The Christian Viewpoint

- By "Simon" -

THE SEASON OF LENT

Yesterday was Ash Wednesday and marked the beginning of the Lenten Season. During the next few days, christians everywhere will be observing the last forty days Christ's life on earth. It is a period of self-denial and penitence, and many it will mark a period of sacrifice and simplicity.

One often overhears a person remark that they are going to give up smoking, drinking or candies during Lent, others may moderate their usual diet.

To some, this may constitute a sacrifice, but for many the efforts received will be largely physical rather than spiritual. The true observance of this season demands more than denying oneself certain pleasures, it requires a definite commitment. Listen to the words of Christ himself ... "If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow Me."

Christ calls us to follow in His steps, to take up a cross, the cross of suffering His redemptive purposes and His evangelisation of the world. The word "Cross" is sometimes difficult to understand because today we use the term rather loosely. We speak of sickness or bereavement; a bad temper or a set-back in business, as a cross we have to bear, but these things are burdens, not a cross. They are things which come along and which have to be borne whether we like it or not. A cross is something which we ourselves freely accept. It is the taking up of a responsibility which we are under no compulsion to bear. It is the putting of our lives without reservation, at the disposal of Christ and His Kingdom.

Many people accuse christianity of being a negative way of life because it requires a man to abstain from certain practices and behaviour. This, however, is not the whole truth. It is true the christian is called upon to refrain from certain habits and practices, but he is also called to enjoy a nobler and higher way of life. Self denial is not merely a 'giving up' but the 'taking up' of a new way of life, a subordination of ones self to the will and purposes of his Lord.

The Lenten season therefore, can only be meaningful to us insofar as we maintain a close communion with God and discover what His will is for our lives, and having discovered it, to commit ourselves fully and freely to the fulfilling of that purpose.

ON THE FARM FRONT

Brief Notes for the Busy Farmer

By Haldimand Harry

Seven Haldimand breeders have listed in the Sale being held in Toronto this week. These include Hagan Brothers, Caledonia with two; Jarvis Stafford Farms, Jarvis, with six; Roy Burns, Caledonia, with 1; Edwin C. Parsons, Cayuga, with 4. All of the above are in the Shorthorn section. Ross M. Kohler and Son of Cayuga have one entry in the Aberdeen Angus section while Walker Farms, Jarvis and Walker Bailey and Sons, both of Canfield each have an entry in the Shorthorn section.

-oOo-

It would appear that the poultry marketing situation is endeavouring to "settle down". That is, if storage stocks on hand at the first of February are a true indication. In the first quarter of this year there were only 25,600 cases of eggs in storage at that date as compared with 118,000 a year ago. Much better than the situation held true for dressed poultry where the amount in storage this year was just about half as much as a year ago. Broilers in storage are cut in half and turkeys showed a reduction of just about one-third.

By the time this appears in print, Haldimand and the province will have completed a year's survey of the farm accident situation. Already some better starting information has come out of the effort and it is to be hoped at some sort of program will be inaugurated to cut down on the death and the time loss and the actual dollars.

During the first six months Ontario farmers lost 120 man years of working time, 144 lives and 5 ft. Mower; Cockshutt 3-Furrow Tractor Plow; 3 Sections Smoothing Harrows; Massey Harris Side Rake; Double Water Fountain for Hogs new; Forks, Shovels and many other articles too numerous to mention.

-oOo-

Haldimand county is one of ten in Ontario that has been asked to continue the survey for at least another year.

Part of the reason for this is that some sort of check is to show any improvement that may have taken place as a result of the information that is now available from the first survey. One other reason has been the splendid response that has been received from the "Accident Reporters" in Haldimand. There has been 100 per cent response in each of the quarters to date and it is expected that the same will hold for the fourth and last quarter of the year.

-oOo-

At the annual meeting of the Ontario Women's Association held in Simcoe last week, it was announced that the Haldimand Plowmen's Association had the largest number of members at its March meeting of any one in the province other than the International itself. The Haldimand Association also paid out the highest amount of cash prizes of the 1959 match. This is a remarkable record and shows the concern with interest to be found in farming in this county.

