"THE OLD OWL"

MY DREAM

f you may have noticed I have been harping on lately, namely, buildings in the big city. I am afraid that my age has the one and only tune to sing and strings the other strings.

As I live in a small city I may ask what business is what goes on in my city. My answer is that we usually sees more clear. Also, the way in which cities develop vitally affect of us who live in towns or on farms.

My "concern" is pure selfishness. I think it has some effect on me, but I am afraid they are only Utopian for serious consideration. On the other hand, "where there is no vision the people perish", and if we are advances in social life, some someone's dreams, then, is my dream. Fascinated by these two first, large city areas need reconstruction and redevelopment. Second, a growing number of workers who, having lost their living by doing old trade tasks, have plenty of energy and energy left. Can bring this potential talent and this growing need of reconstruction together? That is, can this labour be used to reconstruct our town city areas? Of course the effects of automation are only just beginning to be felt and our down town areas are not too bad, yet. But I am sure they will be sooner or later and tell us that these cities are going to be more and more serious as time goes on that enforced leisure will increase; that slums, and near slums, will get worse and worse. So, the thing seems to be to reconstruct the other.

In anticipation of a purely city called "Monoronto" somewhere above that year 1974 the City Council of Monoronto decides to declare certain areas of the city as "reconstruction areas." These will be largely down town, but maybe some uptown too. It will then establish a "Reconstruction Authority" and will turn these areas over to this Authority for action. Some of the properties will be serious losses, but the City Council will have authority to pay much less than the market price. This rather ruthless and drastic measure will be justified because these properties, if left to deteriorate will be blots on the city and breeders of crime.

The Reconstruction Authority will take over these properties, and the whole reconstruction area, and draw up a master plan for the development of the area. This may involve the destruction of all the buildings and replacing them by parkland or some other entirely different type of building. The Authority will have the final say in such things but it will be guided by its primary purpose, which is to turn eyesores into beauty spots.

This will cost a small fortune if labour (and technical skill) is to be hired for the job. But the point is that manpower will not be hired. it will be given free. This will counter balance the expropriation of the properties at low prices. Both elements, property and manpower, will be giving something for the good of the city. The Authority will open recruiting offices where all who are willing to work will register and the Authority will then proceed to organize its available manpower to carry out its job, paying neither wages nor salaries.

I am sure that you will agree that this is a preposterous dream, but who can tell what the future will bring forth? Anyway, it is good to have a glimpse of what might be.

OBITUARY

MRS. ABBIE STEPHENSON JAMES

At the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carroll Lindsay, Nanticoke Mrs. Abbie Stephenson was called to her eternal home on Sunday, November 1, 1964 after a brief illness.

Born on the sixteenth of Peel Township, five miles from Arthur in Wellington County, in 1882, she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Stephenson to Arthur where she attended the Public and High Schools. She taught school in West Garafaxa and from 1904 to 1907 studied at Victoria College, Toronto. There she met, and at Alma, Ontario, married Rev W.E.S James, M. A., B.D., whose first charge was at Norval. They next served on Missionary fields at Red Deer, Alberta and Stoney Indian Reserve, West of Edmonton.

Returning to Ontario they ministered in the Hamilton Conference at Zion, Hornby, Rockwood, Bellwood, Ayr and Salford from which charge, owing to Mrs. James' health they moved to San Antonio, Texas, where they served on two charges and then returned to Arthur to care for their aged parents. After her father's death they moved to Toronto and later to Normandale and Simcoe where her husband died. Mrs. James then lived in Simcoe until recently when she went to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Lindsay at Nanticoke.

During their ministry together three members were born into their family, each of whom married and now have families of their own; Vir Norval, Professional Radio Engineer, Denver, Colorado; Joy Allan, now Mrs. Carroll Lindsay, B.A., Nanticoke, and Ray Stephenson, Dentist in Simcoe. Besides these three members of the family Mrs. James leaves seven grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and one brother, Rev. George I. Stephenson, B.A. of Willowdale.

Mrs. James, reared in a home where family worship was conducted daily and connected with the Arthur Methodist Church in which she took an active part besides serving many years in the Christian Ministry, had deep religious convictions and faith in God and the power of prayer. She was greatly interested in the spiritual life of her family and friends. To attend a prayer service or give a spiritual experience was always a joy and a blessing. She felt deeply the tragedy of war, poverty, selfishness and the suffering of men, women and children throughout the world.

Having a desire to express her deepest feelings and beliefs in poetic form she wrote a book of miscellaneous poems which her family and friends greatly treasure.

A brief poem is quoted below.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. E. Kent, Th. D., of Arthur in the Goulding Funeral Home on Wednesday, November 4th after which her body was laid to rest in Greenfield Cemetery.

'Living, loving, and sharing
Through pain, sorrow and joy,
This was life keeping
His love and gifts freely shared
To make our lives a love offering,
Our hearts a garden of prayer.'

This Week

Premier Robarts and his cabinet ended their three-day tour of Northern Ontario last week with a brief case-full of problems for the government officials.

Mr. Robarts said he regarded the trip to the Lakehead, Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury as "very worthwhile." He indicated that the ministers would next travel to Northeastern Ontario — the North Bay and Kirkland Lake areas — probably next year.

He told officials in Sudbury he would likely appoint a cabinet committee to study problems peculiar to Sudbury.

During the trip, Mr. Robarts and the cabinet heard briefs from local organizations and officials. But Sudbury claimed it had the worst financial problems of any community in Ont.

Due to rocky terrain, sewer and water costs were extremely high, Sudbury's brief said. During the last five years, the city had undertaken a $12,000,000 sewage program, but one-third still remained to be completed. Other public works projects had been put of through lack of money.

Medical Care Announced

While in Sudbury, Mr. Robarts said his government aimed at placing a medical care insurance plan for Ontario before the next session of the legislature, likely to start in January.

He said he could give no details of the plan until he had received the report of a provincial committee appointed to study a volunteer private-carrier plan favored by the province.

Dr. J. G. Hagey, chairman of the 14-member provincial committee, said in Toronto the report would likely be ready by the end of the year.

SOCIAL WELFARE IN THE COUNTY

On Tuesday afternoon an informal meeting was held in the Municipal Building to discuss the Welfare needs of this area. The principal speaker was Mr. Richard Priestman, Dunnville, who is the local Director of the Haldimand Children's Aid Society. He was introduced by the Rev. C. Taylor-Munro.

Mr. Priestman pointed out that the Children's Aid Society is the only organized welfare agency in the county and, because of this and also because children are usually involved, the Society is often called upon to give counselling and other services that are really outside its own field. The chief question before the meeting was whether there was need for another agency in this County or what else could be done. He asked those present to estimate the need in this area of the County.

A very helpful discussion followed in which nearly everyone took part. In this discussion the need for some form of Family Counselling was stressed, and it was pointed out that the clergy of the various churches are doing that now. The question of financing was mentioned but not discussed. One of those present brought up the question of good foster homes and was assured by Mr. Priestman that there was always a need for such homes.

It is hoped to arrange similar gatherings in other parts of the County.

Those present were: the local clergy, the Reverends F. Bayes, F. Kunnenburg, G. Taylor-Munro, W Straw; the two Reeves, Messrs. E. Craddock and E. Montague; the Municipal Clerks, Messrs. C. Cox and H. Krouse; Mrs. Johnson, Public Health Nurse; Mr. Brown, Principal of the Jarvis Public School; Mr. Ken Parkinson, Lions Club; the Rev. K. N. Brueton, Children's Aid Society and three ladies from the Christian Reformed Church, Mrs. Van-Eyck, Mrs. Kraay and Mrs. Schuringa.
