CURRENT TOPICS.

SIR DANIEL GOOCH, whose death announced by cable at Windsor, Eng., yesterday, for twenty-seven years filled the position of chief locomotive engineer to the Great Western Railway, and became Chairman of the Board of Directors of that company. He was one of the original shareholders of the Great Eastern steamship, was member of the House of Commons for Crickdale and a prominent Free-amount of mail matter distributed by the he intimates that, as an outsider, he is all postal authorities. In 1881, according to The Cardinal thinks the strike has done Mulhall, the number of pieces handled in harm. It has inflicted great suffering on the United States mails was 2,243,000,000. In 1888 is had increased to 3,576,100,000. In the same period Great Britain increased from 1.682.000.000 to 2,279,000,000 pieces. that it has permanently injured the port of In 1881 the number of pieces to the inhabitent in the United States was 45, in Great creased to 71 in the United States and to 36 in 1881 to 37 in 1888.

Who would imagine that the fiannsshirt so popular during last heated term with a large circle of gentlemen could incur the condemnation of any body of sides, saying: "I am bound to bear witmen? Yet it is classed alongside of the pestilential Chinaman by President Purl chase, of the Laundrymen's National Association, now in session in Buffalo. In his annual address Mr. Purchase said the general condition of the laundry business had not been good. During the past year every kind of business had suffered depression, but it was probably felt most by laundrymen. The use of what was known as the neglige or flannel shirt had contributed largely to this result, but its reign the speaker believed would be of short duration. If laundrymen would only have patience they would soon wear their custemary smiles, silk hats and probably diamonds. Speaking of Chinese competition, the President said: "Working by lamp-light morning and night, one Chinaman ordinarily did more work than three laundry girls, and, reversing the order of things, three Celestials did not est as much as one girl. It was safe to assert that of every $100 taken in by them not $10 was ever returned to circulation. They were a pestilential, vicious, non-American race, robbing honest labor as well as capital, and the association should keep the issue constantly in motion."

A GREAT reformation has taken place in prisons and prison management since the days when Howard, the philanthropist, was spending his time in effecting the amelioration of the lot of the prisoners in British jails, but still much has to be done ! in the interests of humanity to make the jails the reformatories they ought to be and having been assured, then came the diffithose detained therein as well as for their squarehment in breaking the laws. The Prisoners' Aid Association of Canada, supported by the church courts of the land and the press in general, is doing a good work in this connection. It has memorialized the Ontario Government to appoint a commission of competent gentlemen to collect information regarding prisons, reformatories, houses of correction, workhouses, sto., with a view to the adoption of the most approved methods of dealing with the criminal classes. It makes a demand for the classification of prisoners, so that old and hardened criminals be not allowed to herd with and contaminate the comparatively innocent, young and susceptible. Employment of prisoners is also favored as well as their education, and the organization of Prisoners' Aid Societies is also seked for. As already stated, the church courts have taken the matter up. The Bishop of Niagara, we learn, has appointed the following gentlemen a Committee on Prison Reform; Revs. T. Geoghegan, Canon Worrell, F. E. Howitt and Dr. Gaviller, Mr. H. McLaren and Mr. J. B. Mend.

