

AN OPEN LETTER

To All Sufferers From Anaemia and Kindred Troubles.

Mr. Wm. Wilson, of Sarnia, Tells How He Regained Health After an Illness of Over Two Years.

Mr. William Wilson, who is well known to the citizens of Sarnia, Ont., writes: "It affords me much pleasure to be able to add my testimony to the great benefit that I have derived from your famous Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is now a little more than two years since I became afflicted with anaemia. During that time I have received almost continuous treatment from medical men of the highest rank in their profession, yet apparently deriving no benefit. Indeed I continued to grow worse until I became unable to walk. I came to the conclusion that I was deriving no benefit from the treatment and decided to give it up. It then was the question, what shall I try? Having read the testimony of so many who had suffered in a similar manner, and who had received great benefit from your Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I decided to give them a fair trial.

It is now about three months since I commenced to take your pills and to-day I feel almost completely restored. Two weeks after I began to take the pills I felt a decided improvement. Three months ago when I began to take your pills my flesh looked like wax, and my face, feet and legs were badly swollen. These conditions have all disappeared and to-day my color is natural and my blood vessels full of good rich blood. It will afford me pleasure to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any one suffering from anaemia or kindred ailments.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are praised amongst the highest in the land, as a strengthening and tonic medicine, whether for men, women or children. They are not like other medicines, nor can they be imitated, as is sometimes dishonestly pretended by dealers who offer substitutes. See that the package bears the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and in case of doubt send direct to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., which will supply the pills postpaid at 50c a box or $2.50 for six boxes. These pills cure all disorders which arise from impoverished blood, such as muscular weakness, loss of appetite, shortness of breath, pain in the back, nervous headache, early decay, all forms of female weakness, hysteria, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, rheumatism and sciatitis.

The Mamie "Taylor."

Washington is reveling in a new drink invented by a group of correspondents. It is called the "Mamie Taylor," although nobody seems to know why. This is the recipe: Squeeze a lime in a tall, thin glass; drop the lime in the glass; put in a handful of cracked ice; pour a good-sized hooter of Scotch whiskey over it; fill with ginger ale, stir and drink. The drink has superseded Scotch high-balls and all the rickies.—Washington correspondent, St. Louis Dispatch.

Diarrhoea Checked.

At this season of the year many persons are subject to this dread malady, but no one need suffer when such a helpful remedy as Polson's Nervine is to be had. A few drops taken in a teaspoonful of warm water once or twice a day will check it. For all stomach disorders, headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, etc., nothing can excel Nervine. Prompt, pleasant and efficient. Try it. Sold by all dealers. Send for a trial outfit of their guaranteed cure for catarrh and asthma.

Life-Saver Rewarded.

The Chairman and Board of Investigating Governors of the Royal Canadian Humane Association have unanimously awarded a medal to Mr. P. M. Liddell for promptitude and conspicuous bravery in saving Edwin Gully from drowning at Brockville, on Jan. 11th, 1900. Also a parchment certificate and courage in saving a child from drowning in July, 1899.

Painting Dresses.

One of our most wisely alert importers has hit upon a novel and valuable idea. As you know, these splendid imported pattern dresses are here to-day and sold to-morrow, and that's the end of them. But that is so no more—in this one instance at least—for the importer engaged a water colorist to catch and fix their fleeting beauty upon paper. So here they are, securely embalmed for the future reference of the firm, as well as customers who came too late to possess. If one or more of the best examples of each year are preserved how valuable and interesting a collection would the harvest of many years yield.

That weak, tired condition will soon change by the use of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. 50 doses 25 cents.

I want to help you to grow as beautiful as God meant you to be when He thought of you first.—Geo. MacDonald.

THE CAPABLE WOMAN.

What She Does is Done Without Fuss or Bother.

We hear so much of the capable woman that we have come to regard her with awe, without wholly understanding why we do so. "A capable woman" sounds cold and comforting somehow, even if we don't know just what kind of a woman she is and do not know where among our acquaintances to locate her.

I am not quite sure that I can throw a great deal of light upon that matter. I won't admit that I don't know a capable woman when I see one, but I am doubtful of being fully able to explain her. First of all, she belongs to no social class and is formed by no special training. If she is found among the highest ranks she will see no degradation in being useful, and if she needs the comforts of life she will seek them by means of her talents without a thought of the social consequences. That is the reason that trade has so far encroached upon the life of swiftness. If she is middle class she believes that hands were made to be used, and faithfully in the performance of her duties is the only course open to an honorable woman. If she comes from the lower class she accepts work as her salvation.

The capable woman is a good, all-round worker. There is no woman's work she cannot do, and do without fuss and bother, even while always active. She seems to have as many eyes as a fly, judging from results, yet her efforts are never obtrusive. If she has servants they respect her and would no more think of offering her rudeness than of taking possession of the drawing-room when their labors for the day were finished.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

Shopping in Scotland. It has been said that the Scottish dialect is peculiarly powerful in its use of vowels, and the following dialogue between a shopman and a customer has been given as a specimen. The conversation relates to a plaid hanging at the shop door: Customer—Inquiring the material?—Oo? (wool?) Shopman—Ay, oo (yes, of wool). Customer—Ay, oo? (all wool?) Shopman—Ay, oo? (yes, all wool). Customer—Ay, oo? (all same wool?) Shopman—Ay, ae oo (yes, all same wool).—Weekly Telegraph.

