MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and never found any medicine to compare with it."

Gardiner, Me.—"I was a great sufferer from a female disease. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months."

"Yes," said Joan, contentedly; "it is great fun watching the dancers." "Most young ladies think it greater fun to dance," he said.

Joan watched him go across the room and offer him arm to Julia, who, beaming with smiles, danced the next waltz with him.

Joan flushed, and there flashed into her heart a feeling of gratitude to the colonel, that he had, in a fit of generosity, had taught her dancing.

Joan stopped dead short, and flushed. "I think I am tired now," she said, quietly.

Lord Villiers bit his lip. He had let the speech slip out unawares, and it had frightened him.

Joan sat down and drew a long breath of relief as the cool air fanned her flushed face. Her heart was beating wildly.

Joan shook her head. "I was thinking," she said, "how differently fate had treated you and me. My great complaint is that I have exhausted all the pleasure in life."

A wild longing was gradually rising within him: a longing to take her away from this spot, from the dreary cliffs, and, worse than their solitude, the society of the two powdered, painted girls...

Joan laughed. "And if you do not find it so, you will blame me, I suppose?" "I should never blame you," he said, gravely.

But Joan, being innocent, was unconscious, and Lord Villiers, though neither innocent nor unconscious, was perfectly indifferent. At the same time he saw that he should only be making trouble for her if he did not take care, and he led her back to her seat.

WHEN HEALTH IS RUN DOWN

A Tonic Such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Promptly Needed.

When the health is run down from any cause whatever, a tonic is needed. A feeling of weakness, poor appetite, loss of breath after slight exertion, indicates that a complete breakdown is near.

CHAS. NAGEL. Washington.—The name of Secretary Chas. Nagel, of the department of commerce and labor, has replaced that of the late Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers as a prospective appointee to the supreme bench.

SENATOR W. P. FRYE.

And now it is reported that another of the New England reactionary senators will retire—voluntarily, of course—at the end of his present term. Senator Frye, Hale's colleague, and the daddy of them all in point of years, is the next one scheduled to walk the plank at the behest of progressive voters.

SUFFRAGE MATTERS.

Miss Agnes Dean Cameron, who recently accomplished a journey of 20,000 miles in behalf of the Canadian Government, going to the edge of the Arctic Ocean, and to places where no white woman had been before, believes in woman suffrage. She says: "In Canada a woman is as much a factor in the country's development and destiny as the man is, and has it in her power to do as much as the man to lay the foundation of a strong commonwealth on sane lines."
