A Corset for Stout Women

A woman is as stout as she looks, but with a W. B. Reduce corset she would be no stonter then she desires. The Red co is the first corset to really help idealize the figure of o er-fleshy women. In the Reduce scienciae corset construction completely displaces the torturing harness-liber contrivances that have heretofore masqueraded as a "reducing type" of garment. Completely free of straps, overtaxed weight or stiffness, the Reduce performs its remarkable work as simply and effectively as other W. B. models. It educes the a! m and bips from one to five inches without unduly contining the figure. In a work the Reduso is an achievement of science and