THE Ontario Prohibitory Alliance will meet in Toronto on December 18th. Mean. time the Executive Committee has prepared an address which will be presented to the Alliance at its meeting. It suggests a number of amendments to the present the conduct of the representatives of the liquor law. Those proposed are that the dock companies. He says that they never number of licenses in rural districts be reduced to what has been shown possible in Toronto -two for the first thousand of the manifestly with the strike. The feeling population and one for each subsequent seemed to pervade all classes. The East thousand; that the applicant for a license End pawn-brokers would not charge must show that a majority of the neigh- interest on the goods left with them by the foring electors desire it to be issued; that strikers, and the East End landlords and it be made possible for municipalities to lodging house keepers refused rent as long secure local prohibition; that barroom as the strike lasted. Numbers of men drinking be abolished; that all public marched in the processions who were not houses be licensed, if only at a nominal dockers and had nothing to gain by the fee; that all bar coms be closed success of the strike. But it is evident that an early hour and on Satur- the strikers had on their side, not only the enforced on holidays; that steamboat the middle and upper classes as well. Not licenses be abolished; that the age of only did sailors, soldiers, policemen, fisherminors be raised to twenty-one; that all men, and the blind men of Southwark send tavern keepers be required to furnish their subscriptions, but checks were receivsecurity that they will keep the law; that ed from noblemen, clubmen, and clergymen. no person be allowed to go on more than "I remember," says Mr. Burns, "the one bond—an effort to stop brewers from half-sovereign which an officer of the putting up a number of dummy beer guards gave me in the park, with a halfseilers; that the licenses of persistent lawbreakers be cancelled; that no sub-letting upon to act against the strikers he would of bar-rooms by licensees be allowed; that give them blank cartridges." -New York adequate penalties be required for infrac. Times. tions of the law; that bar room screens and blinds be removed; that no liquor be sold to intemperate persons; that no appeal to the County Judge be allowed to convicted figuor sellers; that the police be empowered to arrest keepers and frequenters of unlicensed dens as they now deal with houses of ill fame; that liquor selling in unlicensed clubs be suppressed and that restrictive authority be given to Municipal Councils.

... Now, really, what was the most astonishing thing you saw in Paris, Mr. saked Miss Gusher, and without lessons. a moment's hesitation Seth answered, " My hotel bill."

-Chinook Indians have just slain their medicine man because his patients insisted on dying. Is it possible that there are occasional advantages in non-divilization?

-When a girl falls in love she stops say. ing her prayers, but after she is married she begins them again.

GREAT LONDON STRIKE.

Its History Told by Cardinal M John Burns.

The discussion of the great London strike by Cardinal Manning and the labor agitator, John Burns, has already been mentioned in the London Despatches. It forms the leading contribution to the October number of the New Review. Both writers, apparently by a coincidence, begin with a military allusion. "In truth," says Cardinal Manning, "a strike is like a battle. No one who was in it can give an account of it. Each man knows only the THE United States leads the world in the events on the spot where he stood." And the better able to form a just opinion of it. women and children, has brought ruin among the lesser tradesmen, and been a bar to the importation of food. He thinks London, which with difficulty now holds its own against Southampton, Cardiff, Liver-Britain 49; in 1888 the number had in- pool, Glasgow, and even against Antwerp and the French ports. And he hopes that 61 in Great Britain. In Germany the a result of the strike will be a registration number of pieces per capita increased from of laborers and an organization of labor. 29 in 1881 to 41 in 1888; in France from The effect of this organization will be to clear the docks of a great number of unskilled and indolent persons who year by year come into London. Cardinal Manning continues by remarking upon the selfrestraint which has been shown upon both ness not only to the self-command of the men but also to the measured language and caim courtesy of the employers. John Burns begins by remarking that he has been in the thick of the battle, and by admitting that he is therefore not an impartial witness. But he considers that he can speak with some authority as to what he has to say about his own part in the event. It was said a few weeks ago by a writer who knew Burns that Burns had told him that he expected to be hanged. He is evidently a courageous and energetic man, and has somewhat the tone of a fanatic. He meets the charge of secret conspiracy by showing how bold and open his instigations to the dockers have been for years. He had been for six years engaged in this work, making speeches to the men at dawn before his work and theirs had begun. "I myself with my wife, he says, "have frequently left home at 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning. winter and summer, tramped to the docks. made speeches at three different gates, and resurned to begin my day's work in the west end at 7 or 8 o'clock. These speeches were made sitting on walls or standing astride of palings. The success of the strike was due to the sympathy of the public. It was physically possible, because Burns and his asso had money enough to feed 250,000 people while the strike lasted. The various trade sent large contributions and promised more. The compositors sent £500 and the engineers £700. A gift of £25,000 came Australia. A sufficient supply of money of issuing tickets, presentable to the East End shopkeepers. By withholding money drunkenness was prevented. But they were greatly assisted by the good behavior of the people. "From first to last," says Mr. Burns, "no man asked me for money for beer. I have been in the thick of starving men with hundreds of pounds about me (they knowing it), and not a penny have I lost. I have sent men whom I did not know for change of a gold piece, and have never been cheated of a penny.

