Warning and Invitation .- Matt. II:

LESSON IV.-APRIL 24, 1319

COMMENTARY-I. Woes Pronounced Upon the Impenitent (vs. 20-24). 20. then-Immednately after the discourse respecting John the Baptist, and his remarks concerning the cavilers who would reject both John and Jesus, to upbraid-to reprove, rebuke, with grieving tenderness. cities wherein.....mightly works were done—The "mighty works" of this passage have reference to the miracles wrought by our Lord. The Greek word is elsewhere translated signs, wonders. It includes those acts which are clearly supernatural and beyond human power of performance. The region of the cities referred to was the scene of the greater part of the recorded miracles of Jesus because they repented not-It is clearly within the power of man to repent when enlightened by the Holy Spirit. To the people of these cities light had come and opportun-ity had been given to repent. Their rejection of Christ came through their failure to believe thoroughly and heartily the message that came to them from the lips of Jesus. 21. Woe unto thee—Jesus is foretelling the destruction that awaits those who reject him. There is nothing vindictive in his words, but rather pity and grief, as if he would say, "Alas for thee." Chorazin—The location is not positively known, but it is placed at the modern Keraseh. about two miles from Capernaum to the northwest of the Sea of Galilee. Bethsaida - "House of fish," is the meaning of the name. The city stood north of the Sea of Galilee where the river Jordan empties into that body of water. It was the birthplace of Andrew, Peter and Philip. We have no particular record that any mighty works were done in those cities, yet there surely must have else this statement would not have been made. "Both cities are here mentioned as typical of the busy region in which they lay, a region in which the largest part of our Lord's teachings was uttered and the largest part of his deeds performed."—Ill. Notes, had been done in Tyre and Sidon-Tyre was an ancient Phoenician on the coast of the Mediterranean sea and noted for its wealth and commercial enterprise. Sidon was on the some coast forty miles farther north and an important commecial centre. These cities were notoriously wicked and were centres of Baal worship. We have no record that Christ ever entered their gates, but we know that he approached that region. would have repented long ago—They were more receptive to divine truth, and would have been savingly affected by it. in sackcloth and ashes-In the East it was common for mourners to put on a black garment which resembled a sack, with holes for the arms, and to put ashes upon the head.

22. more tolerable—Because Tyre and passed upon impartially. 23. And thou, Capernaum-The home of Christ during His public ministry. Exalted unto heaven-This city, situated on the northwest coast of the Sea of Galilee, became wealthy and luxurious, but the exaltation here mentioned has reference to the fact that Jesus dwelt there, and preached and wrought many miracles. Shalt be brought down to hell—"Down unto Hades." —R. V. The city shall be destroyed. Hades means the abode of death, not the place of the lost. Mighty works, which have been done in thee-There were many of them recorded, as the healing of the nobleman's son, the paralytic, Peter's wife's mother, raising Jairus' daughter to life, the healing of the woman who touched his garment, the centurion's servant and many other not specifically noted. In Sodom-Sodom stands for the grossest wickedness, yet it would have been moved to repentance by the ministrations of our Lord. Would have remained until this day-The cities of the plain had been destroyed nearly two thousand years before Christ, because not ten righteous persons could be found there, yet Capernaum with all of its privileges went down to utter ruin so that it is now difficult to determine its exact location.

24. More tolerable for the land Sodom-Jude tells us (Jude, v. 7) that these people are suffering the vengcance of eternal fire, and yet it will be more tolerable for them at the judgment day than food those who live and die infidels under the gospel.-Clare. II. Glimpses of Christ's Divinity (vs. 25-27).

25. At that time Jesus answered-In close connection with the woes pronounced upon these who rejected Christ. I thank thee I fully confess, fully acknowledge the justice of thy doing-Schaff. It would seem at this point some communication was made that pleased Jesus and He broke forth into thanksgiving.-Geikie. Thou hast hid these truthe that pertain to Christ's kingdom were not perceived by the scribes and Pharisees, who were considered wise and prudent, because they were selfrighteous and rejected the light. Revealed them unto babes-Babes are "representatives of a receptive spirit, perfect trust, openness to impression and freedom from prejudice. 27. Al things are delivered unto me-"As if he had said, Do not be led by the example of your great and learned men to slight and despise me, for, humble as I sppear to be, all things relating to the savation of mankind are letizated to my hands, even all authority, power, and judgment." It means that Carist' has control over all things, for the good of his thurch; that the government of the universe is committed to him as when we realize an infinite God knows Mediator, that he may nedeem his people and guide them to glory. has done, and is to do, in saving the world. But the Father-God only can understand himself. Save the Son-No man can understand or comprehend the Father in his nature, his attributes and his providences, save the Son. Will reveal him-Those who desire an acquaint-"The Son is the Word of God, revealing The Working Capacity of Horses him to man; and the deepest mysteries and the highest glories of God can never be known to man except through Jesus Christ. But he reveals these things to those who come to him in childlike teachableness and trust. The love of Christ. obedience to his will, trust in the atonement, is the way to the highest knowledge of an ever-blessed Father."-P. This verse sets forth in unmistakable language the divinity of Christ, for these statements could not possibly apply to a mere man. II. Invitation to come to Jesus (vs. 28-30).

