

MORE VICTIMS.

Another Body Found in Spanish River Wreck.

An Old Man's Sad Task—Ross Thompson Safe.

Sudbury, despatch.—The body of another victim of the wreck near Sudbury was found this afternoon. It was that of Charles Duff, and it is the forty-third body recovered. He came from St. John, N. B., and was on his way to Ashland, Oregon. His sister lives in St. John.

"That's my wife—poor Nellie. And my little boy."

William Hayes, of Pentoga, Mich., broke down and sobbed bitterly. "And my wife's sister, and her little boy," he went on.

This was one of the most pitiful sights the crowded morgue at Sudbury has yet witnessed. William Hayes arrived in the town last night to perform a sad duty. It was his lot to claim as his kin four out of the five unidentified corpses lying side by side on top of coffin boxes, covered with grey blankets. The old man was so broken down with grief that it was impossible to question him. "I'll be back in the morning," he said, and with bowed head he left the deeply touched gathering clustered about the morgue.

Mrs. Nellie Hayes was 50 years of age. Her little son, Charlie, was 3 years old. Mrs. Annie Mahon was 35 years of age, and her little boy was 10 years old. The women had been to Rockingham, Ont., paying a visit to their father, John McDonald, and with their little sons they were on their way home to Pentoga, Mich.

Officials of the wreck received a wire to-day from Ross Thompson, traveller for the Gale Steel Company, Aymer, who is safe at Cache Bay. He had evidently left the train and forgotten some of his effects, which were taken from the water, leading to the belief that his body was also there.

MAY ALSO DIE.

Last of Men Shot at Grafton in a Serious Condition.

Charges of Murder Await Conclusion of Cobourg Inquests.

Cobourg despatch.—George Mancuro, the Italian laborer, who shot and killed two of his countrymen at Grafton on Tuesday, was this morning committed for trial on a charge of attempting to murder James McCormack, of Grafton. McCormack is a steamer, who came on the scene immediately after the shooting, and after being warned away by Mancuro, was fired at twice by him. McCormack resisted the story in the presence of the prisoner in Magistrate W. F. Holland's Court this morning. When his statement was complete it was translated, clause by clause, to Mancuro, who made no reply. In response to the formal query, "Have you anything to say in answer to this charge?" Mancuro merely gave an expressive shrug of the shoulders.

He is a powerfully built man, about 35 years of age, with swarthy Sicilian features, who is the son of the late Francesco Merino and Gregorio Crandione. There may yet be a third charge of murder laid against him, for Nicola Lombardo, who was shot in the arm while endeavoring to keep Mancuro in the shack, is in a very feverish condition to-day, and the doctors fear that blood-poisoning has set in. Owing to Lombardo's serious condition, the authorities decided not to take his evidence to-day, but should his condition grow much worse, his depositions will be taken for fear he should die. Accordingly the charge of attempted murder was adjourned until tomorrow.

DEAD POACHER.

Indications That He Was Killed by Companion.

Niagara Falls despatch.—To-day's investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of George Weigand, the fish dynamiter, who was shot in the Niagara River yesterday, confirm the story of Ontario Game Warden Briggs that Weigand was killed by a bullet fired by Gus A. Egner, his companion in the launch.

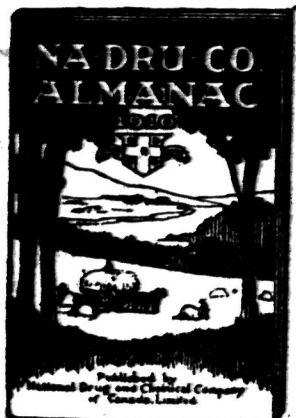

James A. Bugher, of Bridgeburg, who was with Briggs, and several witnesses of the shooting support the game warden's statement that he did not aim at the men in the boat, but fired low to hit the craft on the waterline and disable it for navigation, and that none of his shots hit the dead man. The witnesses also agree that the first shot was fired from the launch, and that Weigand fell dead several minutes after the last shot was fired from the Canadian shore.