C. C. RICHARDS & CO.: Gentlemen.—Last November my child struck a nail in his knee causing inflammation so severe that I was advised to take him to Montreal and have the limb amputated to save his life. A neighbor advised us to try MINARD'S LINIMENT, which we did, and within three days my child was all right, and I feel so grateful that I send you this testimonial, that my experience may be of benefit to others.

Lighten Footman's Load.

A reform which is being pushed in England is intended to lighten the burdens of the footman. The people who write are earnestly requested to use light weight paper and never two sheets where one would be sufficient. The promoters of the reform have some formidable figures to illustrate what the total reduction in weight would be if the suggestions were carried out.

If the child is restless at night, has coated tongue, sallow complexion, a dose of Miller's Worm Powders is what is required; pleasant, harmless.

CORNS CORNS WARTS.

An Absolutely Safe and Painless Remedy.

Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor.

Everybody speaks well of "Putnam's Extractor." It is painless and prompt, and is positively the only remedy for removing corns and warts that does all that is claimed for it. When the ordinary corn remedies are used the sufferer is obliged to lay up for several days, perhaps for a week, with Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor such is not the case.

"Putnam's" can be applied at night before retiring, and you rise in the morning without the slightest pain or discomfort about the sore part. About three applications, perfectly painless, are sufficient to bring the offender out by the roots. If you have often used corn remedies without success you will not be disappointed if you use "Putnam's." Try it. Sold by all dealers in medicine, or sent by mail for 50c by N. C. It was deliberately planned and executed in cold blood. They were talking of summer vacation plans, and she wanted to know if he could afford a certain trip on which she had set her heart. "Well, I don't know," he replied. "She isn't very plentiful now." "She?" exclaimed his wife. "What do you mean by 'she'?" "Why, money, of course," he answered, apparently astonished at the question.

"And why do you use the feminine pronoun in speaking of money?" she demanded. "If anything, he seemed more surprised than before. 'Money talks, doesn't it?' he asked.—Chicago Post.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is a new system of treatment. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution. Testator Making Use of His Will

A recent will taken into court in an eastern city contains large bequests, but the estate is not believed to be worth a dollar. The lawyer who drew up the will says the testator was one of the quietest men I ever saw. I had to write that will four times before I got every word to suit him. My own life was that he was so quiet, he was afraid of his will, by the way, is mentioned in the will for a bequest, and who had been helping him right along financially. I think he wanted to get more money.

Knew the Photograph?

A Post-office was opened in a growing town in Australia, and on the first day a man entered it in order to cash a Post-office order. The new postmaster, puffed up with dignity of his office, examined the order, and said: "Yes, you've signed it. J. Brown?" "But how am I to know you are J. Brown?" The man produced his handkerchief, "Look," he said, "my name's marked in the corner." "Pshaw," grunted the other, "you probably stole it." "Here it is again on my shirt." "Probably stole that, too." The man was in despair. He knew no one in the town, and had no more money. Then a brilliant idea struck him. He put his hand in his pocket, and produced a photograph. "Look here," he said, "there's my portrait." The postmaster examined it carefully. "Quite right," he said, and handed him the money.

That which is called liberality is frequently nothing more than the vanity of giving, of which we are more fond than of the thing given.—Rochester.

WEATHER THE GREATEST ONES

The Most Probable Possession of Wealth.

Every girl has a desire to be at least pleasant looking. She may not long to be a great beauty, indeed she may be satisfied with what is known as an agreeable face, but she can achieve nothing unless she possesses one jewel—the jewel that endows her with charm, grace and loveliness—the jewel that is called good health. The girl of the last generation—she of the chignon and crinoline, of tiny waists, of narrow shoulders, and, worst of all, of the head piled with false hair—is a thing of the past. In Hawaii they have a proverb: "If strong be the frame of the mother, her sons will make laws for the nations," and surely every girl can understand as she looks into that future wherein she hopes to be wife and mother how necessary it is for her to have the greatest of all blessings, good health.

The girl who is dyspeptic, bilious and nervous, with her stomach continually fermenting, is not the girl to succeed in any position in life. It is impossible with a spitting headache to manage a set of books correctly, and if a back aches so that it feels as if composed of a thousand shrieking nerves, is it probable that a girl can work or even enjoy herself? Copying the words of the folios of England we have also copied one of her virtues—the cultivation of good health. As a result the girl of to-day, especially the girl of good breeding, is upright, well formed, has a finely poised head, while round and about her is a suggestion of physical perfection. A few sports are kept from the English maiden. She begins by swinging the croquet mallet, soon learns to play tennis, controls the golf stick and rides well, but, best of all, she can walk well, and holds herself erect, whether she sit or stand.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

New vigor and energy are soon attained by the use of Miller's Compound Iron Pills. 50 doses 25 cents.

Weak Lungs

When your throat and lungs are perfectly healthy you needn't worry about the germs of consumption. They don't attack healthy people. It's the weak, debilitated, inflamed membranes that are first affected. Hard coughs and colds weaken your throat and lungs and make consumption more easy.

If your lungs are weak

is the best remedy you can take. It soothes and heals and gives tone and strength to these delicate membranes. In this way you can prevent consumption. And you can cure it also if you haven't had it too long. Keep taking it until your lungs are strong and your weight restored.

At all druggists, get and take SCOTT'S EMULSION, Chemist, Toronto.
