THE QUEEN.

Bowed down with grief the nation weeps,
The people sorrow o'er their Queen—
The best, the noblest earth has seen,
A name which mem'ry loves and keeps.

Since David's royal house began,
No name has lived on history's page
So glorious; and each future age
Shall hold it as a talisman.

God save the Queen! Alas! we sing
Another strain than that to-day;
And still with heart and voice we pray:
God save the King! God save the King!

Yet once more, as the solemn scene
Is passing, and the queenly dead
Is borne from view, we bow the head
And weeping pray: God save the Queen.

(The above lines are taken from the Markdale Standard and were written by the Rev. J. R. Newell.)

St Paul's Church.

On Sunday last the church was appropriately draped in recognition of the noble character and holy life of Queen Victoria, and the hymns expressed thoughts of the rest and reward enjoyed by the faithful departed. The sermons dealt with the religious motives that influenced the late sovereign in her conduct of the affairs of the empire and with the progress made by the Anglican Church during her reign.

On Friday evening the service will begin at 7.30, the address being illustrated.

On Saturday the service prescribed by the Bishop will take place. Special lessons, hymns, and prayers will be used. There will be a sermon and address suitable to the solemnity of the occasion. The incumbent hopes that all members of the congregation will be present. The hour for beginning the service will be 11 a. m.

On Wednesday night shortly after ten o'clock Mr. H. B. Barrett arrived in Port Dover with the remains of our much lamented townsman Mr. C. G. Warren, who was drowned off Long Point on Nov. 24th. The body was found Monday, Jan. 21st, by S. Holiday and his son, on the north shore of Long Point near Duncan's pond. Mr. Holiday at once dispatched his son to Port Rowan with a message to Mr. Barrett, he himself remaining at Gravelly Beach shanty in charge of the body until Mr. Barrett (who was in Port Rowan at the time) could reach the spot having to drive some 40 miles. There was no difficulty in identifying the body which was buried on Thursday with Masonic honors from his late residence. Rev. R. Herbert held service at the house. A large number of relatives and friends assembled to pay the last sad tribute to one who will long be remembered and regretted in the town. His sorrowing widow and young orphans have the deepest sympathy of the whole community.—Maple Leaf.
