St. Paul's Church.

The consecration services of St.
Paul's church on Friday last were very grand and inspiring, and will be remembered as perhaps the greatest event in the long history of St. Paul's church. Besides the Bishop the following clergy were present:—Rev. Canon Spencer, of Mount Forest; Rural Dean Godden, of Caledonia; J. H. Leake, of Nanticook; R. Ferguson, of Hagersville; A. Francis of South Cayuga; and the Rector of St. Paul's. The Holy Communion was celebrated at 11 o'clock, by the Bishop, assisted by the Rural Dean and the Rector, and there was a large number of communicants. A devotional hour conducted by the Bishop for the clergy from 12 to 1 o'clock. Luncheon was served in the schoolroom by the ladies of St. Paul's at 1 o'clock, the Bishop and Mrs. Du-Moulin, the Rector and Mrs. White, the clergy and churchwardens, Mrs. Murdoch, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Burns, being present.
After luncheon the Rural Deanery held a very profitable and interesting meeting. In the evening at 8 o'clock a large congregation entirely filling St. Paul's church had assembled to take part in the great consecration service. Promptly as the last bell ceased ringing, the choir and clergy entered the church, the Church Wardens meeting the Bishop at the entrance. Mr.
J. Y. Murdoch read the petitions for consecration, which set forth the details of the deed of the property and certified the church to be free of debt. The service then began with the reading of the 23th psalm, and until the end was most inspiring. The Bishop's sermon was a masterpiece, and the large choir of St. Paul's certainly did themselves very great credit by the excellent manner in which they sang the anthem and canticles, and led in the singing of the grand old hymns. Very worthy of comment also was the very excellent manner in which Miss Lewis performed at the organ and uttered expressions of delight from the Bishop, clergy and all present. The decorations of the church were unusually beautiful, perhaps better than ever before and gave great evidence of the heartiness of all the members of St. Paul's. The offering was not large.

On Sunday the annual Harvest Thanksgiving services were held, although the day was unfavorable the attendance was good and the services could hardly have been brighter or more helpful. The Rev.
S. Daw, Rector of St. John the Evangelist church, Hamilton, preached two able and eloquent sermons which were greatly enjoyed. There seems to be nothing but a very bright future ahead for St.
Paul's church.

W. E. Sowter reports good sales of McCormick Corn Binder, having sold 8 this fall.

Millinery Openings.

The Millinery Openings Make a Satisfactory Starting.

P. W. ARMSTRONG

The Millinery opening of P. W.
Armstrong on Wednesday and Thursday of last week was largely attended in spite of the wet weather, and a great many sales were made.

The most popular material for the toque and turbans is the beaver tipe, velvet both plain and moire, plush moire, moire silk and ottoman silk are also in vogue and used extensively for hat foundation.

Very few flowers will be used and sequid trimmings will be featured to a marked degree. Cobocons will be favored again and large hat pins will also be used which will serve as Cobocons.

There is a good range of colors for fall. Black and black and white combinations will be in high favor. Taupe and all the different shades of wine.

The two extremes of hat styles for the coming fall are the Gainsboro shapes and the high Hussar turbans. The trimmings of the hat are extremely simple consisting of a plume standing upright fastened with a cabochon, stiff wing placed upright on a cockade bow.

A beautiful picture hat had the large moderately high crown and the brims and crown covered with corded Wysteria velvet, large black wings standing upright and finished with a hat bow of velvet.

Another hat of interest was large black Gainsborough shape rolled high at side trimmed with a paradiso mount and pleated rosette of satin ribbon.

J. A. BURWASH.

The Millinery openings at the Millinery House on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 22nd and 23rd were largely attended and from the sales made and orders taken the season's success is assured.

In viewing the many different styles, the large hat is greatly in evidence and some very striking models were shown.

One in black and white was much admired, having a large fancy crown of pamine velvet with facing of white satin with large wings, trimming in back and caught with large jet ornaments.

The medium hats were also shown in many becoming styles, and the new draped turban with ostrich or wing trimming was much admired.

Many new features were shown in the rolling shape and one worthy of notice was the back roll, so becoming to the younger face, with trimmings in the back.

Many new shades are in evidence and while new shades in brown, myrtle, navy, rose and sky are shown, the wysteria, purple and new raisin shades are daily gaining favor.

In trimmings the wing are excellent and the long pointed effect is in great demand, giving just the desired style for the many smart shapes shown in the rolling brims.
