Note and Comment

A "Y" is being built at Caledonia for the turning, it is said, of a stub train to be run between Hamilton and Caledonia. That will surely mean a change of time table. Won't it be grand if, by a re-adjustment, those weary waits at Caledonia are cut out?

One of the best paying ideas there is for butter-makers is to wrap each pound in a neatly printed wrapper. What the trade-mark of any manufacturer of reputable contributions in the selling of his product, your name on each pound of butter should do for you. There are butter-makers who get two and three cents a pound more for their butter simply because they have recognized this and live up to their reputation. Your unprinted wrapper may contain as good butter, but the buyer is not likely to think so. The cost of the printed wrapper is hardly worth considering. Suppose a thousand printed wrappers cost you $2.00—the actual price is less—and you get only a cent more a pound, look at the profit you make. You get $10.00 more for your thousand pounds of butter, the wrappers cost, say, $2.00; there is a profit on your investment of 500 per cent, estimated on the lowest possible gain. If you are using unprinted wrappers, drop into the office and get some printed ones. The Record has a reputation for supplying the best quality butter-wrappers to be had. That is no idle boast. Other printers have written enquiring what quality of paper and ink we use in order to obtain the result.

As the result of a recommendation from the Dunnville business men's association to the town council, assistance will in all probability be given John Slingsby in order to enable him to put his woolen mill, recently destroyed by fire, in operation again. The association's work in bringing this about, is assuredly worthy of commendation. It is up to the citizens now to support the by-law when it is submitted to them on the 28th of this month.

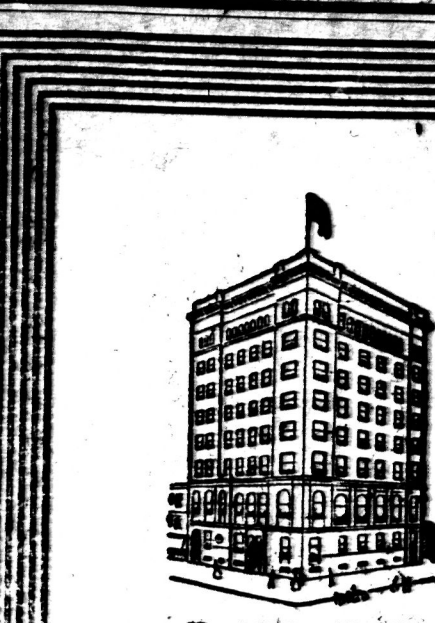

A proposal to erect a public mausoleum in Hamilton cemetery containing vaults for the burial of the dead, has been turned down by the provincial health authorities as likely to prove unsanitary. The disposal of the dead is something which sooner or later will have to be dealt with in cities where land for cemeteries is becoming difficult to acquire. It is time the public was being educated with a view to overcome the prejudice existing in the minds of many concerning the cremation of dead bodies. Why this prejudice should be fostered in this enlightened age is hard to explain unless it be owing to misplaced sentiment. Surely it is better to reduce a dead body to inoffensive ashes in a few minutes than to have years pass, as at present, before that end is accomplished.

What with tornadoes and cloud-bursts this old province is beginning to have a regular Western States reputation for sensational phenomena.

Hamilton has turned down the Cataract Power people. While it seems ungrateful after what the company has done for them in bringing large industries to the city, the corporation, like nearly every other concern of the kind, has itself to blame for the unsympathetic attitude displayed by the public. It's "whole hog" days are too well remembered.

They'll Have To Wake Up
It is a matter of history that the projectors of the Hagersville market met with little or no encouragement when it was started—in fact, the establishment of a market was bitterly opposed by most of the merchants. Now it is regarded as a blessing instead of a curse, and the News is becoming alarmed lest the market there will suffer owing to the establishment of markets at Cayuga and Jarvis. After commenting on the good qualities of the Hagersville market it goes on to say:

"The quantity of produce handled every Wednesday is surprising and as it is paid for in cash a large proportion of it is expended among our merchants and business men. Neighboring towns have recognized

Of propositions in which to invest money, there are many. Weigh them up against this one . . .

INSTEAD of taking more or less risk of loss of your money in some other investment that may be pressed on you, why not place your money right on deposit in a chartered Savings Bank, and leave it there.

It is the safest form of investment in the world; and there is the indescribable feeling of satisfaction that your money is right there when you need it—and that it is earning sure dividends in interest every day in the year.

Can this be said of other investments offered you?

Namely:

That you get your money back at a moment's notice.

That your dividend is absolutely certain, sure and regular.

THE BANK OF HAMILTON especially invites the Savings Accounts of those conservative men and women to whom this form of investment appeals.

department the real work is done by a few industrious, painstaking and overworked officials. The great majority of the civil servants are drones concerned only in putting in time and drawing their salaries. If they strike, the cabinet should call their bluff and reorganize the service from top to bottom upon purely business lines. A staff of trained business men and women organized on the lines of the executive of a modern industrial concern would bring a revolution at Ottawa that would bring a smile to the faces of all good citizens."

For some time and felt keenly the loss of trade from their neighborhood. In an endeavor to retain this trade Cayuga and Jarvis are establishing weekly markets which the business men are endeavoring to make a success. Our market was established with little or no effort on our parts and a number of our business men fail to appreciate its value and importance from a commercial standpoint. We accept what comes to us and give nothing in the way of protection during stormy weather, neither do we provide scales or any other conveniences for the farming community whose support and trade is vital to the town. It is time to get busy, gentlemen, and keep Hagersville in the forefront and not let our trade drift to other places. Let us adopt the motto, "What we have we'll hold."

A call for action on the part of the business men, similar to the above, does not now have to be made in Jarvis. The business men have the best interests of the community at heart. A market being recognized as a good thing, is receiving every encouragement and nothing will be spared to make it a desirable trading place. A motto, not elegant but expressive, would be, "What we haven't got we'll get." The people of the surrounding country would do well to make a note of a few things and decide to patronize the market where they are accorded the most cordial treatment.

The Civil Service Gentry
It's a lucky thing for some of the civil servants at Ottawa that Hal Donly does not get a whack at them from a seat in parliament, because we fear there would be times when what he would say might be very provoking to them, to say the least. This is how he relieved himself of some righteous indignation last week:

"Ottawa civil servants talking strike is certainly rich. These gentry, or many of them, have been in the habit of strolling to their offices between ten and eleven, smoking cigarettes and reading the papers until twelve, when an adjournment for two hours is taken for lunch. Another visit of two or three hours or less is made to the office in the afternoon. At four o'clock what they are pleased to call a day's work is through, and they are off to the club, the golf links, or some other place of amusement. It is an open secret that in every