Mr. Burns sums up in a few words the results of the strike. The dockers struck because the directors of the dock companies refused to give them more than 5d an hour. This they considered poor wages, because the work was, in its nature, not continuous. The wages have now been advanced to 6d an hour. Three pence an hour more than the former rate is paid from 6 to 8 p.m., and 2d per hour after 8. Contract has been abolished, and with it the sweating system. He claims, also, that the benefits of the strike have been felt by other trades. The cartmen employed by the post-office have secured rises of from 1s to 4s a week Workers in the chemical manufactories along the Thames, engineering laborers and some two hundred London trades have gained a 10 per cent. advance on their old wages. As might be expected, Mr. Burns does not agree with Cardinal Manning as to

The sympathy of the general public was that Prohibition be workmen and the small shopkeepers, but uttered suggestion that if he were called

A Schoolboy Strike.

The strike of Scottish school boys which began in Hawick has spread to Glasgow, Govan, Grænock, Port Glasgow and other places in the west of Scotland, and also into Ayrshire and about Aberdeen. The boys have formed regular fabor-like would lose no time in reading it. parades, with banners and cries for strorter hours. The strike has also spread into England. The other day 100 malcontents paraded the streets of Barnet, demanding "abolition of the cane, less hours in school, less parsing and no home

The Political Mother Goose, O Tariff! O Tariff! O Tariff!" said I, Wherefore, oh, wherefore to

"To keep the prices way up in the sky-I'll take a tumble by-and-by."-Puck they are still in possession of their facultise trains 180 times.

WHITECHAPEL JACK.

Herald says: There is one man in London who knows more about "Jack the Ripper" than all the policemen and detectives in the metropolis. This gentleman, who possesses sufficient material and circumstantial evidence to hang ten "Jack the by the Prince of Wales to the Zoological Rippers," is in secret communication with Dr. Forbes Winslow. "Jack the Ripper" is known. He is known to the police, and he is known to several other persons. The died from the effects of his wound. Sen laster have supplied the former with full tence of death was not at the time passed descriptions of his personality, manners on the culprit; it was deferred, and only and habits, and at certain times there has quite recently selemnly proclaimed. "Rusactually been no doubts as to his whereabouts. The invisibility in which "Jack" is enveloped is gowing thinner, and to those who have followed his murderous move- shown to him after the above mentioned ments it is certain that Nemesis is closing outrage, and to have displayed on divers upon him, and that within a period that may be measured his capture and identity will be effected.

murder, but unfortunately every time he

on the murderer's track. He possesses tangible proof of identity, and is convinced that he could effect his arrest in a week. He means to act upon the cluesupplied to him, and he does not intend to call in the assistance of the police. Here is his remarkable story : A gentleman, whom he had previ-Ripper " lodged in this person's house. He knew that it was " Jack the Ripper" by putting two and two circumstances together. Suspicions were first aroused by the lodger coming home about 4 o'clock one morning. He had expected to find everybody in bed, and to be able to get to his room unobserved, To his surprise, his landlord, Dr. Winslow's wife, who was on a visit to some friends. The lodger was excited and incoherent in his talk. He said he had been having a rough time, that he had been assaulted, and had his watch stolen; and he gave the name of a police station where he had laid a complaint. Upon inquiries this story was found to be entirely devoid of foundation. He had made no complaint, and the police had no knowledge of a street disturbance. The man a shirt and underclothing were found hanging over chairs. They had been washed and had been put out to dry. He was in the habit of talking about the women of the street, and wrote "long rigmaroles" to the pelice purporting to come from "Jack the Ripper." He had a ward.

robe as extensive as a duke's. It included eight suits of clothes, eight pairs founded; but "Rustum" took no further of boots and eight hats. The man can notice of them, and continued his promenspeak several languages, and when he went out he always carried a black bag. He was next attempt to settle "Rustum" is postponed till after the director's return. apparently well off, and never wore the same hat on two successive occasions. When he left his lodgings a quantity of bows, feathers and flowers and other articles, which had belonged to the lower class of women, were found in his room. He also left behind him three pairs of boots and three pairs of goloshes, one of each of which is now in the possession of Dr. Winslow. The boots are ordinary leather " No." lace up boots, with thin soles. The goloshes have indiarubber bottoms and American cloth uppers, and are bespattered with blood. Upon this and other material a most important clue is thought to have been discovered. A Eulogy on Silk.

