Convention of "Dippers" in Ireland Attracting Attention.

Two Thousand Pilgrims Have Big Time in County Fermanagh.

The Leader is Energetic and Many Are Being Converted.

Dublin, July 9 .- The third annual convention of the "Dippers," as the Cooneyites' revival in progress at Ballinamallard, County Fermanagh, is called, presents strange scenes of religious enthusissm. It is the belief of the sect that the millennium may be ushered in at any moment, and prayer meetings are being beld almost continuously.

John West, a well-to-do member of the sect, has placed his large house and younds, Crocknacrieve, at Ballinamal-fard, at the disposal of the convention. The house accommodates 100 persons and the others of the pilg ms utilize the outbuildings and the st rious marquees erected on the lawr, for sleeping purposes. Over 2,000 pilgrims are attending the convention.

The little colony is the realization of the idea of simple, self-supporting communal life, and should go far to please a Tolstoi. Sunrise each morning finds the encampment full of life and activity. All the pilgrims are dressed in coarse, plain clothing. The men are unshaven and wear rubber collars. On the heads of the women are straw sailor hats. All are busily engaged in manual labor or domestic duties-milking, butter-making, cooking, sewing, boot-making, carpentering, etc.—every one being assigned a daily task. Then follow intervals of devotional meetings, preaching, hymn singing and baptism. Energy is the keynote of the campaign.

Edward Cooney, the leader of the sect, is the son of an Enniskillen magistrate. He has a wonderful flow of language and his sermons are interspersed with racy anecdotes. He easily holds his followers during his long discourses. He seaches on the unworthiness of all existing churches and the uselessness of worldly possessions. One of the favorite hymns of the sect concludes: Neither carry scrip nor raiment,

Neither shoes nor staves; Welk unburdened through the deserts,

Through the waves." The baptismal ceremony is performed in an adjacent stream running along the valley. The leader doffs his boots and wades in the water to the centre of the stream. Then he gently lowers the convert backward until the entire body is immersed, after which the convert is assisted to the shore, while the pilgrims sing "Who Will Be Next?"

No money collections are taken up.

Dinner and tea are freely given to all visitors to the convention, crowds of whom fleek daily to see the "dippers." Many persons are being converted to the sect by reason of the energetic sincerity of the campaign, and are promptly admitted to the brotherhood. Thus far the convention has suffered no molestation. The pilgrims claim they travel without money, earning their way by manual labor. The men and women are separated in the devotional meetings.

ATTACKED BY MOB.

Militia at Dominion No. 1 Colliery Called Out.

Sydney, N. S., despatch: The detachment of the Royal Canadian Regiment stationed at Dominion No. 1 was called out at 11.30 to-night to quell an attack made upon a train going from the Dominion to the Reserve. The attack was made in a lonely place, and sticks and stones were freely used by the mob. It was thought that the train had a number of men coming in to work on board. Word was telephoned to the military quarters at No. 1, and the troops there got under arms and went to the scene The output of the collieries of the Dominion Coal Company to-day was very close to the ten-thousand-ton mark. The banking station was not quite up to the previous day's produc-tion, but about five hundred tons more were secured from the collieries. The company claim that a number of men came back to work to-day at the different mines, and they expect a very good production to-morrow.

sauga Reserve.

Toronto, Aug. 9.-The Provincial Department of Lands, Forests and Mines has decided to offer for sale by public tender the timber on a large burned area in the Misissauga forest reserve in the Algoma district. The territory was swept by a forest fire recently, and the forest rangers immediately despatched to investigate the damage have reported to Hon. Frank Cochrane that the area scorched is equal to that of four townships, or about 144 square miles, and a large amount of tim-ter has been so damaged that it is necessary to dispose of it in order that it may be cut this winter, with a view to reforesting.

The timber on the burned territory will be advertised for sale by public tender on Sept. 15, the date when the other sale takes place.

FOUR DROWNED.

Seven Were in Leaky Punt But ' Three Escaped. Halifax, N. S., despatch: Four men lost their lives by drowning to-day in Charlottetown, P. E. I. A lobster boat containing eight men left Charlottetown in the afternoon for Rocky Point, a pleasure resort opposite Charlottetown, to arrange for a picnic to be held there next Monday. On arrival at Rocky Point it was necessary to anchor the sailboat and land in a punt. This punt was a very leaky craft, and seven of the men boarded it and began rowing for the shore. The boat leaked badly, and when half the distance had been traversed it, notwithstanding all efforts to bail it, sank with its occupants.

Four of the men were unable to swim and were drowned. Their names were Ephram Gallant, Harry Gallant, James Bernett, of Charlottetown, and Daniel McAulay, of Tracadie. The other three reached land after a hard struggle. Ephram Gallant leaves a widow and one son. The others were young men, from 20 to 25 years, and unmarried. WOODDBRIDGE ANDERSON BACK RIVED YESTERDAY.

STRATFORD.

ALLEGED BANK SWINDLER AR-

Man Wanted by Police of Four Countries-Will be Arraigned on Two Charges of Passing Worthless Cheques - Detective Murray's Stories.

THE REAL PROPERTY. Toronto despatch: John A. G. Anderson, the former ledgerkeeper of the Portland street branch of the Bank of Montreal, whose arrest in Vancouver two weeks ago brought to an end a journey over two continents, in which he cashed worthless cheques to the value of several thousands of dollars, was brought back to Toronto yesterday afternoon by Detective Alex. Murray, of the local police force, who was sent out to the coast for him. Detectice Murray brings back with him evidence against Anderson in the form of two rubber stamps found on the ex-bank clerk when he was captured. One of these is the Bank of Montreal "accepted" stamp which Anderson is alleged to have used in passing his worthless cheques in England, France, the United States and Canada. The other is an "entered" stamp of the same bank.

Anderson's story of his wanderings since he left Toronto several months ago, as he told it to Detective Murray on the way down on the train, is a remarkable one, particularly with regard to the ground that he covered. On leaving Toronto on March 9 last he went to Buffalo, and from there to New York, where he booked passage to Liverpool. Next he visited London, where he stayed at the Hotel Cecil. Then he crossed the Channel, stopped long enough in Paris to cash a sized cheque and then came back to New York.

In the next few weeks he visited Denver, Col., Los Angeles and San Francisco, touching at Chicago on his way back to Toronto. He remained here but one day, when he passed the cheques on the T. Eaton Comapny. Then he started west, touching at Detroit, St. Paul, Seattle, and Victoria, B. C., winding up at Vancouver, where the hand of the law came upon him. In practically all of the places visited by Anderson he is alleged to have passed worthless cheques.

Some of Andersons cheques were. according to his story told to Detective Murray, passed under rather amusing circumstances. At Chicago, just before he came back to Toronto, he was short of funds. Writing a cheque for $200 he went to a Hebrew second-hand dealer and told him a story of being penniless and forced to wait for identification papers before he could cash a cheque he had in his possession, winding up by offering his coat for sale. The Hebrew asked to see the cheque, and upon inspection decided that it was all right. The chance of making a little easy money out of a man who was too "hard up" to make any decided objection was too good to pass by, so the Hebrew offered to cash the cheque at a discount of 10 per cent. Anderson appeared to demur at the rate, but finally accepted $180, leaving the Hebrew with a worthless piece of paper which he fondly believed represented a deal with a margin of $20 profit.
