report traced the work being done in the use of fertilizer in the County as well as the many other and varied projects. This was followed by Prof. Norman J. Thomas of the Soils Department at the Ontario Agricultural College, drawing conclusions on the work that had been accomplished by the committee.

The attendance at the meeting was the largest in the history of the Association and speaks well for the work that has been done. The routine business was conducted during the morning session with the presentation of the President's address by Arthur Bradford of Canboro Township. The report of the Secretary-Treasurer, A. Gordon Skinner, was also received in which a review of the activities of the Association was given as well as the financial statement. The Board of Directors for the current season was elected at this session.

One of the features of the afternoon session was the presentation of the prizes in the Haldimand Pasture Improvement Competition by Mr. Lyle Murry, General Manager and Mr. Harold Shubank, President of the Haldimand Farmers' Co-op. The prizes in the competition were provided in entirety by the Co-op. Mr. Frase Chaney, President of the Dunnville Board of Trade was one of the guests at the head table and responded to a vote of thanks for the part played by that organization in connection with the 100 Bushel Corn Competition and the Corn Festival, held in October in Dunnville. The prizes in this competition were presented at this after event.

The winners in the Pasture Competition were as follows: Mr. Arthur Bradford, R.R. No. 1, Dunnville; Mr. A. Ronsberger, R.R. No. 2, Dunnville; Mr. Graydon Field, R.R. No. 1, Nanticoke; Mr. Harold Bradford, R.R. No. 2, Dunnville; Mr. Frank Young, R.R. No. 4, Caledonia; Mr. David Bartlett, R.R. No. 3, Canboro; Mr. V. Otterman Jr. Son, R.R. No. 2, Selkirk; Mr. E. Berger, Canboro.

The first prize included a specially designed "Certificate of Merit."

The first prize winners in both the Corn Competition and the Pasture Competition, Messrs. Bruce King and Arthur Bradford were each asked to speak briefly indicating what special methods they may have followed in producing the winning entry. In addition, Mr. Wm. H. Urquhart, the Judge of the Pasture Competition, gave some of his impressions regarding that competition. Mr. Howard Henry, Fieldman for the Crops Branch and Mr. Geo. Vansickle, District Director, also spoke briefly.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, the following Officers were elected for 1959: President Arthur Bradford; 1st Vice President, Bruce Whaley; 2nd Vice President, Andrew Dashner; Secretary Treasurer, A. Gordon Skinner.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS NAVY STYLE

The November wind lashed the rain and thick sand along the Corfu airport. There, a little girl named Ioanna waited.....waited for her distant friends—crewmen of HMCS Ottawa. They had chartered a plane specially to meet her and she was so excited she couldn't sit still.

The weather was so bad that the regularly scheduled commercial flight between Corfu and Athens had been grounded. Would they come at all? Throughout the previous night Ioanna had tossed on her little cot in the Day Nursery. "What if the plane should crash? What if they shouldn't get there at all? What if I wake up and find it was all a splendid dream?" The wind echoed and the branches crackled softly.

Then the word came. Ioanna dressed quickly and headed for the airport. Time stood still as she watched the plane circle the field and finally land.

Eight young men jumped out. Six were from the aircraft carrier HMCS "Bonaventure" and the other two were from the "Ottawa". They were just as eager to meet their "adopted" daughter as she was excited to see them arrive. Translators were frantic trying to keep up with the conversation. There were so many things to talk about—so many things to know. Where was their big ship? What was Canada like? Was there much snow and were there Eskimos and penguins and white bears.

Ioanna accepted her Christmas gifts with bulging eyes. There was $50 in cash, food and toys and a picture of all her wonderful "Daddies" -the crew of the "Ottawa". Shyly she offered her gift—a tiny silver rudderless trireme—an ancient vessel and symbol of the clever seamanship of Corfu sailors who didn't even need a rudder to find their way home It was inscribed with "with love from Ioanna". Lt. Max Reid and Chief Petty Officer Giles promised to give it to the crew on Christmas morning. Ioanna's Christmas dream had come true. She had things to eat, a beautiful doll all her own and a whole shipload of wonderful "Daddies" who loved her. She would never forget her first Merry Christmas!

