ELOPERS CAPTURED.

McCart Courted a Toronto Heiress But Stole His Friend's Wife.

LOCKED UP IN DETROIT.

A Detroit despatch says: Nine years ago Theo Pinkney, a well-to-do young man living in Toronto, was married to Miss Rmily Renicks, daughter of prominent and highly respected parents in Montreal. Pinkney was twenty one years of age, and his bride was a beautiful blonde of seventeen. The couple settled in Toronto, went out a good deal ir society, and lived happily. Pinkney was deeply is love with his wife, who appeared to fully return his affection. Three children, all boys, resulted from, and seemed to further bless, the union.

A year ago Wm. Arthur McCord, a cousin and old friend of Pinkney, came to Toronto from Quebec, and entered the law office of Ross, Cameron & McAndrew as a student. Young McCord was small in stature, with blonde hair and moustache. and rather insignificant in appearance. He was welcomed into the Pinkney household and was treated with every consideration. As his salary was very small Pinkney frequently advanced him money. Pinkney further took him to the theatre and introduced him to his many friends. In August last Pinkney, who is assistant manager of the Farmers' Loan & Savings Company, took a six weeks' vacation and went up the lakes, finally reaching Chicago. His wife, who had remained at home, wrote to him at Chicago, saying that possibly his mother had written to him. saving that she (Mrs. Pinkney) was too intimate with McCord. If he (Pinkney) thought they were too intimate she would leave the house. Pinkney was startled and puzzled by the letter. He cut his vacation short, hurried home, and found that his wife and McCord had been criminally intimate. However, he did not wish to have sensation over the matter, and told Mrs. Pinkney that for the sake of her family and the children she had borne him ne would do nothing if McCord would leave town. She should still live in the house and bring up the children as if nothing had happened. Mrs. Pinkney consented, and McCord apparently left town. A short time after he reappeared. Three weeks ago Mrs. Pinkney and Mc-Cord left Toronto together, taking a considerable quantity of baggage and about $100, which had been given to Mrs. Pinkney by her husband at different times. They came to Detroit and stopped at Rice's hotel as man and wife. A few days later they Pinkney, and when McCord and Mrs. Pinkwere accosted by the two Pinkneys and two police officers. There was quite a dramatic scene, Pinkney nearly losing control of himself in his rage.

The elopers were taken to the Central Station with their baggage. Pinkney said he did not wish to prosecute his wife for adultery, but wanted to prosecute McCord from Toronto. An examination of the Pinkney to make out a case, and the couple were locked up.

Later, accompanied by officers, McCord and Mrs. Pinkney went to Gies' hotel to get supper. They were met by the two Pink-

"You brute," said John Pinkney, addressing McCord, "do you know that when your mother heard of your villainy, she was so shocked that she now lies at the point of death?

McCord exhibited a great deal of anxiety at this and set up a piteous wail.

"Quit your blubbering," almost shouted Thos. Pinkey. "I can't stand any of your sentiment. Did you stop to think of your mother or me or any one else when you were betraying my friendship, when you were tearing my wife away from me?

Pinkney then decided to prosecute the couple for adultry. He says that McCord, while betraying his confidence, was courting a Toronto heiress, worth $250,000, with the spparent hope of winning her. He declines to name the young lady. He says that Mc-Cord and Mrs. Pinkney conspired to have Mrs Pinkney get all his (Pinkney's) property and then lo away with him. McCord claims that Pinkney was unfaithful to his wife, and that this had caused trouble between the couple.

How They are Defrauded.

A London cable says: Startling evidence has been laid before the Labor Commission in regard to the condition of the operatives in the textile trades in Lancashire and Yorkshire. Of the workers' scant wages, ranging from sixteen shillings weekly upward, a system of relentless fines absorbs a large percentage. It appears the manufacturers hold the rkers responsible for spoiled material. A sing to fine sometimes absorbs the whole week's pay, and any excess of fine over wages is carried forward until the whole fine is worked off. Truck abuses supposed to have been suppressed are still in active existence, and the Factory Acts are openly

A Pleasont Time.

Brooklyn Citizen: Mr. Willing-I called on Miss Mushae last evening. De Stuff—What did she have to say?
Mr. Willing—Oh, about as usual, her dog burked all the evening.

Food For Thought.

Philadelphia Press : It may be true that some are not as black as they are painted. and it is equally a fact that they are not as it was time to let her go. white as they are whitewashed.