Silk is an agreeable and healthy article. Used in dress it retains the electricity of our bodies; in the drapery of our rooms and furniture covers it reflects the sunbeams, giving them a quicker brilliancy, and it heightens colors with a charming light. It possesses an element of cheerfulness, of which the dull service of wool and linen are destitute. It also promotes cleanliness, will not readily imbibe dirt, and does not harbor vermin as kindly as wool does. Its continually growing use by man, accordingly, is beneficial in many ways. Grace and beauty, even, owe something to silk. You cannot stiffen it like thick woollen or linen without destroying all its gloss and value. The more silk ribbons, therefore—the more silk kerchiefs and robes are used instead of linen and wool-the more graceful becomes the outthe use of linen would never have been invented during the more general employment of eilk. The fluttering of ribbon, the rustling and flowing skirts of silk, the silk kerchief loosely knotted round the neck, have materially contributed to make our customs more natural and pleasing to the eye -- Exchange.

Johnstown's Flood a Mere Gill,

The amount of water passing over Niagara Falls varies with the height of the river. Professor W. D. Gunning estimates the average amount at 18,000,000 cubic feet per minute. Allowing 621 pounds to the cubic foot, this would give a total of 562,500 tons per minute, or 25,312,500 tons in forty-five minutes, of which somewhat more than two-thirds passes over the Horseshoe Falls. Other estimates place the total amount passing over both falls as high as 100,000,000 tons per hour. In comparison, the flood at Johnstown was a gill.—Iron.

The Advantage of Being Literary. Scribbler-When is that review of my novel coming out, Scather ? Scather (professional critic)-Well, to tell the truth, I have not read it yet. Scribbler - Yet, when I brought the book to you, you assured me that you Scather-So I did. Well, I have lost no time in reading it yet.

Turn About is Fair Play. " I see that some of Henderson's clients are making very serious charges egainst

"Well, turn about is fair play. Henhim. derson's grown rich on his charges against

Though some of our colleges are very old, first-class coaches. He was put off from they are still in page still in

BILLING AN BEEPHANT.

Rider Haggard has told some marvellous stories, descriptive of the mixed pleasure and danger of hilling elephants in their The London edition of the New York wild state, but it seems from the story that comes from Berlin that it is quite a formidable undertaking to despatch one of the monsters, wish all the resources of civilization at command. "Rustum" is one of the two Indian elephants presented in 1881 Gardens at Berlin. The animal some few years ago ran his warder through the body with one of his tusks. The poor keeps tum" was, however, not condemned to the scaffold for this crime alone; he is said to have learned nothing from the clemency occasions since that time evident symptoms of a wicked and depraved nature. Moreover, his external appearance, A gentleman, living at Brixton, called as compared with that of his colupon Dr. Forbes Winslow several times to leagues in another part of the elephant give information anent a Whitechapel house, is declared to be anything but attractive, and to have brought discredit on called the doctor was out. The doctor is the establishment. Some gossips attributed this to the want of food-it being affirmed that he has had to live on almost starvation rations, besides having had his feet in irons since the commission of his foul crime. Be that as it may, the director of the Zoological Gardens, after long and deliberate consideration, and after having ously known, called upon him in reference consulted all the experts, sentenced to the Whitechapel murders. "Jack the "Rustum" to die by strangulation. The mode of his death had also been previously carefully considered. Some proposed that he should be shot; but this method was considered dangerous, lest the builet should not take immediate effect, or less the sports man's hand should tremble and miss the mark. Others preferred poisoning, and some suggested the electric current. All these propositions were rejected in favor of informant, had been kept up waiting for his a process of strangulation by a threequarter inch steel wire. Every precaution having been taken, the noose was let fall over the monster's head at what was supposed to be a favorable moment. This was when he passed out of his half-opened cage in order to sniff the morning air. No fewer than forty-two men were stationed in the vicinity to draw the noose tight. Whether it was that the dumb creature had a presentiment that these were his executioners ruthlessly bent on depriving him of light and life, or whether it was that the arrange ments were clumsily made, the main point is certain—namely, that "Rustum," soon as he felt the pressure of the wire, about them. His writing, in minute par- quietly made a slight movement in the ticulars, resembled that of the letters sent opposite direction and snapped the substance that was to strangle him as if it had been cotton thread. The executioners were discomfited; the chief officers were dumbade around his out-of-door enclosure. The

