Notes for Cheese-Makers for July

By Jas. W. Robertson, Dairy Commissioner.
July cheese, like July butter, has a reputation for being the poorest of the summer. This year it should be exceptionally fine. The abundance of grass in June, with a too plentiful rain fall, will leave the pasture with richer herbage than usual. Suitable conditions for the production, preparation and preservation of the milk in a fit state for the manufacture of fine cheese can be continued by the patrons giving effect to these simple requirements:—
1. Cows need the owner's providential care in the following matters, viz:— (a) An abundant allowance of succulent or other feed; (b) Opportunity to drink pure water at least twice a day; (c) Access to salt every day; (d) Shade in the pasture fields from the weakening influence of July suns; (e) Regularity in milking; (f) Management and handling with continual kindness, and eye to profits.

2. Cows should be prevented from drinking impure water and should be protected against the attentions of all dogs.
3. (a) Milk should be strained immediately after it is drawn from the cow; (b) It should be aired by the use of an aerator or by clipping, pouring or stirring; (c) It should be cooled to the temperature of the atmosphere; (d) It should be protected from contamination by the foulness of impure air.
It will be of quick and durable advantage to direct the attention of all patrons to these matters by sending to each a concise, clear and courteous reminder of duty in connection therewith.
When the yield of milk by the cows begins to shrink, the temptation to make up the quantity in some other way is increased. The Act passed by the Dominion Parliament to provide against frauds in the supplying of milk to cheese, butter and condensed milk manufacturers is a piece of wholesome legislation.
It forbids the sending to any such factory (1) milk diluted with water, or (2) milk in any way adulterated, or (3) milk from which any cream has been taken, or (4) milk commonly known as skimmed milk, or (5) milk from which any portion of that part of the milk known as the curdings has been separated, or (6) any milk that is tainted or rancid curd. The penalty for each offence against the provisions of the Act upon conviction thereof before any justice or justices of the peace, is a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, and not less than five dollars, together with the costs of prosecution.
The fine when recovered shall be payable one-half to the informant or complainant, and the other half to the representative of the factory to which the milk was sent, to be distributed among the patrons in proportion to their respective interests in the product thereof.

A Matrimonial Train.

This is the way the Simcoe Canadian records a marriage which took place on an excursion train from Port Rowan to Niagara Falls which took place week before last: "As the coaches were standing on a bridge between Welland Junction and Marshfield—henceforth the bridge will be known as "Matrimony bridge"—Mr. Thomas E. Patridge and Miss Jennie Carr, both of the Township of Charlottetown, in the presence of the assembled passengers, pronounced the marriage vows, and were proclaimed man and wife by the worthy pastor. Then the bride and bridegroom were happy, the preacher was happy, conductor Algie was happy, the trainmen were happy, the passengers were happy, the peanut vendor was happy, the candy butcher was happy, the iron-horse was happy, and even the car-wheels were happy as they whirled homeward. WHY COUGH?

When you cough, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you. It is the best cough remedy. You see little children have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this wonderful preparation. No household with young children should be without it. Soreness of throat and hoarseness saved every year by its timely use.
Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."
"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 150 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Youker, Salem, N. J.
"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.
