

RENEWED VIGOR

Brought About Through the
Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Peter Beamer Tells How These Pills Released Her From Years of Neuralgic Pains After Doctors and Other Medicines Had Failed.

Among the best known and most respected residents of the township of Gainsboro, Lincoln county, Ont., are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Beamer. For a long time Mrs. Beamer was the victim of a complication of diseases, which made her life one of almost constant misery, and from which she nearly despaired of obtaining relief. To a reporter who recently interviewed her, Mrs. Beamer gave the following particulars of her illness, and ultimate cure: "For some nine years I was troubled with a pain in the back, and neuralgia, which caused me unspeakable misery. The pain in my back was so bad that whether sitting or lying down, I suffered more or less torture. My appetite left me, and I suffered from headaches accompanied by attacks of dizziness that left me at times too weak to walk. My nervous system was badly shattered, so that the slightest noise would startle me, and my sleep at night was broken by sheer exhaustion. I was under the care of three different doctors at various times, but did not succeed in getting more than the merest temporary relief. I also used several advertised medicines, but with no better results. I was finally urged to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and got half a dozen boxes. In the course of a few weeks I noted considerable improvement, and, as a consequence, I gladly continued the use of the pills for several months, with the result that every symptom of the malady left me, and I was able to do my household work without the least trouble. As several years have passed since I have used the pills, I feel safe in saying that the cure is permanent, and the result also verifies the claim that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure when other medicine fails." The reporter can only add that Mrs. Beamer's present condition indicates a state of perfect health, and speaks louder than mere words can do, the benefit these pills have been to her.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have restored more weak and ailing women and girls to robust health than any other medicine ever discovered, which in part accounts for their popularity throughout the world. These pills are sold by all dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Filling on the Agony.

Providence evidently is determined to spare the unfortunate British no pang. Mr. Alfred Austin has already ground out in elegiac verse seven and a half yards long, and is obviously bent upon repeating the dose if he is not stopped. If Edward VII. doesn't want to see a popular uprising before his reign is fairly begun, he will consign Mr. Austin to the Tower and keep him there. There are some indications which even devoted loyalty will not endure.—Chicago Chronicle.

Grand Trunk at Buffalo.

An official of the Grand Trunk Railway, who has been at Buffalo for the last few days, has returned to Montreal after having secured space for the railway's exhibit at the Pan-American Exposition. The space secured is one of the most prominent on the grounds, covering nearly 4,000 feet of the walls and 600 square feet on the floor of the machinery and transportation building, which is said to be one of the finest architectural creations on the grounds, and is completed and ready for the installation of exhibits. It is the intention of the Grand Trunk to make a display such as the company has not yet installed in any exhibition, and this will comprise a large selection of its choicest photographic gems, including a number that were awarded the gold medal at the Paris International Exposition of 1900. Canada will be represented by numerous typical scenes of the resorts which are reached by the Grand Trunk, and it is expected that as a result of this the influx of tourists during the season of 1901 into Canada will be something phenomenal. The building in which the Grand Trunk exhibit is to be placed is situated in a central location on what is known as "The Mall," reached by the Amherst street gate. While at Buffalo the Grand Trunk representative made a careful inspection of the entire grounds, and reports that the management of the Exposition is making favorable progress with the buildings. May 1st, he said, will see the opening of one of the finest exhibitions that have ever been held in America, which, though not quite as extensive as the World's Fair, will exceed in quality anything that has ever been held on the western hemisphere.

NEW TIME SYSTEM URGED.

Twentieth Century May See a
Big Change in Calendar.

DAY IS TO BEGIN AT MIDNIGHT.

The new century will bring about many changes, but perhaps none of such every-day importance as the proposed new method of time-keeping. One of the most practical results will be to correct all over the world. At present each day is spread over forty-eight (and in some instances fifty-five) hours in different places. With the new system it will have its beginning and end within twenty-four hours all over the globe. The hours on our watches and clocks, too, will run from 1 to 24. It would seem odd for a while to order theatre carriages at 22.30 in place of 10.30.