28. Come unto me-Although the and Sidon had had less opportunities for knowing the truth. This text, with many others, teaches the doc-trine of different degrees of retribu-all time is sounded forth. These words tion, proportioned to the guilt. The imply that man is away from Jesus, that clearness of the light against which Jesus may be aproached, and that there son is committed aggravates the guilt. is advantage to man in coming to Jesus. -Whedon, at the day of judgment- All ye that labor and are heavy laden The day of final reckoning, when all —Those laboring under a sense of sin deeds of all men shall be disclosed and laden with the guilt and remorse of a wicked life such are invited to Christ: not merely to the church, but to Christ. I will give you rest-Every word in this promise is important. 1. Rest is promised; soul rest; rest from sin and cankering care; rest from the fear of death and the judgment. 2. This rest is promised to you. Weak though you may be, and unworthy and sinful, yet, to you Jesus speaks. 3. It is promised freely. "without money and without price." It is the gift of God. 4. It is promised with certainty, "I will." If you will only "eome unto me" nothing, no power on earth, shall stop me; I will give you rest. 5. Who promises this? Is he able to perform? Yes, it is the eternal "I" who speaks the word, and he alone is able to say? "unto the uttermost." It is the Son of God who says, I will give you rest. 29. Take my yoke upon you-Accept the gospel. The individual has a part to perform. The yoke here implies three things: 1. Submission. 2. Service. 3. Fellowship with Jesus. Learn of me-Jesus is the greatest of teachers. Meek and lowly in heart-Hence capal'e of teaching the blessed truths of the kirgdom, as humility, obedience, service. 30. for my yoke is easy-With the -wphasic on "my." Christ's voke is not like Satar's, which is galling, heavy and disappointing. My burden is, light-The Christian has exchanged the burden of sin for the burden of Christ, which "is light because it is borne in love, with a good conscience, by the help of the Spirit of God.'

PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS.

Repentance. 1. Neglected. "They repented not' (v. 20). Chorazin, Bethsaids and Capernaum had been favored with Christ's presence (Matt. 4. 13; Mark 8. 22); heard His teaching (John 6. 59; Matt. 9. 35; 11. 1); seen His "mighty works" (vs. 20, 21, 23; Mark 2. 3; Luke 7, 2; John 4. 46), but "they repented not." 2. Necessary. "More tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the .. judgment" (v. 22). Repentance is a condition of salvation (Luke 13. 3). "The clearer, the tenderer, the fore stringent the beseeching of Christ's voice, the more solemn the result if we shut our ears. Better hear when He pleads and beseeches than when he rends the tombs, shakes the earth, summons to judgment and condemns those who have first condemned themselves." Revelation. 1. To the childlike. Babes" (v. 25.) "A child is not full of its own wisdom. It recognizes its ignorance and is ready to be taught. It does not oppose its own notions and ideas to those of its teacher. We need to pray often, Father, make me a little child. Empty me of my own notions. Teach me thine own mind. Make me ready to receive all thou sayest.' We gain much more than we, and understand that our highest wisdom is less than that of a live more than four or five weeks in hot. babe, compared with His, and learn to weather. n, the character and the attri gue with or resist Him." 2. To the chosweal him" (v. 27). Jesus is our only manifestation of God (John I. 14). No man can come to the Father but by Him (John 14. 6). He and the Father are one (John 17. 22). His chosen are God's chosen, for His will is God's will (John 5.

Rest. 1. Rest for the sinner. "I will give you rest" (v. 28). The words were first spoken to the Jew, toiling under the burden of the law, seeking rest through his own labor to keep the commandments; and were an invitation to him to "come" from his own self-rightcousness "unto" Christ and His righteousness. Gospel invitations are all as gracious. The sinner can neither merit nor win the rest of pardon and acceptance. It is the gift of God (Enh. 2. 8. 9), offered by His Son to "all ye that labor" (v. 28). A poor heathen went to his priest and asked how he might obtain relief from the pain in his heart right at home by inhaling on account of sin. The priest told him to walk many hundreds of miles with his right hand lifted. He obeyed, and walked for fifteen years. His arm grew in an upright position, but the pain of a guilty conscience lingered in his heart. One day he stopped near a crowd. A missionary telling them to "come" to One who would give rest from gnawing pain. "This gift of God I want," he said. He believed, obtained rest, and went from city to city with an uplifted hand, repeating Christ's gracious, "Come!" "All ve that are heavy laden" (v. 28). A native Christian in India said to an English traveler, "Ah! Sahib, Christ is my rest-stone." The traveler did not feel the force of the words, but afterward found that burdens were not borne on carts or wagons, but on human heads and backs, along dusty roads under the blazing heads and backs, along Colds and throat troubles can't last if dusty roads under the blazing sky. Stones set up by the highways served as resting places on which the weary burden-carriers cast their packs and sat down to rest. 2. Rest for the saved. "Ye shall find rest" (v. 29). There is a difference between the rest God "will

> 'shall find." The first signifies repose and refreshment, with a view of moving on; the second, durability, perpetuity, immovability; a deep, abiding, permanent rest, utterly undisturbed by any of the turmoils and vicissitudes of

FARM NEWS.

