

A Radical Revolution.

A sale that will upset all methods of the past, an overthrow of storekeeping traditions, an abolition of all previous methods, the inauguration of a system that looks to the future and not to the past for facts to prove if the adventure be wise or foolish.

A Pound of Lead the Heavier.

A scientific paper recently offered a reward for the most correct answers to certain scientific problems. Among others was the old scientific "conundrum." Which weighs the more, a pound of feathers or a pound of lead? Of course, a pound is a pound is a pound, no matter of what substance, and when the simple or thoughtless person answers that a pound of lead is the heavier, everybody laughs. Charles Pitt, in answering this question, claims that the pound of lead would weigh the heavier because the feathers would be buoyed up by weight equal to the amount of air which they displace—just as cork is buoyed up in water. In future, therefore, we must refrain from laughing at the fool's answer, as practically it is correct. Of course, if weighed in a vacuum a pound of any two substances would weigh alike.

New York's Churches.

New York city has 1,600,000 inhabitants and 449 churches. The Episcopalians have 76 churches and chapels, the Catholics 73 churches, the Methodists 65, the Presbyterians 58, the Baptists 42, Reformed Dutch 23, and the Lutherans 20. Two-thirds of a century ago, before the city started on the rapid growth that has since continued, there were seventy-six churches of all denominations, of which the Catholics had two. One of these was the cathedral on Mott street, corner Prince street, and the other St. Peter's on Barclay street. The latter was the older, dating from 1786, while the former was not completed until 1815. Neither of the structures then standing exists to-day, both having been rebuilt. There were only three Catholic clergymen here then—Bishop Connolly and Fathers Power and Gorman. The largest increase, therefore, in church edifices in New York since 1823 is among the Catholics—from 2 to 73. The Jews then had one synagogue, the orthodox Portuguese, now on Nineteenth street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues. Originally it stood on what is known as Beaver street, but which was then called Mill street. Next to the Catholics the Hebrews have increased most largely, if buildings devoted to their religious rites are a criterion.

The Wilson Scales.

We would call attention to the advertisement of the Wilson scales. We seldom say anything in favor of articles advertised in this paper; but we cannot refrain from saying something in favor of the improved Wilson scales, because any person having anything to do with scales will acknowledge them as a true standard of correctness, and the largest concerns in the country are using them in preference to any other make. We would like every farmer to have one of them in his barn, and not take the word of the buyer every time he comes to town to sell his grain.