Near Salem, Mass., on Wednesday Farmer Samuel Wilkinson, while in the woods counting ties with a gun in his hand, caught the hammer on a twig and the n was discharged, killing Mr. Wilkin-

OVER ONE MUNDEED MUST. Many Killed and Wounded by a Bull Fight

A Rome cable says : A terrible accident happened to-day in Castel-a-Mare, a city on the Bay of Naples. A large number of spectators had gathered to witness a series of bull fights, which were to take place in the arena of the circus at that place. While one of the contests was in progress and the people had been worked up to a high state it. Those seated on the wrecked spot had more do I feel the impossibility of doing no chance to make any attempt to escape. There was first a terrifying tremor and lurching of the structure, and then before even the prairies of the Northwest prove anyone had a chance to realize the danger themselves to be not so limitless as they there was a horrible grinding, tearing appear to those traversing their vast extent day after day, and one night, as we peep the terror-stricken people, and they could only utter a cry of alarm of the car, we find ourselves standscene of the greatest excitement and confu-sion ensued. Those of the spectators who guarded by three high purple peaks, known were uninjured, as soon as they could re-cover from their fright, hastened to render once more safe at home in the bosom of the whatever assistance was possible in rescuing mountains. Soon the heavy engine which the unfortunate people in the ruins. Those is to pant up the steep inclines in front of number of those who were bruised and cut side, and from end to end of our car, portion of the structure received a wound of some kind. When the large force of physicians who had been summoned had concluded their labors, it was learned that one hundred of the victims were seriously injured, and that in twenty cases it was feared that the wounds would have a fatal

WRECK OF THE ENTERPRISE.

Heroism of Female Convicts in the Work of Rescue.

A London cable says: Further particu- foliage shows itself blending with the deep lars received here this morning from browns and blueish green colors of the Calcutta say that when the storm waters foaming below. To appreciate burst the steamer Enterprise was scenery such as this frequent halts should caught unprepared, and was blown be made, and time should be allowed for with terrific speed on the shore. She dashed the eye and mind to drink in and realize upon the rocks lying opposite the female went to Fenton, Mich., where Pinkney and over her. The wreck was seen by a number McCord have a consin named Goodfellow, a of female convicts who were seeking shelter school teacher. Goodfellow had never seen from the fury of the gale, and they at once Mrs. Pinkney, and when McCord introduced started for the shore. Slowly they forced able from her as his wife the matter was taken with themselves against the storm, grasping rocks and say: out question. After a two-weeks' visit in and other things to prevent them from These are Thy glorious works, Parent of good, Almighty, Thine this universal frame, Almighty, Thine this universal frame, These, wondrous fair! Thyself, how wondrous fair! Thyself, how wondrous the eloping couple, and seemed to be by the thundering rush of the waters.

In the more remarkable when we reflect thuried journey that we have taken, and we have had but glimpses of the covered with a dense forest of enormous inexhaustable resources of this great countries. But if these little sketches have added the eloping couple, and seemed to be by the thundering rush of the waters. well posted on their movements. He came which at times swept high above their to Detroit, accompanied by his brother John heads, they formed a human life line, each woman grasping the other's hand. Then the ney stepped off the train this afternoon they bravest of the party rushed into the sea and grasped a struggling form seen twirling and twisting in the water, and, aided by her companions, dragged ashore one of the men who had been swept from the Enterprise. Again and again the women entered the water, and each time they returned with a we enjoyed immensely. It was at Banff, man, who, had it not been for their heroic aid, would surely have been drowned. Of for taking some of his (Pinkney's) property the 83 men comprising the officers and crew of the Enterprise only six were saved, and trunks showed enough articles belonging to all of these were dragged from the water by the female convicts. Every English officer and every English member of the crew of the Enterprise were lost.

A TORONTONIAN MURBERED.

