AND THEY WEAR NO "LETTER"

These Practically Unknown Men Are the "Scrubs." Who Help to Keep the Varsity Team on Edge—They Play the Game For the Game's Sake.

There is no royal road to a thorough knowledge of American college football. The preparation of the varsity eleven is long and hard. The mills of the coaches grind slowly, and they grind exceedingly fine. There is nothing in store for much of the good material that in the end must be relegated to the side line. These men, wrapped in gray blankets, who line the low fence surrounding the field on the day of the big game, are the scrubs, or second team men.

There is a paradox in their situation—their only chance for personal glory lies in the defeat of the varsity eleven. There comes a time in many a big game when a coach, realizing that the day is lost, that his varsity men have done their utmost to no purpose and are being swept steadily down the field, will throw into the game scrub after scrub, hoping against hope that these men will play better than they really have a right to and so turn the tide. And even ten seconds in the big game give the scrub his letter.

So it is in after years that one may point out many a wearer of the letter who was not nearly so good a football player as many scrubs. It has happened, too, that a man has fought for years in the hope of making the eleven, has improved slowly, if surely, has been sent into the big game as a savior and has played a game the like of which has not been seen on the field that season.

Even scrubs take their triumphs and their disappointments differently. There are not a few who are proud to have been on the second team in the year that the first eleven swept all before it. They have no varsity letter, but the discriminating know that they were better players than some of the varsity men of other years. There are other scrubs who bemoan the fact that they were not in college when the general average of the players was low and they would have been almost certain to make the first team. Be it said, however, for the honor of the second team that instances of the latter type are rare. A scrub player learns the lesson of self sacrifice. It is his but to be walked over daily by the varsity, while most of the instruction and encouragement are lavished on said varsity.

As a rule, however, there comes at least one week in the season when the scrubs are pampered and petted and made much of. The varsity is in the throes of a "slump," is lagging, dejected and sullen. It is then that the scrub team suddenly finds that it is being taught to play the game just as if it were to take the field as the first choice against the foe. There is a coach for almost every man, there are words of encouragement, much valuable instruction and a new esprit de corps. Under the new inspiration the second team sweeps the flagging varsity off its feet, humiliates the first string players to the uttermost, while the coaches cheer the scrub and jeer the varsity. At least once a season it is very good to be a scrub, for at least once a season the scrub defeats and humiliates the team that has proved perhaps a terror to all its outside rivals. Nothing has such a salutary effect on the varsity as the eating of humble pie once in a while.

In late years the scrub is getting more consideration than in the old days. Yet the men play principally for the love of the game and in order to make the going as hard as possible for the varsity. Sheer loyalty and the thrill of battle keep them at it year after year. They learn football from the ground up. They see the big games from the side lines and, knowing the signals, have a peculiar advantage over any other spectator. With a knowledge of the signals one may criticize the handling of the big team in the big game—may more readily understand the strategy of coach and quarterback.

It is this opportunity to analyze the big games, coupled with the chance to get practically as good coaching as the varsity, that makes excellent coaches out of many scrub players. Some of these scrubs have gone back to college and turned out freshman teams that have been able to fight the varsity to a standstill and so have astonished the very coaches who taught them. There have been instances of this at nearly every big institution in the east. Sometimes the services of these scrubs have been eagerly sought by the veteran varsity coaches, and many a man without a field reputation has proved to be no mean strategist.

It is really these ex-scrub men who keep up the high average of interest in the game. They are turned out yearly at the rate of five or more to every varsity player. The varsity man may lose interest in the game in after years, but the scrub practically never. It is they who are the backbone of the pilgrimages to West Point, and it is they who talk football far into the night in the club and chop house.

The scrubs, in a word, are unloved and unsung as they are, are the backbone of the game in the colleges and out of them. They play the game and they watch it for the game's sake—New York Post.

Plank Road S. S. Entertainment.

The Plank Road S. S. held its annual Christmas tree and entertainment last Tuesday evening which proved a good success. The program consisted of songs, recitations and instrumental music, and the persons who took part in the dialogues entitled "Married by the Justice of Peace," "Dandelion Dialogue," "Women's Rights," "Child's Philosophy," "Beauty of Life and Beauty of Soul," deserve great praise. The proceeds were $13.00.

A beautiful chair was presented to Mrs. C. Wyckoff, superintendent, from the Sunday School with the following address:—

To Mrs. WYCKOFF,

Supt. Plank Road Union S. S.

Dear Supt.,—Another year has passed, a year that has had its quota along with other years, of trials and struggles more or less severe. And you, as our friend in private life and as Superintendent of this school, have had as we all know, many a trial during the year through which we have just passed, and we, your Sunday School scholars in many cases have carelessly been the means of causing you many of those moments of anxiety.

When the call came to you from Him (who ruleth our destinies) to take charge over us and this school for the year, you bravely answered the call, and have faithfully and energetically served your Master and labored for our spiritual welfare. From Him whom you have served so well rich rewards await you, and from us for whom you many, many times spoke a word in season, we ask you to accept this chair, not in payment for your labors on our behalf, but as a slight token of our appreciation of the great service you rendered us in leading us to know more and more of Him, our Maker and Preserver. We trust that the rest and comfort you may enjoy in the many years to come while reclining in this chair, may rock away the cares of the past year and bring up blessed memories which may resound forever and ever.

Signed on behalf of the Plank Road Union Sunday School,
Dated at Vareney this 13th day of December, 1910.

Mrs. Wyckoff accepting the chair thanked her scholars in a very able manner and wished to be with them next year.

Will Have a Fine Gallery

Mr. E. S. B. Moore will, before very long, be located in what will undoubtedly be the finest photograph gallery in this part of Ontario. He has rented all of the second floor of Mr. F. T. Brook's block, which includes the large stores of the Brook Clothing Co. and Baillie & Co. Workmen are now busy tearing down the old partitions and the work of remodeling the premises will be rushed as fast as contractor, R. Gunton can manage it. It will be seen that Mr. Moore will have an abundance of room and it is his intention to put in photographic appliances and gallery furnishings never before seen in a town the size of Simcoe.—Reformer.

The veterinary director-general's department last week issued an order removing the quarantine regulations in regard to shipping dogs from infected areas in Western Ontario. It is considered that the disease of rabies in Western Ontario is thoroughly stamped out. The regulations have been in force since last February. The muzzling regulations are left in the hands of the provincial and municipal authorities.

Once while away in a far-off country, no matter how well one may be treated or how numerous are the new friends he has made there, he will still sit and ponder on old times old stories and old friends and sigh for hours that have been left behind, but if he is wise, he will have the old home newspaper sent him regularly, to cheer him when he is blue and keep alive those fond memories of the past.