The waggish reply, "A quarter past 13," made by the policeman in the "Bab Ballads," will become the correct way of indicating "a quarter past 1." But, after all, this will only be an enlargement of what was actually begun as far back as 1886, when the time for all through trains on the Canadian Pacific Railroad was first reckoned in hours running from 1 to 24.

The fixing of a universal prime meridian will do away with the ambiguity which, as railways and telegraphs become multiplied, lead to such confusing complications in social and commercial affairs, to errors in chronology, to litigation in connection with succession to property, insurance matters, contracts, etc. The present variations of time are readily demonstrated by selecting points in four regions about thirty degrees apart—for instance, Japan, Arabia, Newfoundland and Alaska. On Sunday at midnight in Japan it is noon in Newfoundland.

Variation of time forms the pivotal point of the play "Around the World in Eighty Days," in which the traveler who wagers at his London Club that he could go around the world and be back at the club in eighty days so nearly lost his bet. He had forgotten this difference of a day and thought that he had completed his journey twenty-four hours too late.

Does anyone ask, "What is going to straighten this out and bring about order out of existing chaos?" The answer is by simply putting into operation the results of the deliberations of the international meridian conference, which met in Washington at the invitation of President Arthur in October, 1884, expressly to establish a prime meridian and a universal day.

The following resolution was adopted by Congress: "This universal day is to be a mean solar day, to begin for all the world at the moment of mean midnight of the initial meridian, coinciding with the beginning of the civil day and date of that meridian and is to be counted from zero up to twenty-four hours."

"The conference expresses the hope that as soon as practicable the astronomical and nautical days will be arranged everywhere to begin at mean midnight."

"The conference expresses the hope that the technical studies designed to regulate and extend the application of the decimal system, the division of angular space and of time shall be resumed, so as to limit of the extension of this application to all cases in which it presents real advantages."

Coming down to our own day, what else is the sand glass, which a few years ago was in common use in kitchens to show the cook when the eggs were boiled. And is not the modern clock based on the same principles? In the clepsydra the water in the motor; the perforation, the escapement; while the sinking of the shell or bowl is the index of the completion of a definite period.

A curious use of the clepsydra in Greece was for limiting the length of speeches in the courts. In important cases additional amount of time was allowed and each side was permitted fifty gallons of water, necessitating the use of unusually large amphorae. When a speaker was interrupted to save the time being charged against him he would order the official to "stop the water." This practice might be revived with profit.

The system of timekeeping in Rome divided the day and night into four watches, which were determined roughly by observing the courses of the sun and stars. Noon was announced publicly by an official, who, from the senate, watched for the appearance of the sun at a certain point. Among the Montagnards Indians a crude form of sun dial is used in hunting, to let the squaws, who follow their lords and masters, know whether they may take it easy or hurry up, for they might fare badly if they lagged behind when their husbands were ready for supper. And so the men when hunting erect in the snow a stick at some well-known place and draw the exact line of the stick's shadow in the snow before going on.—Chicago Chronicle.

The Proper Treatment for Catarrh.

Is a remedy that is sure to reach all affected parts. That remedy is CATARRHOZONE, which is inhaled along with the air you breathe, and permeates the most minute air cells in the lungs, all parts of the nasal passages and bronchial tubes. It stimulates the mucous membrane to healthy action, and relieves local congestion of these parts. When deficient it restrains the secretion and retards it when excessive. In both instances its action is to destroy the germs which excite these conditions, and to cure by its inherent healing properties.

CATARRHOZONE is pleasant, safe, and painless to use, being simply natural and healing properties of the pine woods, fortified by other germicidal ingredients. It is not a mind cure, but the most rational of remedies. It is the latest product of the extensive and thorough investigation carried on by the scientific world into the relation of disease to microbic life, and a trial will establish its value.

