BLOOD DISEASES CURED

Dra. K. & K. Established 20 Years

He was surprised at how the New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twenty years. I had consulted a score of physicians taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, pains of the hands, scaling, itchininess of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish.

Sailing On A Plank In Jarvis.

It was many years ago when us boys used to sail on a plank on Talbot street north of the Exchange Hotel. The culbert where the water crossed Main street would freeze full of ice in winter, then in the Spring we had plenty of water to sail. We used to take a plank from the sidewalk sixteen feet long, then with a pole to push ourselves along we were happy. But as we got older we ventured down Hickory Creek. We would launch our plank in the creek at the end of Walpole street and go sailing with the tide down under the bridge on Talbot St., and land on Mr. Jones' farm. Then two of us would land that plank back to Walpole street, then the other boy would sail down. When we came near the bridge we would lay our pole on the plank between our feet and stooping over grasp the sides of the plank and run under the bridge. Although this was fun I thought I would be smarter than the other boys so I made the run backwards, safe and dry. This made me the hero for a minute but the next time down one of the boys (it was no name) put down a board on the end of my plank and sent me head first into the cold water. I ran for the sidewalk, my long boots full of water. I was hugging the stove, trying to dry my clothes when the teacher arrived and asked what had happened. I told him that I fell into the creek, so we were forbidden to go to the creek.

OVER FORTY YEARS AGO. It was over forty years ago I saw three men standing on the street in Jarvis and I heard the conversation. The late Robt. Waidbrook—what will be the future of Jarvis one hundred years hence? The late John Bull, Esq.— Jarvis will become a great city and stretch out and take in Jarvis and Hagersville and the city hall will be built on my premises in Hullsville. Stranger—Hagersville will feather her nest and set on it, Jarvis will feather her nest and set on it, and they will turn to the right and turn to the left and look at Hullsville until one hundred years from now there will not be such a place as Hullsville. The late R. Waidbrook, Esq. Oh! my poor old bones. They all had a good laugh as they parted. Hullsville at that time was a prosperous village but now there is it. T. BUTCHER.

Mosquito Story.

Sometime ago I read an article in the Port Dover Herald from the pen of James Low, jr. it was entitled mosquitos and I thought I would try my hand. Now do not think that I vouch for the truthfulness of this article. One night the good bug Walker P. Tremble was caught in a gale and had to run for shelter in behind the bar below Second Island. I was the owner and the crew was as follows:—Frank Jackson, captain; Thomas Cooper, engineer; John Spain, wheelman; David Low, Charles Low and W. M. Alderson, deck hands. We let go our mud hook, the fire was banked and we prepared to turn in and sleep. It was extremely sultry and with the heat of the boiler we found to sleep below deck was an impossibility, and on deck swarms of mosquitos banished all thought of rest. At length Jack proposed that we go ashore and go to the south beach, a distance of about two miles. It was woods all the way, the moon was nearly full and was shining brightly, not a cloud in the sky. We all agreed for we felt sure of a cool breeze on the south beach and off we started and when we were about half way across we wished ourselves back on the tug again. The skeeters were in clouds and voracious as famished wolves. We were at our wits end as to what to do when Frank called out look at the kettle and sure enough there was a potash kettle fully four feet high and nearly as broad. Tom said, let us sit down in a circle and turn the pot over us, no sooner said than done. Now we felt sure we were secure from the mosquito pest. We had not been long under the kettle before Dave began to complain of the darkness. Tom said I can soon fix that. He had been making some repairs on the engine after dark and when the repairs were completed had put the candle in his pocket along with a small riveting hammer. He struck a match and lit the candle; we now had plenty of light. Now that was the time we made a mistake for as soon as the skeeters saw the light they came in millions and covered the kettle. Now Frank and Charlie being weary had leaned their backs up against the side of the kettle and gone to sleep, but their rest was short for it was not many minutes before the bills of those skeeters were jabbed through the kettle and into Frank's back which woke him up and he said many words not found in any Sunday School book I ever read. But Tom again came to our relief in fine style, he took his little hammer and set to with good will and great speed to clench the skeeters' bills as they came through. He soon had many thousands of them fast and there again we made a sad mistake, for all at once the boss skedder yelled out, now my hearties all together, and away they flew with that kettle and just then I heard a voice high pitched and not all melodious call out, I have called you three times, are you going to sleep all day. I awoke and instead of being on Long Point I was at home in bed, all had vanished, it was but a dream. CAPT. W. M. ALDERSON.

Country Newspapers.

The country editors of Canada perform in the aggregate more gratuitous public service than any other class of men in public life. A generous poet says kind words for the country newspaper as to its influence in the community in which it is published: Trade hardly deems the busy day begun Till his keen eye along the sheet has run; The blooming daughter throws her needle by And reads her schoolmate's marriage with a sigh; While the grave mother puts her glasses on And gives a tear to some old cry gone. The preacher, too, his Sunday theme lays down. To know what last new folly fills the town. Yet the country newspaper, these recorders of local history, receive but a fraction of the compensation they rightly earn. City printers canvass the country towns for all the profitable jobs of the local business men—men whom the editors unselfishly serve, and then expect the editor to boom the town and its business without any help from them.

Signals of Distress.

Jarvis People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them

Sick kidneys give many signals of distress. The secretions are dark, contain sediment. Passages are frequent, scanty. Backache is constant day and night. Headaches and dizzy spells are frequent. The weakened kidneys need quick help. Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy. Booth's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, backache, and urinary disorders. Jarvis evidence proves this. Mr. Andrew Hough of Jarvis, Ont. says, "There was a constant depressed feeling across my stomach, pains would catch me and leave me in a most miserable condition. My appetite had been very poor and my general health had not been good for over a year. I had tried numerous prescriptions to relieve this feeling but there was nothing to benefit me. Mr. Morrow the grocer advised me to try a box of Booth's Kidney Pills which I did and was surprised at the quick results. The pains lessened and my appetite improved. The urine that had for a long time been of a high color, cleared to natural and I have enjoyed the best of health since." Sold by Dealers. Price 50 cents. The E. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont., Sole Canadian Agents.

Fifteen Dollars Is A Popular Price for a Suit of Clothes.

Ours is a popular store in more ways than one. Hence—but you see the connection. As warm weather draws nigh there is a special desire on the part of young men (and are not all men young, by present standards?) to appear these bright spring days in new fresh spring attire. A really remarkable achievement.

FIFTEEN DOLLARS will buy a fine Navy or Black English Worsteds Suit that will keep its shape and color down to the last notch, "Progress Brand" and so on, and so on, and so on the variety is—We were going to say "endless" but it is certainly extensive enough to justify the use of that word in its commercial sense if not in its literal meaning.

FIFTEEN DOLLARS will buy an imported Tweed Suit, pure fine wool. A decidedly choice range of patterns. "Progress Brand."

FIFTEEN DOLLARS will buy a neat all wool suit in quiet shades of Grey in fine stripes and checks. "Progress Brand."