-oOo-

A solution of epsom salts or boracic acid bathed on a sore teat is one of the best treatments according to Toward Neely at the O.V.C. The problem is milking time and during this time of year and simple method has to be followed. The above treatment just takes the smarting softens the teat, increases circulation and tends to deaden the pain. To obtain best results the teat should be applied for 10 minutes with the solution as hot as the cow can comfortably stand.

-oOo-

Don't forget the special programs that have been arranged for next week during Haldimand's 15th Annual Farm and Home Week. There will be two days, Monday and Tuesday, and then a break of one day with the program being continued on Thursday and Friday. Each day will have its own special program complete in itself but it would be a good idea to plan to attend all four days to round out the whole program. All the speakers are specialists and fully qualified to discuss the topics assigned to them. Don't miss the panel discussions when many of the farmers of the county will tell of their experiences. The week starts with the Seed Fair and Hay Show on Monday along with the Crops and Soils Day program.

-oOo-

As intimated in this column a couple of weeks ago, the embargo on pork coming in from the United States has been lifted. This means that cheaper American pork can now be brought in to compete with the already over-supply on the Canadian Market. The problem is that American pork is selling at a lower price than Canadian and there is every possibility that Canadian hog prices will have to drop in order to compete. There is, of course, a very good reason for the removal of the embargo. The U.S. authorities removed the embargo on Canadian meats following the clean-up after the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease.

Word has been received that the turkey vote has failed. Less than half of the eligible producers—48.9 per cent to be exact—cast their ballots. There were 920 names on the final list for the province. The per cent in favour of the scheme was 53.2 per cent falling short of the required sixty-six and two-thirds per cent. It has been reported that 238 producers were in favour and 209 voted against.

-oOo-

It would appear from the results of the Soil Improvement Committee work in Haldimand County that nitrogen may be the key factor in the production of many of the crops grown. Indeed the results have been so spectacular that people are of the definite opinion that a break-through has taken place. With no failures during the past five years and demonstrations placed on 24 or 25 different farms during that period, it would seem that something has happened. Naturally, nitrogen alone will not produce the phenominal results. Other plant nutrients have to be present as well but it does look as though nitrogen has been the limiting factor.

-oOo-

The potato industry seems to have had a break-through too with the opening of the new plant in Ontario for the production of instant potato flakes. This revolutionary process went into production earlier this month and it should do much to assist in getting this healthy food product into the hands of the consuming public in larger quantities. The new plant has a capacity of 8,000 pounds per hour and the product can be purchased through many of the larger stores across the entire dominion.

-oOo-

Four counties in Ontario each produced more hogs last year than all the Maritime provinces combined. There were 11 counties in Ontario

Full Program Planned for Farm And Home Week

Haldimand People To Attend 15th Annual

A full week of special meetings has been planned for the 15th Annual Haldimand Farm and Home Week commencing on Monday next, March 7th, according to the announcement that has just been issued by the committee in charge.

The program will start on Monday with the 21st Seed Fair and Hay Show coinciding with the Crops and Soils Day. Entries for the fair will be received up to 9.45 in the morning and judging will commence at 10.00 o'clock. The afternoon program will include talks and demonstrations by experts well qualified to bring the latest information. There will also be a panel of local farmers discussing the latest methods of handling the forage crop.

The Junior program for the day will include the regular seed judging competition as well as a milk grading competition. The latter is new this year and is in keeping with the present day marketing of dairy products from Haldimand Farms. There are also the regular classes in the Seed Fair for Junior Farmers. Lunch will be available at the noon hour in the Home Economics Room with the Kohler W. I. in charge.

Tuesday has again been designated as Livestock Day and such speakers as Mr. R. H. Graham, Assistant Livestock Commissioner for Ontario and Prof. A. C. Robertson of the O.A.C. will be appearing on the program. Mr. Melvin Elgersma will also be telling about his experiences in irrigating pastures during the past summer. This program will be held in the afternoon.

Thursday will be Farm Equipment Day and the economics of farm equipment will be discussed by Mr. William Sutherland, Manager of the Massey-Ferguson Farms at Milliken. Mr. Keith Clarke will give an illustrated talk on Barn Cleaners and there will be another panel discussion with local farmers taking part. This latter will have to do with modern farm machinery and the family farm.