The scores of hopeless cases pronounced incurable by specialists, and the numbers of suffering men and women in all parts of America that CATARRHOZONE has permanently cured of chronic and troublesome catarrh, gives it a place among the scientific discoveries of the age. CATARRHOZONE shows a record unapproached by any other remedy for the greatest number of perfect cures. CATARRHOZONE is capable of doing for you what it has done for others. You may have the seeds of what will develop into an incurable disease if not properly treated. Catarrh is such a gradual thing; so relentless, that at the end of years we awaken to its horrors. Catarrh, consumption, death. That is the story. Be advised while yet there is time, and use the only sure cure, CATARRHOZONE. At Druggists, or by mail. Two months' treatment $1. Regular 25c trial size, sent for 10c, to cover postage, and boxing, by N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., Hartford, Conn., U. S.

A Unique Birthday Gift.

A curious birthday gift by a young Roumanian nobleman to his bride was a gorgeous doll, made for the enamored young husband in Paris, where the young couple are spending the honeymoon.

The doll was clad in cloth of gold, the train embroidered with irises, stems upward, which formed a thick border around the hem. The petticoat on which opened the train of gold, was covered with a tulle of magnificent pearls. Round her neck was a sheaf of three rows of rubies; on her head an aigrette, formed by sparkling diamonds, glimmering like so many dewdrops, and, with heads of many colored precious gems, spangled her garments here and there. It seems that at the time of their marriage the nobleman was not able to present his lovely bride with gifts worthy of her beauty, but recently a benevolent uncle of his was obliging enough to die and leave him a fortune. The extravagant lover at once spent half of it in this jeweled doll.

A Word of Praise. "If employers could only realize how much every worker, especially the women, appreciates a word of praise," said a veteran brewer, "they would find that they could increase their profits largely by the higher quality of service rendered. Women like to feel that the employer has a human interest in the individuality of the work they do, and that they observe it when it is particularly well done. A word of commendation always acts as a stimulus to renewed effort, while a good piece of work ignored acts as a discouragement. An approving smile, nod or word costs little, and means much to the honest worker in any field, from highest to lowest."—New York Tribune.

CHANGE THEIR OLD NAMES.

Many Begin Life in New World Under New Alliances.

The clerk of the city court to-day made public the names of seventy persons who changed their names in legal form in the year 1900. Most of the original names are of palpably foreign extraction. As a rule all reasonable requests for change of name are granted. They are then filed away, the petition giving the avowed reasons for change and the judgment passed upon it by the court. A glance at the records and the various name changes gives rise to considerable speculation as to the real cause of dissatisfaction. Why, one wonders, should a name of such aristocratic twang as Waldemar Ruthyvar be cast aside in preference to the hackneyed title of Henry Smith? On the next page of the records is the reverse of the question of high-sounding names, where one finds the somewhat plebeian cognomen of Gumbinsky changed to Von Tilzer. What evidence of nationality remains in the name of Jay, unless it is discovered to be a corruption of Jacobowsky? There scarcely could be any greater effacement of a family name than to substitute the noncommittal blank for Polanzer.

Sebastian Bibb is lost entirely in Frank Walter and Rusicka becomes the Americanized Rose. Many changes result from family quarrels, when another family name is taken in place of the legitimate one. Often the wife of eccentric relatives demand a change in the name of the beneficiary, without which no legacy can be obtained. Occasionally debt or imprisonment has brought the name of some person into such disrepute that a new name is sought for which a new reputation may be built.

In the case of foreigners who have become American citizens the stiff consonants of Russia, Bohemia or Poland prove too much for our Angloized tongues and a change is really necessary. Under this reason come such changes, no doubt, as Chmelick to Lukan, Neugroschel to Rochelle, Yuzuklan to Yuzuk, and Rochmowitz to Rockmore. By far the larger part of the list of changed names belongs to those ending in ski or sky. The terminal here is generally dropped, leaving the parent stem. The dropping of this ending results often in names that bear not the slightest trace of the nationality of the changers. Kempinski becomes plain Kempin; Jampolski is reduced to the Dickenslike name of Jampole. —N. Y. Evening Post.
