Toronto despatch: Fascinating to the xtreme was the story that was unfolded Mrs. Ogilvie Gordon, the honorary rresponding secretary of the Internaional Council of Women, at the meeting yesterday of the Executive Committee of that body. The committee had a ong and arduous session, clearing the vay for the business of the Council, thich will meet for the first time this morning at the university. A large number of tentative resolutions were submitted by the various National Councils to be considered, and a decision arrived at as to whether they should be sent on to the Council or not, but amid the pressure of this business, of a nature on which considerable differ-centres formed a cheering interlude. WOMEN AWAKENING. From those countries in which there has been established a National Council for some years the reports spoke of nothing but progress; but of far more vital interest were the messages that told of the expansion of the movement in countries where for so long one-half of the population has for centuries been in a condition of absolute subjection. On the previous evening Lady Aberdeen, in her presidential address, mentioned something of the rousing of the women of Turkey, but yesterday the executive had the privilege of hearing the story more directly, through the report of one of their co-workers in that land, Mrs. Bowen, of Constantinople, who, by the way, is a sister of Ahmed Riza, the President of the new Turkish Parliament, that has loomed so large in the eyes of the world of late. Mrs. Bowen wrote, saying that she was hopeful of forming a National Council for the women of Turkey before very long, and the Executive elected Madame Sila Hunun an honorary vice-president, with power to carry Mrs. Bowen's desire into effect. In the course of her interesting letter Mrs. Bowen said: "The broad foundation of the Golden Rule attracts a number of our women, and even if they cannot adopt all the propaganda of the Council they want to commence on that basis."

STRICKEN FINLAND.

From Finland Baroness Gripenberg rote, saying that the women were repared to found a Council for that trife-riven country, while from the codernized successor of ancient Egypt he same news came. Mrs. Helen Topkins, the Council's correspondent in hat country, said in her report that the movement was gaining power among the native women. "These native ladies," she proceeded, "do not want yet our education. They want to learn how to order their households, and to be a factor in the family life which, of course, at present does not exist."

The Minister of the Interior for Russia has as last consented to the formation of a National Council of Women," reported the Countess de Philosophof. PATRIOTISM FIRST.

A world's peace is a desirable thing, but patriotism comes first in the opinion of some of the delegates who are members of the Peace and Arbitration Committee of the International Council. Mrs. May Wright Sewall of Maine, and Honorary President of the National Council, is Convener of the committee, and was responsible for the exclusion of the reporters from vesterday's meeting. However, in the corridors some echoes of the morning's proceedings were heard, and it is certain that the proceedings were not altogether of the character which the idealists desired. The main question was the advisability of petitioning the Government's taking part in the Hague Conference in favor of the submission of all questions of internationa! disputes to arbitration, and the avoidance of the sterner arbitrament of war. Facts have to be recognized, and this was the attitude taken by some of the delegates from Germany, Austria and Italy. They know too well that Europe is an armed camp, for have not their husbands, sons and brothers all been called to serve their time as conscript soldiers, and when danger to the nation may come from any of her neighbors the delegates of Austris and Germany were doubtful whether their support of the proposals might not be regarded as dislovalty. MIGHT CHILL YOUNG MEN.

An Italian delegate also questioned whether it might not undermine the patriotism of the young men of her land and make them less willing to spring to arms in defence of their country should the call be made. Generally speaking. however, the delegates were in favor of the petition, but before any decision was arrived at the committee adjourned until Friday.

ATTACKING DISEASE.