Found Dead in a Tough Place, with 37

An Indianapolis despatch says: The dead body of a man with 37 stab wounds in the breast, side, head, and the body otherwise horribly mutilated, was found yesterday in the worst part of the city of Greencastle, about 40 miles from here. A party of tramps had been seen in the neighborhood the day before, and an empty car was discovered absolutely covered with blood. Last night a despatch from Terre Haute announced the capture there of a tramp named William O'Brien, who confessed that he was with the man who did the murder, but denied taking any part ature from 92 degs. to 90 degs. Some of in the deed. O'Brien says the dead man's name was Matt. Shea, of Toronto. He clean green-blue water bubbling into a Shea at Greencastle, and he also declared that Shea told him that certain leading Irishmen in this country would give a pile of money to see him (Shea) dead, as he knew too much about the Cronin murder which startled Chicago about two years ago. O'Brien claims that Shea, who was then in Toronto, was in communication with the Clan-na Gael. He says the men who murdered Shea had fallen in with them two days before in a Greencastle saloon, and he claimed to be perfectly ignorant of their names. They fought with Shea in the car where all were going to sleep, and he then ran out and hid himself in the stable, being afraid that they would kill him as well as Shea. Shea's body has been buried in the Greencastle potter's field.

Courtesy is Business Policy.

Albany Argus: She had risen several times to let a little man pass out between the acts. "I am sorry to disturb you, madam," he remarked apologetically, as he went out for the fourth time.

"Don't mention it," she replied. "I am happy to oblige you; my husband keeps the bar."

The Fatal Cup.

Puck: Mrs. Morris-So you have lost your new girt. Mrs. Benedict-Yes; when she broke Charlie's pet coffee cup and gave him a new one with "Love the Giver" on it, I thought

Washington Star: The prohibition party cannot logically expect to bring out " a full

About 8,500 women are employed in the sen's 14-year-old son, who accompanied his British Post-office, or one to every eight

TALKS WELL OF US.

Lady Aberdeen's Trip Through Canada With a Kodak Ended.

Canada is a Great Country and Has a Great of excitement by the struggle between the infuriated animal and its tormentors, the circular tiers of seats from which the spectators were viewing the sport become to the trip through which I have endeavored weakened, and a large section of the structure we give you of a specimen of a good road in these parts before the trip through which I have endeavored and a large section of the structure we give you of a specimen of a good road in these parts before the railway came, and then see the iron road cut through, or cut out of the sides of ture, containing 500 persons, suddenly felt myself inefficient in that capacity durollapsed and carried the people down with ing the earlier parts of our journey, still perpendicular cliffs, the workmen in some it. Those sected on the management and the procedure of the management and the people down with the people d when all were precipitated with a terrible crash to the ground below. Instantly a Rockies. In the conflicting light of lines, have had to be put up to protect the Western Conflicting light of lines, have had to be put up to protect the lines. buried in the debris, who had not been ren- us comes, and hooks us on, and all day buried in the debris, who had not been rendered unconscious, were shouting piteously long, as we clamber the snow-covered for help, but although the rescuers worked heroically, it required a considerable time heart of the Selkirks, along the Columbia before all the injured could be extricated by the Kicking-Horse Pass, and pass before all the injured could be extricated river, and the wild waters which sweep from the jumble of torn and splintered down the Kicking-Horse Pass, and pass to do so.

I could tell you much of the glimpses we can be commanded by Captain Hadworth Lamb-commanded by Captain Hadworth Lamb-commande number of those who were bruised and cut sate, and from end to end of our cast, and had bones broken or fractured. Nearly attempting, if not to photograph or sketch, and bruint some memory of the structure received a wound of the magnificent panorama unrolling itself are quite different to any other we had in its whiteness and brightness and the magnificent panorama unrolling itself are quite different to any other we had in its whiteness and brightness and is such a thing as being surfeited with fine trees which the Indiana make scenery, and it is a transgression against > peaks rearing themselves up in all their strength above us, and stretches of mountains changing in the varying light of to rich tones of yellow and red and purple, as we come nearer, and as the autumn what is before them. Solitude too, and irresistibly to nature's God, if you would be > nature to hurry, as we did, through these able from your heart to bow yourself down peakable! who sits above the To us invisible, or dimly seen In these Thy lowest works, yet these Declare Thy goodness beyond thought And power divine.

