The members of the Woman's Auxiliary have presented a handsome bound set of service books to the church. These books have the necessary changes in the state prayers, consequent on the death of the late King and the Accession of King George, with the bestowal of the title "Prince of Wales" upon Prince Edward. Hollowe'en passed off quietly in town. The usual gate removing, tick-tacking and other petty pranks were indulged in. However on Saturday evening two large storm windows, belonging to the residence of J. C. Sanderson, now occupied by Mr. Porter, were badly smashed. When a few harmless amusements are participated in no notice is taken of it, but when property is destroyed it is time to call a halt.

Thanksgiving Message

Ideal climatic conditions, freedom from tornadoes, earthquakes, anarchists and the like and no serious social or political problems are not in themselves sufficient to set a country talking about itself. Unaccompanied by a productive soil, varied enough to grow grain, fruit and flowers in abundance, and a people intelligent enough to cultivate the land and cause it to produce to its utmost capacity if necessary, these other favorable conditions could not make a country great, nor its people contented and happy. But combine all these good qualities as we have them in Canada and we have a condition of things that should make the people who enjoy them, truly thankful. Do Canadians fully appreciate the rich heritage they possess in this splendid country? Other countries may shine brightly in one or two things. But compare them with the many features in which Canada excels, and he is a poor specimen of humanity who cannot find ample reason for rejoicing at this thanksgiving season. 1910 has dealt generously with Canada. There is enough for our needs and to spare from the land. The West has not done as well as last year in the harvest line, but the east has done better. A good average has been secured, and the enhanced value makes the 1910 crop as valuable as any ever reaped from the land. If there are any people who should enjoy the thanksgiving holiday this year, it should be the people of Canada.
