
Norm Graham's Baseball Club has been rained out so frequently this past season he is beginning to wonder if he doesn't live right. The final game of the Playdowns, with New Hamburg, has again been scheduled for this Saturday, Nov. 7th at Hamilton. There is more likelihood of snow than rain at this late date and it's pretty hard to keep up the baseball spirit in football weather. However the Bantams are within 9 innings reach of an all-Ontario Championship and, given the chance, we think they'll cop it.

We're against Hallowe'en pranks. Actually we're not against fun. But, we're against any kind of tom foolery that results in damaging the property of any other person. We're even against soaping windows. In this latter respect we've tried earnestly to learn what motivates a person to soap windows and thus far no explanation has been forthcoming. We could overlook this, however, but we'll never be able to understand why anyone would want to deliberately cause damage to property.

We are told that a young punk from out of town set to work on Hallowe'en night tearing down a stairway. Not content with ruining the stairway he threw the pieces out on the roadway causing a hazard to passing traffic. We are also told he was apprehended and upon facing a cooling off period behind bars had the audacity to say he would return at a later date and with the aid of cohorts would really tear the town apart.

- - - - - -

It may be that such a declaration is supposed to scare somebody, but we're going on record right now and say it doesn't scare us one bit. Nor do we think it will scare any other red blooded Jarvisite. In fact we would be happy to have a part in seeing that this punk and his friends met with a reception committee at any time and we don't think we'd have any trouble rounding up the committee. In fact it would afford us no end of pleasure in extending these visitors the hospitality that would be their due. In fact we're sure they would remember their experience for a long time to come.

- - - - - -

What ever it is that motivates these actions is beyond the realm of reasonable understanding. It can only come from a lack of instruction in the home and this is the parent's responsibility. Altogether too much effort has been made in an effort to understand these things. The only positively deterring action is to meet force with force and with such force that the fun will be taken out of it—if it is fun.

HISTORY OF THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY OF THE COUNTY OF HALDIMAND

—By Gordon Brenzil—

On May 12th, 1897, approval under the "Act For Prevention of Cruelty to and Better Protection of Children" was given to what was then known as the Children's Aid Society of Dunnville District by the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario.

This was the official beginning of the first organized group dedicated to the protection of children.

The first executive included William Shirton, Simeon Wesley Brown, William Davis Swayze, Richard Anson Harrison, William Ross McIndoe and Robert Bradford.

These men, along with other public spirited citizens, paid a membership fee of $1.00 annually or $50.00 for a life membership. Recently, however, the fees have been abolished entirely.

The history books remain silent about the activities of the Society until December 10th, 1915, when it was reorganized. During those 19 years the title was changed to the Children's Aid Society for the County of Haldimand, with the executive committee being comprised of representatives frm all parts of the county.

The officers elected in 1915 were R.A. Harrison, Honourary President; Robert Bennett, President; Mrs. Burns of Caledonia, Mr. Fleming of Hagersville, Dr. Jaques of Jarvis, and J. W. Sheppard of Cayuga, Vice-Presidents; Dr. H. Walker, Secretary; George P. Brown, Treasurer; and two agents, Rev. J. M. Whitelaw of Hagersville and Charles R. Bilger of Dunnville.

In addition to the officers, other members of the executive were M. J. Cleary of Dunnville; Harrison Arrell, Q.C. of Caledonia; John Senn of York W. M. Allen of Moulton; W. C. Vanloon of Hagersville; Robert F. Miller of Rainham Centre; A. E. Quinsey of Cayuga; J. J. Parsons and Andrew Rogers who represented Jarvis; Miss J. McCallum of Stromness; M. F. Derby of Selkirk; John Bravin of Dunn; Mr. Kindree, R. E. Hamilton, John Hodges, J. N. Padget representing Canboro; Wm. Bain and Ed. Snider of South Cayuga; Ed Carr of Seneca; S. A. Thompson of Nanticoke; A. Hoto of Sherbrooke; Wm. Walton of North Cayuga and all resident clergy as members ex-officio.

