

That Tired Feeling

Is a dangerous condition directly due to depleted or impure blood. It should not be allowed to continue, as in its debility the system is especially liable to serious attacks of illness. It is remarkable how beneficial Hood's Sarsaparilla is in this enervating state. Possessing just those elements which the system needs and readily seizes, this medicine purifies the blood, and imparts a feeling of strength and self-confidence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy for that weakness which prevails at change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I believe it is to the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla that I owe my present health. In the spring, I got so completely run down I could not eat or sleep, and all the dreaded diseases of life seemed to have a mortgage on my system. I was obliged to abandon my work, and after seeking medical treatment and spending over $50 for different preparations, I found myself no better. Then my wife persuaded me to try a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before the first bottle was gone I began to amend. I have now used two bottles and have gained 22 pounds. Can eat anything without it hurting me; my dyspepsia and biliousness have gone. I never felt better in my life." W. V. EULOWS, Lincoln, Ill.

Makes the Weak Strong

"Early last spring I was very much run down, had nervous headache, felt miserable and all that. I was very much benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla and recommend it." Mrs. J. M. TAYLOR, 1119 Euclid Ave., Cleveland, O.

"I was very much run down in health, had no strength and no inclination to do anything. I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and that tired feeling has left me, my appetite has returned, I am like a new man." CHAUNCEY, LATHAM, North Columbus, Ohio.

Country Roads.

With the heavy fall of rain that we generally have about this time, the country roads, especially the mud side-lines and concessions, are almost unfit for travel or for drawing heavy loads. This is the time of the year, too, when farmers have occasion to use the roads more than at any other time in order to market their produce. And unless frost should come in the winter marketing of produce has to be done on roads axle-deep in mud. There is no doubt that the wretched condition of country roads is a drawback to the prosperity of our farmers. And there is very little chance of improvement in such roads until a better system of making and repairing is adopted than the one now in vogue—the statute labor system. This is the way it works:—When the farmers have finished their spring plowing and planting, and just before haying they go out on a kind of picnic frolic on the road. They plow up the grass along the road and put the sods and muck from the ditches into the center of the road, and very carefully throw all the small stones up against the fences on either side. It is needless to say what the consequence of this is. When the weather is wet the roads are a foot deep with a heavy and adhesive mud; when it is dry, as it is apt to be in summer, the roads are ferlock deep in dust. It is useless to endeavor to have first-class roads under such a system, no matter how much labor is performed, for to have permanent and efficient roads there must be a solid foundation to build on. A great part of the statute labor is worse than thrown away, for in many cases the roads are made worse by this piling up in the centre sods, muck and sandy gravel. The statute labor system may have been suitable and met the wants of primitive road-making when the country was new, and every man could make an oxway who could cut down a tree and roll a log. But now the country has rapidly increased in wealth and population, and has made rapid advancement in everything except systematic road-building. The statute labor system is no more adapted to the wants of the country now than was the old ox team of the first settlers. Good roads are indispensable to progressive farming, and too much attention cannot be paid by municipalities to securing this end. There is barely any of the surrounding townships but in a few years could have permanent good roads by commencing the statute labor, and raising the amount in a tax, let the road building by contract, and have the work performed under the supervision of a competent engineer. —London Free Press.

Onions for Diphtheria.

Why don't they use onions! For goodness sake why don't they use onions! Where do they live? I will go up there to day and tell them to use onions! Such were the exclamations of our mother, says the editor of the Danvers Mirror, when we reported one day at dinner that a child of Mr. G. W. Dudley was dead and the whole family, including himself, alarmingly sick with diphtheria. Mother was moved to these earnest and interested expressions by a firm belief that she knows several lives saved by the use of onions in diphtheria, one of them being our sister. In these cases raw onions were placed in a bandage and beaten into a pulp, the cloths containing onions juice and all, being then bound about the throat and well up over the ears. In the cases noticed the result was almost magical, deadly pain yielding in a short time to sleepy comfort. The editor adds the wish that this remedy might have a wide enough trial to fully test its usefulness. —Scientific American.

Minard's Liniment for Rheumatism.