After a Winter Rest.

Many farmers seem to think that because horses have been resting all winter they can do more work when spring comes. The reverse is true. If they have been in the harness almost every day in winter they will be hardy and strong for apring work, and a rush day's work will not injure them. But if they have been idle for a lew weeks they cannot stand heavy work without perspiring, becoming short of breath and showing fatigue within a short time. Often an hour's fast driving or heavy work will cause the horse to become ill, and in some cases to result fatally, or in disablement for several weeks. The calf will do some better on whole horses. milk than on skim milk. The fat in the Oklahoma is the only State which now milk will make it fat, plump and in fine finish for market. For this reason the calf sold for veal should be fed more whole mink than one kept for milk or breeding purposes. Wn-n th- calf is 4 or 5 weeks old it will eat some hay, shelled corn and ground feeds. If these are given daily in connection with the milk diet, veal can be produced cheaply.

The main ideas in trimming a fruit tree is to remove discased and superfluout branches and for making an open top for letting in the air and light to all the foliage and fruit. In pruning vines always cut just ahead of the bud, as the bud is the place where new growth, fruit or foliage is formed. A cow that has not the enpacity to produce milk can easily be overfed, but the cow that will give a large flow of milk is the one that should have the extra feed and the one that usually does not receive enough. Abundance of succulent feeds containing the proper materials in right proportions for producing milk, plenty of mild water, some salt, mild temperature and comfortable surroundings generally, are the conditions for making a dairy

A cow that will give a pound or more of butter a day is a good cow, and, in addition to a variety of feeds grown on the farm, she should be fed daily a small quantity of bran or cottonseed meal.

As to the desirability of the use of the wide tires there can be no question. The most casual observation will suffice to convince anyone of the damage which a heavily-laden wagon, equipped with the ordinary sharp, rounded, narrow tires, will produce on any road. There is also another and perhaps even greater adyantage to be gained by the use of wide tires-viz., the increased hauling capacity attained. Considerable attention should be given to ewes and young lambs. A new-born lamb is just about the most helpless thing on the farm, and frequently needs a little help to get started in life, but when fairly under way no young stock will give the owner more satisfaction; and it will pay to have patience and do all one can to asist them at first. Thirty-seven cows on the Cornell Experiment Farm averaged last year over 7,000 pounds of milk, which is 2,500 pounds more than the average in the State. The most interesting feature connected with this herd is the fact that it was started with cows averaging only 2,500 pounds of milk per year, and was raised to the present standard by breeding and selection, using pure-bred sires. The queen bee lives from two to five years, according to the manner in which she is raised. When raised by the natural way, as by the swarming of the bees, and the mother queen is two or more years old, she often lives four or five years. The life of the workers varies from 45 days in the honey-gathering season to five or sometimes six months during winter, taking the time of October to April. Drones very seldom Princess Carlotta, a Holstein cow in the dairy herd of the Missouri College of Agriculture, last year gave 18,495 pounds of milk, equal to 1,300 gallons. and from this 727 pounds of butter were made. On her record alone this cow is worth about $1,500, as she made a new profit of $610 in one year.

The turkey crop of the United States last year was about 6,500,000 head, of which Missouri produced 456,000.

The Department of Agriculture is experimenting with corn shipped from China. Then there are the children! For their little cuts and burns and knocks-tor skin rashes and skin sores, Zam-Buk is far the best. Why?

Best because it is pure. Best because it contains not one grain of mineral matter or poisonous coloring, not one bit of animal fat. It is antiseptic, soothing

A WIFE'S EXPERIENCE.

Mrs. Joseph Carr, who keeps a grocery store at 261 Hamburg Ave., Toronto, says:—"In all my years of housekeeping I have never yet used a preparation equal to Zam-Buk. It is nothing short of a wonder-a miracle. Indeed I cannot speak in terms too praiseworthy of its wonderful healing properties, and would not be without this remedy in my home at any cost. I have used it for sores, cuts, bruises and other skin injuries, and consider it a household necessity, especially where there are children, as it heals all wounds and bruises in almost incredibly short time. My eldest son had occasion to use Zam-Buk for a badly inflamed toe, caused by an ingrowing toe nail. A few applications were all that was necessary to draw out the soreness and inflammation, and he hashad no trouble with the toe since.