This year we hope to be able to stop at various places on this route, for a day at any rate, and perhaps then I shall be better fitted to be your guide on some future occasion.
The only halt we did make in these regions where the Government are forming a National Park, twenty-six miles long by ten broad, and where the C. P. R. have put up but there are a few principal streets common kinship, and that those thinking of a most comfortable hotel, 4,000 feet above where only stone or brick buildings may coming out to Canada to try their fortunes the sea, overlooking the Ben River. The hotel is about one and a half miles from being shown by the municipal authorities their utmost for the land of their adoption. the station. Our train arrived at the in matters of sanitation and drainage, There has been some disappointment this station about 1 a. m., and we shall not soon unlike some new towns, where such matters year at the increase of the population during forget the brisk drive in the bright, frosty have been left to chance; and even in the last decade being only half a million. air, over snow-besprinkled grounds, amidst these early days a Public Park has been set Still, all admit that the men settlers are of snow-covered mountains, with stars glim- aside with a circuit of ten miles, called a good stamp, and this, after all, is of far mering overhead. The hotel is a prettily-lafter the present Governor-General, the designed wooden building, capable of ac Stanley Park. commodating a hundred guests, and in the large entrance hall a huge log-fire, crackling away on an open hearth, bids welcome to weary travellers from East and ing my childhood at my father's home in West, whatever hour of the night Inverness-shire, He came out here three they may arrive. Well, we had what is termed in America "a lovely time" at Banff. The sun shone brilliantly, the he never went back, but sent for his family air was exhilirating, and we made the most of our one day. We walked, and we us, the peninsula on which Vancouver is sketched, and we kodaked—we visited the situated on either side of her beautiful harhot sulphur springs, which are much resorted to by invalids, and which boil out of the ground at different degrees of temperthese look most tempting to the bather, the said that he and three others were with large pool enclosed by high rocks, and the by the new magnificent steamships which rays of the sun glinting through the opening above. And in the afternoon Captain Harper, one of the inspectors of the Mounted Police, came round with his break and four-in-hand, and took us for a drive round the park, charioteering us most skilfully up and down the steep roads, winding of Japan sail proudly in after a nine days' round Tunnel Mountain, and showing us voyage from Yokohama.

many beautiful views. The time for departure came all too soon, and as we were standing near the station umbians a very delightful people. There is in the darkness, waiting for the arrival of a spirit of enterprise in the air which the train, I heard a familiar Aberdeenshire voice putting the question, "Do cess a certainty. This belief in the future you remember 'Titaboutie'?" "Remem- was rather amusingly illustrated by a huge her 'Titaboutie'! I should think we sign-board which we found stuck into the did! The voice belonged to a daughter of ground on the borders of a dense forest, one of Lord Aberdeen's Tarland tenants, and with no house in sight. The notice ran we found that she and her sister had both thus: come out to Canada. One was engaged at There is a tide in the affairs of men, the Ranff Sanatorium, the other was with Which, taken at its flood, leads on to fortune her brother on one of Sir John Lister-Kaye's farms, and both said they liked the country. It was a touch of home where we had least expected it, but it was by no means a solitary experience. Wherever we went, it seemed as if we met "oor ain folk," and these same folk seem generally to get "the guiding o't." That reflection should do more than fill our hearts with pride of old Scotland, it should bring home to those of us who are parents the additional responsibility of being parents of children who helong to a race who seem bound to rise to high position and influence wherever they may go, the world over. The thought that the destinies of countries far away may one day largely rest in our children's hands should fill us with a noble ambition for them, that they may be able to say with others who have gone before-We cross the prairie as of old The pilgrims crossed the sea,

To make the West, as they the East,
The homestead of the free. We go to plant her common schoo On distant prairie swells. And give the Sabbaths of the wilds The music of her bells.

Uphearing, like the ark of old,
The Bible in our van,
We go to test the truth of God,
Against the foes of man.

Undoubtedly Scotchmen have largely had to do with the making of Canada, and happily they have for the most part left their mark on her for good. We find their names much associated, too, with the making of this wonderful railway, by means of which cases having had to be lowered by ropes from above in order to get at their work. From side to side of rushing waters the train crosses on treatle bridges like that of which we give you an illustration, and finds its way along ledges of rock, twisting and turning in every direction on the brink of read great wooden erections, called snowthe road is scarcely, if ever, blocked, even one device and another, and by the exercise of constant, vigilant inspection, this railway, see all that could be seen. As it was, the though covering such an extent of country,

Indians spearing the salmon, of the China-ton, and so here, on the Pacific Ocean, I up in the trees, which the Indians make end bows of the ship, was like a drawing-for their dead. But I prefer to wait until I have seen more of all this, and will then burning in a grate, and comfortable chairs glorious scenes. All that remains now is a gladly give you a paper or two, exclusively and tables and ornaments, all looking as if remembrance of towering snow-capped on British Columbia, if you should wish it. on British Columbia, if you should wish it. we were ashore. Admiral Hotham gave a I will only ask you on this occasion to high character to British Columbia; he had come straight on to the cities of Vancouver been here for five months and this was only