From the list of officers, it can be noted that Charles R. Bilger began his career as an agent of the Society a title which he held until December 15th, 1927, after which it was changed from Agent, to Secretary and Local Superintendent, one that remained with him until October 9th, 1945 at a salary of $1,000.00 a year.

Once again there is a gap in the history books, until December 15th, 1927, the date of the annual meeting for which the Society has any official minutes.

It appears that Mr. Bilger was the only staff member until 1935 when an office assistant, Miss Betty Congdon, was hired.

During the same year on October 10, the Society was re-incorporated and officially assumed the title of the Children's Aid Society of the County of Haldimand.

On January 11, 1938, Miss Congdon was promoted to the position of Assistant Superintendent and Mrs. Stanley Chambers, who had been working as a volunteer since 1936, was hired on a part-time basis. Also at that time Mr. Bilger's salary was increased to $1500.00.

In April 1939, Mrs. Chambers left the Society to work as a supply teacher and L. Victor Miller was hired to take her place as a part-time worker, receiving a permanent appointment in November of the same year.

Mr. Miller, however, left in 1940 to join the armed forces and Mr. Bilger and Miss Congdon carried on without any additional help until February 1941 when Ruth Brown was hired.

In the fall of 1942 the staff was once again reduced when Betty Congdon left.

About that time Mrs. Chambers came back to the Society serving as Secretary-Treasurer on the Board. She was once again brought back on the staff when Miss Brown, who became Mrs. Bob Stretton in 1942, planned to leave the agency at the end of 1943.

Towards the end of November 1944 the Society was struck a very severe blow when Mr. Bilger suffered a stroke. Mrs. Chambers filled in very competently as acting director until November 1, 1945 when Evelyn O'Brien came to replace her.

Although unable to woork, Mr. Bilger's resignation was not received until October 9, 1945. At that time the Society gave him a pension of $75.00 a month in recognition for 30 years service.

From 1945 until the present staff was hired, there have been many changes in the Society, too numerous to mention. The present staff includes Dick Priestman, Local Director, Mrs. Stanley Chambers, John MacGregor, Peter Lauer and Mrs. Betty McCullagh.

On September 17, 1958, after a long struggle, the need for newer and bigger office accomodations was at last recognized and architect Arthur B. Scott was hired to prepare a set of plans for the new building.

The new offices are located on Broad Street, West, near Grandview Lodge and were built at a cost of $23,100.00, 25 per cent of which is to be paid for by the Provincial Government.

The building was designed to allow room for expansion and the Society expects that it will be adequate for many years to come.

WEDDING

EDWARDS — HAMPTON

Pink and white gladioli were used to decorate Westminster United Church, St. Catherines for the marriage of Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley F. Hampton St. Catherines, to Mr. Allen Roy Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Edwards, York, Ontario.

Rev. E. E. Ashley performed the ceremony and wedding music was supplied by Mr. Maurice Baker, organist and Miss Sandra Robinson, Midland.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length dress of lace and tulle. The lace bodice was fashioned with a mandarin collar and lily-point sleeves and lace appliques were used to accent the tulle skirt. A crown of lace and sequins held her tulle veil and she carried a spray of roses arranged on a white Bible.

Her maid of honour, Miss Elizabeth Leedham, Toronto, and her bridesmaids, Miss Patricia Hilts, Niagara Falls, Miss Jean Hampton and Miss Joan Hampton wore similar dresses of light blue brocaded taffeta in street length. A royal blue chiffon cummerbund with hem length ties accented the waist and the bodice featured a sabrina neckline and short sleeves. Huge chrysanthemums sprayed to match their dresses and headdresses were their flowers.

Miss Bonnie Edwards, flower girl wore yellow brocaded taffeta and carried the same Cosmopolitan mums sprayed yellow.

Groomsman was Mr. Donald Edwards and ushers were Mr. James Hampton, Mr. John Edwards and Mr. Norman Slaughter.

A reception in the church hall followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Edward left on their wedding trip. Mrs. Edwards wearing a blue wool sheath with matching accessories.

IN THE ORBIT OF OUR EYE!