He Got a Negative.

Amateur photographer - I've got her negative, old man. Tripodde—I thought you told me she Amateur photographer—I asked her to year for his health. Mr. Way was 76 years wouldn't sit for her picture. sit with me through life, and she said of age.

Had Met Them.

Stranger (to bicycle rider)—Are you acquainted with the roads around here, my friend? Bicycle Rider (pointing to the scars on his face)—Yes, I've met them quite often. Charity, Sweet Charity.

"Madame, can't you give me something to eat; I haven't had a mouthful for two days. "Certainly, you poor creature. Take this piece of chewing gum. If treated kindly, it will last you four days."

Tough Old Wretch. Mrs. Oldboy-Oh, youneedn't talk, John.

You was bound to have me. You can't say that lever ran after you. Oldboy-Very true, Maria, and the rat trap never runs after the mouse, but it gathers him in all the same.

Revenged.

Returned Traveler - "I have often thought of that young Mr. Tease, and how he used to torment Miss Auburn about her strange, grotesque fachions originating in red hair. Did she ever get even with married him."

A Sweet Refrain. She (at the piano)—Listen!—how do you enjoy this refrain? He—Very much! The more you refrain the better I like it.

Correct.

Professor of Journalism-Mr. Smith, how would you answer an unanswerable argument in an opposition paper? Student-Call it a "yawp." - Cornell

-Princess Louise, who has joined Lord Lorne at the Duke of Argyll's shooting lodge in the Island of Mull, will proceed to Germany in the course of this month to visit Prince and Princess Louis of Battenberg at Jugenhelm, and the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh as Coburg.

Are you almost disgusted With life, little man? I will tell you a wonderful trick That will bring you contentment

If anything can,
Do something for somebody, quick;
Do something for somebody, quick. Though it rains like the rain Of the flood, little man, And the clouds are forbidding and thick,

You can make the sun shine In your soul, little man, Do something for somenody, quick; Do something for somebody, quick.

because industrial conditions should be -Alfred Senter, a Somerville, Mass. consest, into which so many and so they had a race down the street, and in so hunchback, has won a bee of $1,500 by beatnumericack, has won a new of $1,500 by cent-ing his way to San Francisco and back in may well be set aside and the question is alleged that Doherty is a wife-heater,

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

The Shah reached Teheran yesterday. Mr. P. T. Barnum has arrived in Eng.

Two inches of snow fell at Rat Portage on Friday night. Mr. Cyrus Bowers, a pioneer of Waterley ounty, died on Saturday. Kingsville, Essex county, will soon be applied with natural gas.