At Vancouver we were most hospitably entertained by the Mayor, Mr. Oppenheimer, and his wife, and, in addition to this, the Scotch and Irish residents combined together to give us a most hearty of enjoyments, including an evening at Gevbe made, and time should be allowed for the average and time should be allowed for way we heard much of all that was doing in friend, Professor Henry Drummond, who the place, and of its wonderful growth had just arrived from Australia and Japan, what is before them. Solitude toe, and deep, unbroken stillness, are needed, if you would be in harmony with these surroundings; if you would have nature lead you up three months after the fire four Here then, amidst the roses and fragrant ings, if you would have nature lead you up hundred houses had been erected, and the progress has since been so rapid that you, with many regrets that out there is now a population of 13,000. This trip has come to an end. It is a is the more remarkable when we reflect hurried journey that we have taken, roots have to be removed, and the heavy Canada is, if it has increased your pride in wood and dead timber have to be cleared her, if it has kindled a desire to do what at an enormous expense before the land can may be in you power to build up its forbe utilized, yet a great part of this forest is tunes. I shall feel they have not been written already parcelled out into building blocks, in vain. The high moral and the religious and is selling at a high price. And where character of her present population, the the Douglas pine and the cedar flourished wise and true foundations that they are undisturbed but a few years ago, handsome laying for future development and prosstreets are now formed, lighted with elec- perity make one long that those remaining in tric light, and supplied with electric tram- the Old Country should thoroughly realize cars. Most of the buildings are of wood, how much reason they have to rejoice in our be erected. Great foresight is also

> We had the advantage of being shown some of the country round Vancouver by an old friend whom I had often seen duryears ago to see if this would be a good place for his sons, and liked it so much that to join him. As he pointed out to bor is bound to be built over and to become exceedingly valuable as the city develops necessity come, through its being the ter-Grant us. God, hearts that are large as our minus of the C. P. R., and commanding the heritage, shortest route to Japan, China and India, are now running. Just ten weeks ago, the advantage of this route over any other was demonstrated by the Japanese mails reaching Queenstown in twenty days from leaving Yokohama. You may imagine the pride of the Vancouver people at seeing the Empress

The atmosphere of hope and faith in the future of their country makes British Colcoupled to natural advantages, makes suc-

This is the tide of your life!! Invest in the city of the future, Steveston,

I wonder whether we shall find the city of Steveston an accomplished fact this year? We must tear ourselves away from Vancouver and its beautiful surroundings with regret, and embark in the "Islander" for the five hours crossing to Victoria, under Captain Hulden's care. See Mount Baker raising its head high above the sunset clouds, all in a golden glory, and seeming isolated far above all the rest of the common world below. And there, opposite, are the peaks of the famed Olympic Range, standing out a deep blue against the sky, only hidden here and there by a light mist curling about their sides. So we sail out of Vancouver, and the sunset fades into moonlight over delightful calm sea long before we reach Victoria, the beautiful capital of British more than 200 martyrs have lest their lives Columbia. Is it indeed Victoria and there. Vancouver Island where we have arrived? There are 1,125 characters in the twenty-Has not the "Islander" lost her way and four books that Charles Dickens wrote.

brought us by a short route back to England, and landed at Torquay? The rence has almost a touch of the ridiculous in it—the same scents, the same sort of greenness all round, the same sort of ferns and foliage and surroundings, and on that day, at any rate, the same moist feeling in the air, developing later on into a steady downpour. Then English voices and faces abound, and English customs predominate so largely that the illusion would be complete if we were not recalled to our whereabouts by the presence of the Chinese pigtail everywhere.

The residents of British Columbia would be hard put to it if it were not for these same Chinese. Domestic servants are very difficult to get, and even when obtained offen give themselves such airs that the mistresses are glad to return to the Chinaman, who will act as cook, housemaid, waiter, groem and gardener, all in one, without giving any trouble. Girls, however, who do come out, and are ready to work and do what they are told, get very high wages. Labor generally is very dear. An ordinary laborer the precipices below. On some parts of the will get 10s. to 12s. a day, and mechanics and masons get as much as 16s. to 20s. a.