Friday has been set apart as Farm Organization and Marketing Day in view of the importance attached to the subject at the present time. Mr. Frank Perkin, Commissioner of Marketing for Ontario will appear on the program and there will be a third panel discussion by local farmers dealing with the subject.

Special programs for the ladies have been arranged for Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. These are being sponsored by the East and West Haldimand Women's Institutes. These sessions will take place in the Home Economics room. There will be special demonstrations and displays of interest to the ladies on both days.

The special Junior Farmer Program will take place on Thursday evening and the main subject will centre around the role of the Junior Farmer in a rural community. Lunch will be supplied at the close of this session.

Farm Safety will be featured with special displays and there will be a tractor safety demonstration on the platform in the Main Auditorium on Monday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. There will be a running commentary along with the demonstration. In addition to this, there will be a brief report on the survey that has been made in the province and which has just closed at the end of February.

Another feature of the week will be the motion pictures that will proceed each afternoon program. These will deal with a variety of timely topics. All programs will be open to the public. Printed programs are available giving full and complete details for each day. They can be secured from the office of the agricultural representative in Cayuga.

Eunice Hedges Chosen Queen At Hagersville High Formal

Past Noble Grands Meet

The Past Noble Grand's Club met at the home of Mrs. Wray Craddock on Thursday afternoon, with a very good attendance, despite the bad weather. The President opened the meeting with the singing of "Blest Be The Tie" and repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison, Mrs. Mary Dosser read the Scripture lesson; the minutes were read and adopted and the Treasurer's report showed a nice balance from our card party. It was voted to give $10.00 to the Collar Fund of the Lodge. Arrangements were made for a quilt to be made by the members, patterns cut, and all members are to bring their pattern made, to the next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Viola Smeltzer at 2 o'clock, on March 24th. Lunch committee to be Mrs. Bella Craddock and Mrs. Nellie Stallwood. Mystery prize was drawn by Mrs. Smeltzer. The meeting closed by singing 'The queen' Cards were enjoyed for an hour, then the hostess and her helpers served a dainty lunch.

Though our annual "At Home" Dance had to be postponed from last Friday to Monday night it was a complete success. The attendance was as large as the gym floor would accomodate and the Clubmen provided music suitable to a Formal Occasion.

Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Queen of the Dance, who had been elected by student ballot. Tom Lettner, President of the Students' Council, acting as Master of Ceremonies, called upon Miss Gail Vokes, last year's Queen, to officially perform the ceremony. Linda Macdonald and Carolyn Smith, runners-up in the election, were presented with roses; then Eunice Hedges, Queen for 1960, was called forward to receive her crown.

The gym was beautifully decorated in Mardi Gras setting with mooring lights and false ceiling of ticker-tape, the orchestra stand was a paddle-wheel steamboat and silhouettes by the riverside decorated one end of the gym. Miss Lauralee Laur was head of the decorating committee, and is to be commended for her excellent work.

The opening date is not definite as yet but we hope it will be this Saturday night in Ayr and back in Port Dover on Monday night. Keep your eyes and ears open for a definite date later on this week as this will be a series you won't want to miss. There is very keen rivalry between these two teams as they meet almost every year in the play-offs. We'll see you at the rink.

JARVIS BOWLING LEAGUE STANDING

The Firemen's Ball and Mother Nature played havoc with last week's bowling schedule in the Jarvis Bowling League. Wednesday night's games were postponed to Thursday night but owing to other commitments, Canada Bread bowled on Wednesday evening. Their opposition for last week, Craddock and Phibbs found themselves snowed in on Thursday evening and as yet have not had the opportunity to bowl their three games. However in the other two matches, Church's and Graham & Jamieson kept pace with one another as Church's downed Lundy & Henderson 7 to 0 and Graham & Jamieson defeated Marshall's by a similar score. Scores were low last week, only three six hundred triples being recorded. Doc Austin 639, Norm Graham 634 and Awde with 606. The following is the standing not including Canada Bread and Craddock & Phibbs.

|---|---|
| Church's | 72 |
| Graham & Jamieson | 71 |
| Canada Bread | 49 |
| Marshall Dairy | 47 |
| Craddock & Phibbs | 39½ |
| Lundy & Henderson | 27 |