Canada in 1828.

(Toronto Empire)

A gentleman from Nanpess, who came across a venerable volume of the Kingston Gazette and Religious Advocate the other day, gave an Empire reporter a few figures he had collated from that paper. They were the census returns of 1828 just 63 years ago. The returns were made by the clerks of the peace to the government and presented to Parliament. At that time Upper Canada, which was divided into districts, had less than 200,000 population. The districts were Midland, Western London, Niagara, Home, Gore, Newcastle, Johnstown, Bathurst, Ottawa, and Eastern. The number of people in Toronto, then called town of York, was 2,255, and in York township there were 5,358. Whitby township boasted of 1,435 and Pickering of 1,042. In Scarborough there were 995 people, in Markham 245, Vaughan 1,135, Whitechurch 1,429, King 519 and Georgina 122. In the county of Simcoe there were 1,779, in the town of Guelph 453, and in Kingston 3,210. There were 10,260 in the county of Middlesex, 4,863 in Oxford, 17,546 in Lambton, 632 in Haldimand, 4,942 in Durham and the historic town of Niagara had 1,262. The Midland district, which then consisted of the counties of Frontenac, Lennox and Addington, Prince Edward and Hastings, had within its borders 30,960 people. One curious feature was that the population of the counties of Lennox and Addington and Frontenac were exactly the same—8,023.

You've no Idea

How nicely Hood's Sarsaparilla hits the needs of people who feel "all tired out" or "run down," from any cause. It seems to oil up the whole mechanism of the body so that all moves smoothly and work becomes a positive delight. Be sure to get Hood's.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver, rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

Dakota Immigrants.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—G. H. Campbell, general immigration agent, arrived to-day on business connected with the department of agriculture. He reports a large immigration during the season from the Dakotas and other western states into the Canadian Northwest. Fully 2,000 have already arrived and been satisfactorily settled. During the past three weeks thirty-seven car loads have arrived from South Dakota alone. Mr. Campbell is confident that the work has only begun, and that the present number will be largely increased in the spring, as those who have come are already enthusiastic immigration agents, and are giving effective aid in making known the superiority of the Canadian Northwest. He states that these immigrants are first-class practical farmers, who have a great advantage over European immigrants, from the fact that they already understand the peculiarities of western agriculture and are buying their stock, implements and farming utensils ready to commence work. In many instances after getting settled they have written back not only to friends, but to local papers urging their friends to follow.

Certificate of Merit.

DEAR SIR,—This is to certify that my husband had asthma for about eight years, combined with a bad cough, and that his lungs also were badly affected, so that he could not rest or work. I then got Hagar's Pectoral Balsam, which has greatly relieved him. After taking six or eight bottles it has entirely cured his cough, and done a great deal of good to his lungs. Mrs. MOSES COUCH, Apsley, Ont.

CRUEL TREATMENT OF A CHILD.—Elizabeth Leathern, of London township was arraigned before Squire Smith on Wednesday on a charge of beating and keeping in a filthy state a child about two years old which she had adopted from the city hospital when it was but a few months old. Mrs. Annie McDonald, who is a neighbor of the accused, testified that as she was passing her house once she heard "wicks" being delivered by the woman on the child. She could hear the cries seven lots away. This was the only time she had heard the accused punishing the child. The deputy crown attorney amended the charge to one of common assault and the magistrate reserved judgment.

ROBBERY OF $500.—John Hilliard Reilly, of Metcalfe, had been teaming grain to Appin and Walker's station for the last week, and on Tuesday evening was returning home a little after dark, when he was stopped on the road not far from Appin and robbed of $500, which he intended to bank in Strathroy on Wednesday. Mr. Reilly did not recognize the robbers, but says one was a large man, with a cape on his coat, and the other a small man, with an English accent. They rode on a buckboard. When they stopped Reilly they pulled him out of his wagon and demanded his money, saying he had sold a load of grain in Appin. He denied this, whereupon they struck him two heavy blows on the nose and cheek, cutting him badly. They then tore all his pockets open, and when they found the money drove away.

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years, and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beloit, Kan.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skillful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.