We much regretted that the steady rain prevented us from seeing all the beauties of the place. But the Governor of British during heavy falls of snow. And, thus, by Columbia and Mrs. Nelson and Sir Joseph and Lady Trutch were ready to help us to Governor kindly drove us down to the magsun and cloud, from palest blues and greys before we part.

The palest blues and greys before we part.

The palest blues and greys before we part.

The palest blues and greys before we part. the pleasantest he had known in his nautical wanderings. It was sad that we should not have the opportunity of seeing the place to full advantage, but our brief stay was full ernment House, and here, too, we met our breezes of this favored Isle, I must leave should come with a hearty desire to do more importance than mere numbers. Strong in her sense of the future, she can afford to wait. As we sail down her rivers and lakes, and traverse her prairies, and climb her mountains, the poet Whittier's words haunt us—

I hear the tread of pioneers, Of nations yet to be.
The first low wash of waves where soon

Our eves may not see this consummation, but we may join our prayers to those of a Canadian poet, with whose words I will close: Canada! Maple-land! Land of great mountains!
Lake land and river land: Land 'twixt the Grant us Thy fear, that wk in humility, Fear that is revirent, not fear that is base; Grant to us righteousness, wisdom, prosperity, Peace—if unstained by disgrace.

Grant us Thy love, and the love of our country; Grant us Thy strength, for our strength's in Thy name: Shield us from danger, from every adversity, Shield us, O Father, from shame.

Last born of nations! The offspring of freedom! Heir to wide prairies, thick forests, red gold! God grant us wisdom to value our birthright, Courage to guard what we own.

Four Years Married.

Puck: "Blusher is the most bashful man I ever knew." "Well, how on earth did he ever come to get married? "He was too bashful to refuse."

Her Kubby's Teachings.

New York Weekly: Friend-Why do you get married so soon after the death of your Widow-My dear, if there was any one thing that my poor dead and gone husband insisted upon, in season and out, it was that I should never put off till to-morrow what I could do to-day.

The Man of the House.

Brooklyn Life: "Now that you have consented," said the happy young man, "I must see your papa."
"No," replied the radiant girl. "You mention it to mamma. What she says

In Africa there are 500 missionaries and 400,000 converts. An average of 25,000 a year become converted, and in five years

If you wish to male every one delig and whites; Beat them well up in And be sure you cho

Then take a pound o pound of curra
A pound of pounded peel besides;
Rub them all up wel wheaten flour, And let them stand t

Then tie the mixto the pot,

Some people like the fer it hot;

And though I don't plans I ought to I know it ought to be it weighs.

O, if I were Queen of Pope of Rome, I would have a Chri dined at home All the world should Next morning for m fried again.

HOW HE G

The Story of a Ma

a Smar " By Jove, Stain "Why, old man "No—by all the

of it." Such was the He had drifted pretty, and unden to perfection, and ease and grace o the highest Londo stamp peculiarly i So they met, valse after valse to lcoves and on talked in a manne soft murmurs, hal close to the shell Beyond taking her mother, he ha quaintance with called her-a m adopt). But one you take my me night? Her us early and gone ho Of course, he of the utmost courte his mind rather n the end of half ar fascinations left h But we must in due honors, as in Vi was, in the o older than her da inevitably so, as The one invariab was: "Two si This young lady allowed to contr

ing for a lady ce At a little distar mistake one for the light. Beneath that terior a keen and stantly at work. Her studies wer lived. The men our sphere suppl of scientific inve other people are the microscope a

So he found h beneath a lens strength. His and awkward amused his profe whatever. To t tormentor's evid tim, driven to summon all his this is what he He plied her attention he co was over he nev again. He atte found a word to transferred him became from the abject slave. Now, Lady V A husband is wholly ignored calculation by t kind. And fac Sir Hercules wa

shawled her wit

no heed to Ma

born thing. Our hero had were entirely fact. It is true cules in outwa that warrior die his daughter a chiefly at his society. He might be window in St. and 7, attired i cravat and buff Lady Vi real daughter. The this misguided or a son-in-law would be glad in life, and be herself to Sir I out her less and stant habit of resolved to bri while he, unc tinued to frisk meadow while wares. It fell out in He was to ca noon in order shaded and ch to Lady Vi, w its palms and Mabel was n ladyship prese and could not her room; so they would ha

gan to feel ne