The Parnell Commission begins again on Thursday, and is likely to last about a The German steamer Marcs Brunn recently wrecked on the Red Sea, was looke by Arabs. Queen Victoria has sent a message condolence to King Carlos on the death his father. Three thousand of Lord Londonderry's miners at Silksworth colliery, Durham,

It is proposed to present Archbishop Cleary with $10,000 on the day when he receives the pallium. The Windsor Board of Health has decided to enforce the by law requiring every person in town to be vaccinated. Mr. Koechlin, the engineer of the Eiffel tower, proposes to construct a railway to the summit of the Jungfrau Mountain. The Sultan of Zanzibar has given a promise in writing that all children born in his dominion after Jan. 1st shall be free. The steamer Keepler, which left New York on Sunday, and which it was feared was lost, arrived at Baltimore on Friday

A general strike of the moulders in Pittsburg was to be inaugurated to day. They demand an advance of 10 per cent, in their

The Bazaar du Centre at Lemanse, France, was burned yesterday. The proprietor and three assistants were burned to

On Friday, as Windsor, Bishop Walsh resigned the mitre of the diocese of London in order to become Archbishop of Mrs. Agnes Hochstetter, one of the victims of the Mount Auburn incline plane accident Tuesday, died in Cincinnati

It is rumored that the Governor-General will return home from the Pacific Coast via San Francisco, Salt Lake City and as Chicago.

The cholera spectre is alarming Europe. The disease is advancing from Persia, and the only hope of checking it is on the Russian frontier.

The body of George W. McGuire, young lawyer, was taken from the Eric Canal in Rochester last night. He had jumped in about half an hour before.

Col. John English, clerk of the Straiford Division Court, and for many years colonel of the 26th Battalion, died in Stratford yesterday morning, in the 52nd year of his

Mr. J. F. Way, of Belleville, Crown tim-California, to which place he went last.

Eighty chiefs have recognized the authority of the Congo State and have promised to furnish men to assist in maintaining order and suppressing human sacrifices. The Sultan has ordered Chakir Pasha Governor of Crete, to disband and dismiss the battalions of his command, who recently mutinied because they were employed in road-making.

A Minneapolis despatch says: "August Dulmage, wanted by the Canadian Government for stealing $63,000," has been located in that city by P. A. Phelps, a newspaper man, of Rat Portage. Patrick Staley, who was tried before Judge Drew at Guelph on Friday and found guilty of stabbing Miss Ellis, of Garafraxa, was on Saturday sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary. Mr. E. V. Bodwell, formerly M. P. for South Oxford, and afterward Superintendent of the Welland Canal, died in Vancouver, B.C., on Friday night. He removed to the Pacific coast two years ago. Dr. Laflamme, of Lawrence, Mass., and Mr. Paradis, of Lowell, Mass., are in Quebec with a view to making arrangements with the Mercier Government for the repatriation of French-Canadians in the States.

The condition of Dr. Gaboury, Reeve of Belle River, Essex, who was injured in a runaway, has taken a change for the worse, and he is now lying in a critical state. He is well known throughout the country and is very popular.

Wm. Carey, a farmer, of Altamont, Ill., died on Friday night, it is supposed from the effects of poison placed in his well. His wife and child and Mrs. Durbin and her children are sick, and there is danger that some, if not all, will die.

The U. S. Secretary of State has been informed that the Lon Hoi, or Red River, of China, has been opened for trade, and that foreign goods imported by this route will be liable to only 70 per cent. of the regular coast import duties.

An unknown man on Friday night brutally murdered Conductor Brown, of the Houston & Texas Railway, because the conductor had put him off the train for refusing to pay his fare. Bloodhounds are on the murderer's track.

The Ontario Government has filled the vacancy in the professoriate of the University of Toronto by appointing to the joint chair of Metaphysics, Logic and Ethics Prof. Baldwin, of Princeton, and Mr. J. G.

Hume, of Toronto University. Edward Ashton, aged 16, the lad who received a fracture of the skull by falling If a man works 100 hours in 6 days he is off his wagon on Oct. 14th, at the corner of entitled to a seventh day of rest. He is Leslie and Queen streets, Toronto, died entilted to this much, not only because his yesterday morning about 5 o'clock in a body and mind demand the relaxation, but private ward at the General Hospital. The other night as James Doherty, of such as to enable him to earn a sufficient Brigden, was on his way home a number livelihood in six sevenths of a week. There of men seized him when opposite Lemon's is scriptural warrant, as well, for the day blacksmith shop, and proceeded to tie him of rest; but for purposes of the present with ropes. After getting him well tied contest, into which so many and so they had a race down the street, and in so