The St. Thomas Journal says: Notwithstanding the bad condition of wheat in the spring, it has gained so rapidly with the continued heat and rain that many fields in Elgin never looked better while in other cases crops that were so poor in the spring as to promise no return will turn out a good average crop. There is so far no appearance of rust in this country.

Now that ice is so scarce, an old time wrinkle to keep butter cool in the hottest day will not come amiss to families whose ice would cost them more than they could afford to pay. Place the butter in a deep dish and cover it with a large earthen flower pot, inverted. If the apparatus is left in a shady window or cellar, the butter will keep as cool as desirable even in the hottest day.

The horse fly is on hand as merry as a best man at a wedding. The fly is an industrious insect. He works not in playing pranks upon the sheep without hair on his head. He slashes up and down the ruffled surface of his knowledge box, and makes him say more cuss words in one minute than he will think prayers in a month. The fly is the originator of profanity, and he keeps people in practice. Swear not at all, is a very good motto, but it is not much adhered to when the pestiferous fly is making periods all over your tongue and tickling you with what feels like a million legs.

Rumor.—Mr. John Stark, farmer, who lived near Chatham, was killed on Tuesday last. He was driving a horse rake, when the horse began to kick, throwing him off the seat in front of the rake and was dragged considerable distance, the teeth of the rake tearing him all to pieces. Mr. Stark was about sixty years of age, and leaves a wife and twelve children, the youngest being about fifteen years of age. He was a brother of Mr. James Stark, Onondaga Township, also a brother-in-law of Mr. George Murray, Reeve of the township. His wife is a sister of the Draper Brothers of this village. BURTON TROWELL.—Robert Bessy, a young man from Hamilton, was in this village on Wednesday last, and purchased some butter from Mr. Hugh Clark and Mr. Charles Richards, saying it was for his father, who keeps store in that city. He did not have any money, but said he would send it the next morning. Mr. Clark happened to be in the city the same day, and called on his father, who said it was a false representation his boy was making, as he was not buying for him, nor had been for some months. When Mr. Clark came home, a warrant was issued for his arrest, and Constable Young went to Hamilton the same night and got his man, who had disposed of his butter and was having a good time. He was taken before Judge Upper at Cayuga on Thursday, and got off on suspended sentence, by paying a part of the money down, the balance to be paid within thirty days.—Sachem.