By C. D. CLARKE

"I CAME ... I SAW ..."

As I write this column the record player is going in my daughter's room and a tepid voice is requesting the world (volume up high) to "Let Me Walk You Home".

In the front room the secretary-of-the-treasury (my wife) is watching the T.V. The boy is tied up in the dining-room with his home work and the dog is stationed on the floor midway between the living-room and the bed rooms. All in all, it's an average relaxing night in the household.

I wonder what sort of a day they have all had! Now I don't do this all the time. It just happens, right now, that I wonder what's been going on...so I'm going to ask and find out! Whoops! Wait I should have known better. I opened daughter's room and complained about the intensity of the character who wanted to "Let Me Walk You Home." The result is an emphatic opinion that "I don't know anything about modern music." I also got two resounding opinions, one from the front room and one from the dining-room, to the effect that, "If I can't let people do what they want to do I should go to bed!" In short, stop being a nuisance! The dog, fortunately for him, stayed right where he was on the floor. I think I could have handled him if he had expressed any opinion. But, now on mature reflection, I'm not so sure that his passive attitude didn't merit him being kicked out anyway. No telling what he was thinking. Maybe this idea of "being walked home" was right up his alley.

So this finds me right back at the type writer and, because I can't find out what's been going on in my place for the past twenty-four hours, I'll tell you about my past twenty-four hours.

When I went out to the car this morning the back tire was flat. Now the secretary-of-the treasury had told me she thought it was going flat when we drove in the night before. However I got over that problem by calling my son to fix the tire. (I'm getting a bit on the old side.) Then to work. A bit late!

Next, at work, a call from daughter to "remember to get a Birthday cake for the boy." His sevententh! A trip to the cake shop disclosed that they had moved their bakery some 7 miles away to another location. However a quick run out there got the cake ordered for me to pick up to-night. Incidentally it's not a birthday cake around our house unless it (the cake) is stuffed with cherries. Ask anyone one of those at the drop of a hat. Then back to the office to lay-out the lighting of a new Super-Market they are building in Preston. Got that fixed up. Then got the plans to the blue-printers. Next? Oh yes, they wanted a list of specifications for the city inspectors office on some office changes we are making and the health department had a crack at some plans I'd drawn for the lighting in a rest room! (What's that?)

And so the day ended and I got home. You'd think they'd all be glad to see me...even the dog! But then you see I'd forgotten the darned cake! So they wanted to know what I did all day with my time? Well I thought I'd ask them what they did with theirs.... so I went to my daughter's room after supper...but then that's where we started this sorry tale isn't it!

Darn it! Just to make things equitable I'm going to put the dog out no matter if he wants to go out or not. I'll show him.... (And I did.)

GARNET ADULT GROUP

The Garnet Adult Group sponsored an enjoyable Hallowe'en party on Friday evening when parents and children arrived in varied and amusing costumes for an evening of fun. Decorations of witches, owls, black cats and jack-o-lanterns made an ideal setting for the program of Hallowe'en songs, stunts, relays and contests under the direction of I. Phillips, V. Cherry and M. Harrop. With E. McMurchy at the piano the costumed guests paraded before the judges, D. Roulston, M. Parkinson and N. Roulston, who had no easy task in deciding the winners among so many attractive costumes. Winners of the various prizes were: Susie Warren, Terry Graham, Karen Ebert and Judy Anderson, for the pre-school children. In the next age group—Lynn Meehan, Ronnie Harrop, Bonnie and Brian McBride won prizes. Iona Meehan, Jack Phibbs, Mrs. R. Phibbs and Jim Ebert won prizes among the adults. Guessing the number of kernels on a cob of corn went to Helen Phibbs, and a contest with pumpkin seeds was won by B. McMurchy. Ruth McBride and Mr. R. Warren won a contest "Dress a Couple and Sing". The President, Gordon Cherry expressed the pleasure of the Adult group to all for coming out and making this party an enjoyable event. The next regular meeting is being held on Friday evening at the home of Ruth and Bill McBride at Nelles Corners. Refreshments were served to conclude the evening.
