Despite the busy season the attendance at market seems to increase. Last Wednesday vegetables, fruits and meats were in abundance, and disposed of at reasonable prices.

One of the jolliest loads which we have seen for some time was that of last Thursday afternoon, composed of the members of All-Saint's choir, who journeyed to Port Dover for their annual outing, which proved a most pleasant one. The many attractions caused the day to pass far too quickly and more fully resolved to start out earlier in the day next year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McCarter and daughters, Miss Ethel and Mrs. Russell Colman spent Friday at the home of C. R. Evans.

Tom Hammil and family, and Geo. Dusty and family, broke up their camps and returned to their respective homes on Friday. They are wearing the usual amount of tan and feeling greatly benefitted by the lake breezes.

While Mr. Geo. Fox was giving a number of his friends a spin in his auto around the country on Sunday afternoon they were overtaken with the storm and finding the roads too much for them when about a mile from town, were towed home, by a fine team belonging to Andrew Smith. The sight was most amusing, and the cheers rendered them as they passed along sounding most welcoming.

Local students who failed to pass the entrance examinations on account of the alleged trickiness of some of the papers will get some comfort from an order just issued by the minister of education, who authorized the board of examiners throughout the province to grant their discretion pass standing to candidates who have made less than 40 per cent. in any one subject, but who have made 60 per cent. of the aggregate marks.

In Memoriam.

A tribute to the loving memory of Hannah May Snowden, who died on July 26, 1910, Cheapside, in her 57th year.

At "Rest" from all trouble
Forever is she,
From sorrow and suffering
Eternally free.

"At Rest" from earth's labors,
It's worry and care,
No sickness can enter
The home "Over There."

Her dear friends are saying,
"Oh, she was so good,
She always and ever
Did the best that she could."

To her brothers and sisters,
Kind, tender and true,
And always indulgent
Whatever she'd do.

As a neighbor and friend,
None could her excel,
As a sister beloved
Her praises they tell.

Yes, in all walks of life,
She well did her part,
So noble of purpose
And kindly of heart.

She be missed in the house,
Her own she would shield,
For to her own sisters
Her best was revealed.

When gathered together,
Her bright cherry smile,
Will be missed by us all,
But just for a while.

There are mansions prepared,
Aye, mansions above,
For all, who in this life
The Saviour doth love.

There blessed and happy,
And free from all pain,
We are hoping to meet
The loved one again.

—W. O. Hamilton.

Airships at the Fair.

Negotiations are under way that will give patrons of the Canadian National Exhibition an opportunity of seeing the newest airship and the most daring aeronauts go through their birdlike performance. All that is needed is calm weather. For an airship balks at a breeze and the boldest aeronauts quail before a balking airship.

An owner of one of the farms in the storm stricken section near Caledonia, who live some distance away, paid it a visit on Thursday last. After walking over the farm and seeing the destruction, asked the tenant if he thought he could pay the taxes and said if he could that he would give him a clear receipt for the year's rent, which amounted to $300.

Binds More Sheaves with Less Twine

Plymouth Binder Twine is made tight. It works smoothly, ties properly, and the knot of the ball binds as firmly as the first. No knots or breaks. Fifty per cent stronger than the strain of any machine actually requires.

PLYMOUTH Binder Twine

Is used more than any other twine because it is known to be the best. Made by the oldest cordage establishment in the United States, where quality and honesty are open into every ball of twine. Farmers who insist on seeing the wheat-sheaf tag on every ball of twine save money and avoid harvest delays.