The bullet which killed Weigand entered the back of his head, and this also corroborates Briggs' story. No steps have been taken to place Egner under arrest. Whether this will be done or not will be decided after an inquest is held on the body by Coroner Danser of Buffalo, to-night. In order to facilitate a strict inquiry from this end, Divisional Inspector W. H. Mains, of the Ontario police, this morning requested District Attorney Dudley, of Erie county, New York, to hand the body over to the Canadian authorities at Bridgeburg.

If this suggestion is complied with an inquest will be held at Bridgeburg and the witnesses examined. It is doubtful, however, if this course will be taken. It is understood, on good authority, that the American authorities are in possession of sufficient evidence to convince them that the fatal shot was fired by Egner.

STABBED HIM.

Young Russian Stranger Attacked by Unknown Italian.

Attempt at Robbery If Not Murder at High Park.

Toronto despatch.—Sedra Budchera, a Russian, who arrived in the city on Wednesday from Sudbury, was taken to High Park by an Italian, who attempted to stab him and rob him after getting the man away where his cries could not be heard. Budchera met the Italian at the Union Station. The Russian could not speak very much English, and desired to find some of his countrymen. He spoke with the Italian, and they managed to make one another understand slightly. The Italian offered to take him to a Russian hotel, and after Budchera secured his valise they started off together. They took a car going west, but the Russian was surprised at the distance which they had to travel, as he thought they were going to a foreign settlement on the outskirts of the city. They entered High Park at one of the northerly gates and walked towards the lake. It was late in the afternoon and darkness had just started to fall when they neared the Queen street entrance. Suddenly the Italian dropped back a step and struck Budchera on the back of the head. The Russian was stunned, and while he lay on the ground his assailant stabbed him twice in the neck. Fortunately the wounds glared off and will not prove serious. The Italian opened Budchera's valise and pulled out the contents, but it contained nothing of value. The injured man came to a few minutes later, and when trying to find his way out of the park he met a woman, who took him to David's boat-house. P. C. Ross was called in, and went to the park, where he found the man's valise and most of the contents. The Russian is being held by the police, who are looking into the case.

A NEW RADIAL.

Financiers Ask Legislature for Incorporation.

Toronto, Jan. 31.—The promoters of a new radial railway to run between Toronto and Orillia are applying to the Legislature for incorporation. The particulars, as filed with the Clerk of the Legislature yesterday, give the name of the concern as the Monarch Company. The intention is to run a local service between Toronto and Orillia and a "limited" line parallel to the Metropolitan as far as Aurora, where it turns, passing through Holland Landing, Bradford, Deerpark, Churchhill, Stroud, and Allandale. A number of branches are proposed, one to western shore of Lake Simcoe in the summer, and another to Markham.

It is proposed to capitalize the company at one million dollars with bonds to the amount of $2,500,000. The incorporators are Messrs. W. H. Price, Chas. M. Garbey, Jas. F. Coughlin, N. B. Lindsay and Steffen F. Adalis, the latter representing French capital.

A BAD NEGRO.

Attacked Chatham Girl on a Deserted Street.

Saved by Appearance of Young Man on Scene.

Chatham, Ont., despatch.—Mill Vella Willson, a young lady, residing on Wildside street, this city, was roughly attacked by a negro while returning home from the Public Library at half-past 9 o'clock last evening. The young lady was alone, and there was no one on the street at the time. When passing the residence of Major McLaren, on Park street, the negro approached her from behind, and placed his hands over her eyes. The young lady struggled herself free, and her screams attracted a young man in a nearby house, and his arrival on the scene frightened the negro away. The young lady made a desperate fight, and used her umbrella freely over the negro's head. Apart from her fright, the young lady was not injured, and her escape is entirely due to her plucky fight. The negro was a short, stout, well-set fellow, with a broad flat face. He wore a sweater, great coat and a black slouch hat. His identity is not known, and no clues have been discovered in connection with the case. Miss Willson is the fifth lady to be attacked in this way by negroes in the last few weeks, although it is suspected that the offender is the same man in each case. The incident has caused a wave of indignation to sweep over the whole city.

MANY COMING.

Over 90,000 Americans Landed in Canada Last Year.

Washington, Jan. 31.—More than 90,000,000 worth of Americans were exported to Canada last year. That, at least, is the effect of emigration from the United States to Canada in 1909, according to the report of the United States Consul General, of Windsor, Ont. The total number of emigrants from the United States for the year was 90,148, and the Canadian Immigration Commissioner has estimated that the average wealth of these American settlers was $1,000.

