A Former Hamiltonian Physician-Extraordinary to King Edward.

(Canadian Gazette)

The report published on Tuesday that Dr. H. S. Birkett, of Montreal, will be appointed Physician-Extraordinary to the King, in place of Sir Felix Semon, has been received with great interest by the many friends of the possible recipient of such an honor. Dr. Birkett, who is Professor of Laryngology and Otology at McGill University, Montreal, is still a young man. He was born in Hamilton, Ontario, in 1864. His name is well known throughout the Dominion in will make. It is in the contract that he connection with the branch of the profession in which he is especially interested. For some years he was associated with the late Dr. Frank Buller, the well-known specialist. He is also connected with various medical societies, and has published some valuable additions to medical literature. A good golfer and a fair shot, Dr. Birkett is exceedingly popular both professionally and socially, and if the rumor of the honor to be conferred upon him-and incidentally upon Canada-proves to be correct, his departure from Montreal will be much regretted. Mrs. Birkett, to whom Dr. Birkett was married about ten years ago, was a Miss MacNaughton, of Glengarry, Canada, and, as her name would imply, of Scotch

WOOD BY The CORD

Things the Woodmen Know and May Not be Known to Others. (From the Forester.)

A cord of wood is 128 cubic feet, or the contents of a pile 8 feet long, 4 feet high and 4 feet wide. Wood is marketed on this basis. A pile whose length, breadth and height multiplied together gives this number of cubic feet fills this requirement, no matter whether the sticks are long or short, straight or crooked, round or split, unless there is an understanding to the contrary. Nevertheless a cord, though it comes up to legal measurements, is an uncertain quantity even when the seller is honest and the buyer satisfied.

A lumberman may have a tract of pulp wood which he sells to a paper mill at $5 a cord for as many cords as it shall cut and stack it. He cuts it in 12 foot lengths and when the job is complete it measures 200 cords and he receives $1,000 for it. Would he have made or lost by cutting four foot lengths instead of twelve? He would have lost in the first place from the additional labor required to cut 4 foot wood, but his principal loss would have resulted from a greatly diminished number of cubic feet, due to the fact that short sticks lie closer together than large. Had the 200 cords of 12 foot wood been cut in 4 foot lengths there would have been only 176 cords and the owner would have received for it $880 instead of $1,000. It was therefore clearly to his advantage to cut 12 foot lengths, but it would have been to the buyer's advantage to have it cut in 4 foot lengths. He would have received the same actual quantity of wood for $120

It also makes considerable difference to the seller whether wood is chopped or sawed. If chopped the chips are lost. Where the logs are large this loss amounts to no small total. In a cord of four foot wood with stick six inches in diameter the chip loss is from 6 to 8 per cent, and of course the shorter the sticks are cut the greater the loss. If the wood is sawed the sawdust loss is scarcely the half of I per cent.

Cords of split wood contain less than cords of round sticks. The finer the wood is split, the more it makes. Hence wood dealers are often willing to sell kindlings of sawed and split for the same price a cord as unsplit wood. They get back the cost of labor in the increased bulk. A cord (128 cuic feet) of 4 foot hard wood usually contains about 83 cubic feet of solid wood; a cord of 3 foot wood averages 831/2 cubic feet, of 2 foot wood 84 feet and of 1 foot wood, 85 feet. The conifers (soft woods) contain 90 to 96 cubic feet. Thus the purchaser receives on an average about two-thirds of a cord of real wood and one-third of a cord of spaces.

In some countries wood is bought by weight and the buyer comes more nearly getting what he bargains for, but even then he may miss it if he receives green wood when he wants dry. According to timber testing engineers of the United States Forest service wood d kidneys the cure is may lose half or more its green weight gratulations of his boss are due to Mr. J. J. Finnegan, a reporter on the staff of a New York newspaper. He is the first to bring into play the law which makes it a misdemeanor to supply fake information to a newspaper. He has haled into court a lawyer and his client on charges of telling him things to print which weren't true. The information reflected on the character of a woman of standing. Mr. Finnegan gave the information to his newspaper and got into trouble. Now he has the sand to go the journey with his informants. This is refreshing. There are in this fair village and others a host of persons who think it a splendid joke to tell pipe stories to newspaper men and then later cavil with a smug assumption of virtue about the "unreliability of the press."

It is more true that the large majority of misinformation which creeps into the columns of the daily newspapers is directly traceable to the outside individual who lies to the reporter under the impression that he is being funny.

It is the same sort of humor that is expressed by the whispered reflection upon the name of a square man or a pure woman. Aside from the fact that the reporter, to say nothing of the clouding of his reputation for truth, it
