September 11, 1966

This morning we left Hope B. C. to make our way to Vancouver and whatever sights we could see there. The night before we had made our way from Princeton to Hope and we'll tell you it raised the hair on the nape of our neck over many of the miles between the two places Not insignificant was the fact that, this morning we read of an accident involving two young ladies traversing the same stretch of Highway. On one of the curves the young lady driver froze and landed at the bottom of the mountain. The funeral will be held in due time.

- - - - - -

The road from Hope to Vancouver is better. In fact it is one of the most modern highways in all Canada. It would have been nice except for the fact it was raining heavily, the first rain the fruit growers in the Okanagan Valley have experienced since July 6th. The Valley looks like it too. The Okanagan, the Niagara Peninsula and the Annapolis Valley in Nova Scotia are supposed to be the garden belts of Canada. This year the Okanagan comes a poor third.. Nevertheless the people from as far as Vancouver are out in the Valley buying fruit on a pick yourself basis.

- - - - - -

Vancouver is getting bigger all the time. Such places as Surrey, a suburb, is growing at an amazing rate. We stopped at Surrey to look up an old friend of one member of the party. It was Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jarc, who moved from Timmins, Ontario, to Surrey about three months ago. Mr. and Mrs. Jarc were good friends of Cameron Saunders, one of the party, and our appearance at their front door almost precipitated a heart attack. Mrs. Jarc could not believe a familiar face from so far away could possibly be ringing her doorbell. Needless to say the hospitality was overflowing. While they like their new home, which is contributing to the health of Mr. Jarc, they have not yet developed the friendships that were so dear to them during their thirty year stay in Timmins, Ontario.

- - - - - -

We experieced our first bad weather in Surrey, when the rain started to fall in typical B. C. fashion. It never let up as we went up Granville Ave. on our way to Stanley Park. Going through the park we saw the Redwods, the Vancouver Harbour and the City skyline. W didn't, however, have the courage to get out of the car in the deluge to see the aquarium or the zoo. Therefore we cannot tell you whether or not the penguins are still the dominating feature of the park area.

- - - - - -

Going south from Vancouver we headed for Bellingham, (State of Washington). After touring this town, which attracts so many Vancouverites in its shopping centres, we continued southward to a place called Everett. Everett is the site of the Scott Paper Company's operations The Company produces 140 tons of paper per day and has cutting rights on 230,000 acres of timber. The Company employs 1,800 people, earning more than 13 millions in wages. These are the things that make our society great and we're glad to have seen them. More next week.

CHURCH NOTES

WESLEY HAPPY DOUBLES VISIT TRAINING SCHOOL

There were approximately 12 couples from the Happy Doubles Club of Wesley United Church visited the Boys' Training School at the former Army Camp at Hagersville in the evening of October 5th.

During the first part of the tour we were shown the boys' workshop and school rooms. Next, we visited the dormiteries where the youngest boys were just ready for bed, an older group of boys were watching T.V and the oldest group doing their homework. Their surroundings were very neat and tidy and the boys well-behaved

Our guides informed us that they are anxious to get the boys interested in Community affairs. A soccer team has been formed, as well as two hockey teams, which will be entered into local competitions.

Our last stop was the dining hall, and over coffee and donuts, Molly Marr thanked our guides, and in turn, we were thanked for the interest we'd shown. We were informed that any group or groups would be most welcome to visit the School.

FIRM TO EXTEND PLANT OPERATIONS

Canada Wire and Cable Company Limited have announced the awarding of contracts for major extension to the Company's Magnet Wire Division plant at Simcoe, Ontario. This expansion, costing approximately 2¼ million dollars, will provide 55,000 square feet of additional manufacturing space and auxiliary services.

The Magnet Wire Division Plant at Simcoe, Ontario was opened in 1958 and further expanded in 1965. This latest expansion will result in the final consolidation at Simcoe of all phases of Magnet Wire production.

This plant, already the largest and most up to date in Canada, is being equipped with the modern machinery necessary to serve the Country's rapidly expanding electrical manufacturing industry.

Important announcement for electricians, air conditioning and refrigeration workers

The Apprenticeship and Tradesmen's Qualification Act, 1964 requires journeymen in the Electrical, and Air Conditioning and Refrigeration trades to obtain Certificates of Qualification by October 31st, 1966. The deadline has now been extended for six months to April 30th, 1967.

This extension does not affect the normal renewal periods for these trades which are: Electrical trade—January-February; Refrigeration & Air Conditioning—May-June. Tradesmen who have not already applied for their initial Certificates of Qualification should do so as soon as possible.

Applications should be forwarded to:

ONTARIO DEPARTMENT OF LABOUR,
INDUSTRIAL TRAINING BRANCH,
74 Victoria Street,
Toronto, Ontario.

Bell Canada gets them off to a flying start

Fast service before take-off — that's what Air Canada needed from Bell Canada. And in four years of planning, designing and engineering, Bell developed a custom-made communications system which now gives Air Canada the speed on the ground which matches their speed in the air.

A full description of this development would fill volumes — so here are just a few brief facts:

Centrex Plus (the technical name) was built by Bell in hand-in-hand co-operation with Air Canada's engineers to provide the fastest, most accurate ground communications system yet designed anywhere. It is the first of its kind in the world. It required original research and development work of the most advanced kind. Its special features were entirely engineered and built in Canada.

It brings communications to where they belong — ahead of their times.

Keeping ahead— one of the reasons why Bell Communications serve you so well.