"There are several reasons advanced by authorities for the large increase of immigration into Canadian territory," says Consul General, "but the one given the most credence is the easy manner in which homestead lands can be obtained and the inducements held out to prospective settlers."

Wilmur Kenny, residing at Seely's Bay, met with a peculiar accident while skating near the school-house. He carried a sharp axe on his shoulder and fell, with the axe under him. It cut between the short ribs on the right side, inflicting a wound large enough to expose the lung.

BIG FLOODS IN FRANCE.

The City of Paris is Now Partly Under Water.

Rivers Continue to Rise—Much Loss of Life.

Paris, Jan. 31.—When the day broke over Paris and the submerged provinces surrounding the prospect was a cheerless one. A heavy rain had set in and a brisk breeze out of the north served to drive the flood to points which had heretofore escaped its invasion. Throughout yesterday the spirits of the afflicted people rose and fell with the flood, but during the night there was little encouragement and with the early hours of to-day came a decided change for the worse. The temperature moderated to-day, and in some instances the suffering of the homeless ones was alleviated. Messages of sympathy from the outside, manifold contributions, was another feature of the situation that afforded causes for thanksgiving.

Telegraphic communication with the outside was extremely defective to-day and at times wholly interrupted. There is no direct communication between this city and England and messages for central Europe generally were diverted through indirect routes. It was feared this morning that it might be impossible after a little, to transmit any great amount of the press matter with which the offices of the telegraph and cable companies were heavily burdened. Early to-day the French cable company announced that communication between this city and the provinces was difficult and at times interrupted.

The morning found a great force of masons still at work on the erection of a wall, which it was hoped would divert the flood from the historic Hotel Lambert and the famous Hotel Lauzun adjoining. The Rue St. Lazare was inundated throughout its extent by water, which had found its way up through the subway. The roof of the subway under the Place de l'Opera fell in during the night.

The Isle of St. Louis is fast disappearing beneath the waters and unless the conditions change soon will be submerged. The Seine continued to rise early to-day and lacked but a few inches of attaining the greatest flood maximum on record.

The boiling waters of the Seine were still rising at noon to-day at the rate of an inch and a quarter an hour. There is a steady downpour of rain and the temperature is falling. Everywhere the situation is appreciably worse than yesterday. The sewers with which the foundation of Paris is honeycombed have complicated and added to recent flood disasters. The main sewers are eighteen feet in diameter and the total length of the network of drains is 900 miles. Under flood pressure these vast tunnels burst and frequently undermined the foundations of the buildings. As these tubes contain water conduits, Gas pipes, telegraph, telephone and power wires as well as the pneumatic postal tubes, the effects of a bursting sewer are widespread and serious.

The catacombs extending under a considerable part of the left river bank, afford another refuge for the vagrant waters. The subways opened in 1900 furnish further underground avenues from the flood. The main subway line runs east and west through the centre of the city from the Porte de Vincennes to Port Maillot, a distance of seven miles.

FARMERS WON'T SELL. Nevada, Mo., Jan. 31.—Three hundred farmers of Vernon County have agreed not to sell any cattle, hogs, poultry, eggs or butter for 60 days beginning February 1. Their action is a protest against the statements of the large packing house interests that the farmer and stockman is responsible for the high prices of foodstuffs.

A letter will be sent to all the farmers' associations in the United States requesting them to withhold their products from the market.

Plain Talks to Women.

Children's Skin Troubles, Cuts, Etc.

Every healthy child gets them, and every mother has to "put something on." What do YOU put on?

When you put an ointment on to a child's skin it gets into the blood through the pores just as surely as if you put it into the child's stomach. Did you ever think of that? How important, therefore, that the salve or balm should be pure!

Zam-Buk is absolutely pure; contains no animal fat; no mineral coloring matter; no acid astringents; no burning antiseptics—yet it is antiseptic! It is purely herbal, and thus meets all the needs of the skin in that superior and all-powerful way in which nature alone provides.

Children like Zam-Buk best because as soon as applied it stops the pain and the smarting of the injury or sore place. Healing then sets in immediately.
