The Wilson Scales.

We would call attention to the adver tisment of the Wilson scales. We when they give the city printer an seldom say anything in favor of articles advertised in this paper; but we cannot refrain from saying something in favor of the improved Wilson scales, because any person having anything to do with scales will acknowledge them as a true standard of correctness, and the largest concerns in the country are using them in preference to any other make. ### Saved by a Proof Reader.

In a certain Western newspaper office the gentleman whose business it is to record the fluctations of the live stock market sits across from the young man to whose lot it is to report wedding ceremonies. Both are graphic writers and enjoy that latitude of expression characteristic of Western journalism. Both use the same kind of paper and their perimanship is not

Not long ago the wedding reporter was suddenly called out of the office and left in the middle of the table several sheets of paper on which was a description of a fashionable wedding These sheets were gathered up by the live stock writer when he finished his TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS-Eight cts. report, and the two became mixed. This is what the jealous care of the proof-reader, later in the evening, saved from reaching the public eye:

"The church was elaborately decorated with holly and evergreen and the altar was hidden in a wealth of flowers. Out of the recesses rose rare tropical plants and from the ceiling hung 15 Western yeals, which at this time of the year are scarce and correspondingly dear at 6083c per pound. There was also an active demand for choice lumbs, and farmers east of the Mississippi river can profitably turn to sheep raising and take the bride, who wore a gown of white corded silk, a creation of Worth's with pearl ornaments.

"Then came the maid of honor, Miss Henrietta Blower of Chicago, wearing a dress of white tulle with diamond ornaments, and she was followed by a small bunch of Montana sheep, which bleated most piteously as they were driven on board and They do some very strange things shipped to the winter hotels in Bermuda the arms of her father, who is known to beir a striking resemblince to a Con-Although there is no reason for necticut ox weighing 1,875 pounds. prevalent in some parts of Spain will and the guests, who numbered about be brought across the Atlantic, the 200, were served with a sumptuous

Should Take out a License.

The Herald says the Georgetown Mercantile Association are urging their council to rigidly enforce the law regarding unlicensed pedlars, etc. This is one step that is regarded as essential to protect the mercantile interests of a town. Some people, or rather, individuals, make a living by driving a horse and cart through the country, selling a few things in every town and through the country. In this way they take considerable away from the houest merchant who pays his taxes, keeps a store, everyone of which helps to build up a town, and the pedlar walks right through with his old eart and takes money out of the town, for which the buyer could have got just as much at any of the stores, never paying a cent towards the public revenue West Middlesex-Hon. G. W. Ross, or beautifying the town. Our citizens and the residents of every municipality should discourage this way of dealing by refusing to purchase from the pedhers unless they show a license signed by the clerk of the municipality. North Perth-Dr. A. E. Ahrens, Councils should also see that every Chicago Limited Express, daily ... 8 18 am pedlar takes a license or gets his orders to "move on."

There are more than these pedlars Way freight, except Surday..... 10 15 am ho go through our town and take All trains run by Ninetieth Meridian, on who go through our town and take money out of it. There is the city printer who comes out and deals frequently with some of our merchants. These printers do not take out a license or do anything for the benefit of the town, but still these ever imposed upon merchants never think they are letting money go out of the town order. We would ask our merchants O. W. RUGGLES, J. G. LAVEN, to consider this matter a little and not only squeal when the shoe pinches, but let your money stay in town.-Oakville Star.