Ioanna is one of the thousands of youngsters who are the world's "lost babies." Innocent victims of economic depression, civil war and drought, these children are doomed to a life of such utter hopeless misery—even death—if they are not given outside help.

The men of the HMCS Ottawa found Ioanna through Foster Parents Plan, Inc., a non-sectarian, non-profit organization which has helped over 87,000 children survive their poverty-stricken lives.

You can give your little Ioanna a Merry Christmas in your own way. Write for further information to Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., P.O. Box 65, Station B, Montreal, P.Q.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES FOR JARVIS AND DISTRICT

Marking a new year of telephone progress, thousands of up-to-date telephone directories for Jarvis and other district centres are now being distributed.

Indicative of telephone growth in the area covered by the 1959 book more than 52,000 copies are being sent out this year, compared with some 78,000 copies of the 1958 edition.

Because of the many new and changed listings contained in the 1959 directory, D. A. McArthur, Bell Telephone manager for this region, has suggested that telephone users discard their old books as soon as the new ones are received.

"Past experience has shown that many wrong numbers and unnecessary calls to "Information" result, if customers don't discard their old book," Mr. McArthur said.

The Bell Manager pointed out that one good way to avoid confusion was for telephone users to revise, where necessary, their personal telephone books and use them as a handy reference before placing a call. To facilitate this practice, an indexed Blue Book of Telephone Numbers is available free of charge at the company's business office serving this area.

The directory also carries a special notice on the cover calling attention to the fact that it has an effective date of February 1 when the numbers listed for Ohaweken and Mount Pleasant will come into use through establishment of local dial exchange buildings. This year, the classified section of the book has been extended to include several more communities.

The 1959 book features a sketch of Captain Joseph Brant monument at Brantford on the front cover. The work of Lorne Bouchard, well-known Canadian artist it replaces the sketch of the Norfolk War Memorial at Simcoe carried on last year's cover.

The directory also serves Brantford Burford, Cayuga, Fisherville, Hagersville, Lynden, Paris, Port Dover, St. George, Scotland, Selkirk, Simcoe, Waterford, Brownsville, Beachville, Burgessville, Delhi, Embro, Ingersoll, Kintore, Langton, Norwich, Otterville, Port Rowan, Thameford, Tillsonburg and Woodstock.

SANDUSK W.I. MEET

The Sandusk Womens Institute was held on Thursday, January 15, 1959, at the home of Mrs. E. S. Pond in Simcoe. The President opened the meeting with the Ode, Mary Stuart Collect and the Lord's Prayer. The Roll Call was answered with a Simple Health Rule that is often neglected. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The correspondence was read and dealt with. Our Card and Crokinole Party is to be held in the Cheapside Hall on Thursday February 5, 1959, at 8.30 P.M. The Motto "Keep Happy and Healthy, the Heck With Being Wealthy" was given by Mrs. Mulkins. Mrs E. S. Pond read an article on "The Institute Honours Ethel Chapman". Current Events was given by most of the members. The Collection was taken up. We closed with the Queen and Institute Grace. Mrs. Bray moved a vote of thanks to the hostess for her kind hospitality.

Little man you've had a busy day

This little spaceman is just back from a trip to Mars (out in the backyard) . . . and now his leader is packing him off to bed.

While he was away, she washed the floor . . . the dishes . . . several large piles of clothes . . . and still there was plenty of hot water for this spaceman's bath. Reason? Because she has a modern automatic electric water heater with abundant storage capacity and quick recovery when more hot water is needed. Heating water electrically is safe, clean, modern and costs just a few cents a day on special Hydro flat rates.

You get more out of life when you get the most out of electricity.

Household Hints by Anne Allan:
Launder small rubber-backed rugs in your washer, then tumble dry in an electric dryer set at low temperature.
