Defective Education.

An old ducky in Alabama called across the fence to his neighbor's son, who is a student at the Atlanta university, says a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger.

"Look here, boy," he said, "you goes to school, don't yer?"

"Yes, sir," replied the boy.

"Leadin' education, ain't yer?"

"Yes, sir."

"Larin' 'rithmetic an' aggering on a clock, eh?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, is don't tak' two whole days ter make an hour, do it?"

"Why, no," answered the boy.

"What's all the talkum, 'you was goin' ter bring that hatchet back in an hour, wasn't yer? An' he's been two whole days sence you beereded it."

"What's the use of yer education if you go ter school a whole year an' then can't ter bring that hatchet?"

African Natives' Drum Signals.

All through the continent of Africa the natives have a very perfect system of signaling with drums, by which means they rap out messages from village to village, and it is quite wonderful how swiftly and how far they are able to spread news.

The drumming is always done at night, when sound travels farther, and as one lies awake on a still, clear night the ear is often gently assailed by the low, musical roll from a drum in the village near, and one waits with pleasant expectancy till the answering echo comes, muffled by distance, from a village sometimes two miles away.—Wide World Magazine.

Bohemia.

Bohemia is youth. Youth is everywhere. It is bounded on the north and east by the barren desert of middle age and on the south and west by the steep and impassable mountains of success. The true bohemian is drunk on nothing but ambitions and ideals, and, though these leave no headache, they frequently leave an emptiness of the stomach. The true bohemian has an appetite the morning after, but there is often no breakfast.—Sydney Bulletin.

Public Opinion.

Public opinion is a will-o'-the-wisp. It is here today and gone tomorrow. Public opinion crucified the Christ, and the centuries have condemned it for its act. Ever since that time the public has been making blunders, committing crimes, furnishing the evidence of its own unwisdom in every time and country.

Business Sense.

"Has that titled son-in-law of yours any business sense?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Duntin. "I must say I admire his foresight and sagacity. He absolutely refused to take any chances on my regarding him as a poor relation."—Washington Star.

A cynic says that the jaws of death have no terror for him; he only fears the jaws of life. He is married.—Sporting Times.