"I will speak till Lady Aberdeen said Sir William Thompson yesterday afternoon at the opening of the Ontario Government's tuberculosis exhibit at the physics building. Lady Aberdeen had been announced to open the exhibit, but unfortunately the pressure of business at the executive prevented her attendance, and Sir William had to close his address on the campaign against the scourge of the race without carry-that possessed also some points that might be introduced with advantage into the Ontario exhibit. In any case the effort was a commendable one, inasmuch as it must lead to a stirring up of the people and educational development. The table was extremely pretty with a lattice work of pale pink carnations, and tiny baskets of imitation rose leaves scattered between. Dr. Hume wore black with garniture of cream Irish lace, cream plumed hat; Dr. Gullen wore wedgewood blue rajah silk with corsage draped with lace of the same shade, large white hat. Dr. Anna Shaw sat on Dr. Hume's right, while Mrs. Gillies, her hostess, sat next Dr. Gullen. The toast of "His Majesty the King" was drunk first, with a verse of the national anthem, sung by all standing. "Rulers of Other Nations," then "The Delegates," responded to by Dr. Anna Shaw, Dr. Tibertius (Germany), Dr. Laurell (Sweden), Dr. Murdoch (England). Others present were Dr. Henderson (Hamilton), Dr. Greig (Australia), Dr. Margaret Gor. don, Dr. M. Johnston.

In connection with the election o

WAVE OF HYSTERIA

Swept Through New York's East Side Causing Panics.

New York, June 21.—One of those sudden waves of hysteria which from time to time sweep the crowded tenements of the east side to-day temporarily closed three public schools, with an attendance of more than 4,000 pupils, blocked als traffic on Grand street for an hour, and was not quieted until the police reserves were cailed out. Beyond the fact that many Jewish parents have of late been receiving threatening letters, demanding one dollar from each family, on pain of having their children murdered, there is no explanation.

First, the rumbling of a fire engine on the gallop reached the ears of the pentup children of a school that houses 2,300 pupils. The engine whistled shrilly, a little girl shrieked in answer, and in a minute the hallways were filled with a mob of shricking, fighting boys and girls and angry, panic stricken mothers from nearby tenements were clawing and kicking at the outside of the street doors. As if by pre-arrangement, another passing engine chafed the nerves of another set of children in a second school. The rumor spread through the excited, surging streets that the school was on fire. Before the crowds could get to it there was a shout that a third school had been blown up by the Black Hand. Then there was no holding the people. Parents fought with the police for their

MUNICIPALITIES AND BOARDS OF TRADE WANT IT DEEPENED

Permanent Organization Will Be tries. Formed to Press the Matter on Dominion Government - Initial Meeting Held in Toronto.

Toronto despatch: "That a permanent organization of the municipalities, Board of Trade and other public bodies be formed to urge on the Dominion Government the deepening of the Welland Canal at once, and that a joint deputation from the permanent organization wait on the Government at a suitable time to be arranged; that Mr. Joseph E. Thompson, Commissioner of Industries, Toronto, be appointed Secretary of the organization, and that the organization be known as the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Navigation Improvement Association." This is the text of a resolution passed at a meeting held in the City Hall yesterday, with Ald. T. L. Church of this city in the chair, and representatives of Boards of Trade of Toronto, Hamilton, Kingston and St. Catharines, and of the Dominion Marine Association, Toronto Harbor Commissioners, and Canadian Manufacturers' Association, as well as members of the Toronto City Council, present.

It was agreed that the various bodies in question should select one representative each, and these representatives a plan of procedure.

The consensus of opinion as expressed at the meeting was strongly in favor of deepening the Welland Canal, and opposed to the projected Georgian Bay Canal. It was claimed that the improvement of the Welland Canal would mean much greater facilities for transporting grain from the west to the ease, and instead of the cost of carrying grain from Duluth to Montreal being six cents per bushed, as at present, it could be carried for three and a half cents by means of large vessels and barges. It was prophesied that in ten years the products of the west would be double what they are now. It was stated that the marine interests had not been locked after by the Government as well as the railway interests had been, and that if the St. Lawrence system were enlarged, the deepening of the Welland Canal being involved in this, of course, Canada would then be in a good position to compete with the United States in the carrying trade. One of the Hamilton representatives stated that if the Georgian Bay Canal were built Hamilton might as well be 150 miles inland, and Toronto would be similarly affect-
