

On the exhibition grounds a spacious marquee was erected by F. J. Fralick, the crotmer, who, through unique and persistent advertising, has come to be known far and wide as "The Wonderful Cheap Man." A splendid assortment of ready-made clothing is here exhibited, every garment being made on the premises, under Mr. Fralick's personal supervision. The clothing trade has undergone a complete revolution in recent years. At one time it was utterly impossible for men who are fastidious about the fit and make of their garments to obtain anything suitable in a ready-made clothing exsublishment, but, through the changes made in that business by men like Mr. Fralick, it is now a simple matter to get a suit or individual garment equal to ordered clothing in style and finish, and which will fit any well-proportioned, average sized gentleman just as well as if measure was taken. This applies to every description of fine cloth suitings, diagonals, Scotch and Canadian tweeds. Some very fine overcoats, shooting and pea jackets were exhibited as samples of what the firm can show in practically unlimited quantities at the store, 15 James street north. Mr. Fralick does not confine thimself, however, to the supplying of ready-made clothing exclusively. One of the best cutters in the city is employed by him to furnish those, who for any reason, may pefer to be measured for their garments, and gnarantees to please the most fastidious in style, fit and finish. Price is also a matter which is taken into consideration in this establishment, and patrons may rely on getting first class.

A STOVEPIPE JOKE.—Stovepipe jokes come in with the cold weather, but there is nothing remarkably jocular in the story told by Mrs. Gibson in a bill filled by her for a divorce in Chicago court. In it she declares she married Christopher Gibson at Uxbridge, Canada, in February 1883. During Christmas week of the following year Christopher tackled the frolicsome stovepipe. He got mad because one of the joints point blank refused to have anything to do with the rest of the pipe. He struggled with it until he was mad trying to jam it into another length, then turned around and slapped his wife in the mug, who no doubt had been rather boisterously enjoying the fun. Christopher then retired to rest. But next morning he was as mad as ever and threatened to kill his wife with a hatchet. She then left and now seeks a divorce.

The Wilson Scales.

We would call attention to the adver tisment of the Wilson scales. We seldom say anything in favor of articles advertised in this paper; but we cannot tefrain from saying something in favor of the improved Wilson scales, because any person having anything to do with scales will acknowledge them as a true standard of correctness, and the largest concerns in the country are using them in preference to any other make. Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most sure means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these Pills. Though prompt and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or

Massachusetts. "I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been in use in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."-

W. R. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas. "For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than upon anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia." - Capt. Mueller, Steamship Felicia, New York City.

"I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very effective, but safe and pleasant to take -qualities which must make them valued by the public." - Jules Hauel, Perfumer, Philadelphia, Pa.
