THE POOR DOG.

Provincial Officer Says Muzzling May Be Made Permanent.

For some time past the sportsmen of the Province have been raising a "rumpus" about the muzzling order and the damper that its continued enforcement will put upon hunting in the north this fall. The reports of these complaints, which have appeared in the press, have provoked a warm retort from Dr. McCullough, Secretary of the Board.

In a statement made yesterday he characterized the agitation for the removal of the muzzling order as due in a measure to "irresponsible newspapers." He declared that 90 animals examined have given positive evidence of rabies and that the danger is not yet over. It would be the utmost folly to allow any relaxation of the regulations.

"The fault for the continuance of the muzzling order lies at the door of the local Boards of Health, whose duty it is to enforce the regulations. In a great many municipalities no effort whatever is made to enforce the law. Unless there is a change in this respect it may result in the muzzling order being made permanent."

A MEAN JOKE

Rev. Frank Vipond Presented With a Bogus Cheque For $500.

Supposed to be Answer to Appeal for Aid Toward Building New Edifice.

Toronto, Sept. 26.—Some unknown person in the city is responsible for a most contemptible trick, the victims of which were the rector and wardens of St. Barnabas Church, Chester. In reply to an appeal which the officers of the church have made for money, the persons sent them a present of a cheque for $500, which upon presentation proved to be worthless.

The whole circumstances of the case are very mean. St. Barnabas Church is situated in a part of the city which has been growing very rapidly, and the congregation found enlarged accommodation necessary. The new building was started last June, and it is about half completed. An effort was started a few weeks ago to raise an additional $5,000 and last Sunday the Rev. Frank Vipond, rector of the parish, made an urgent appeal for $500 to meet the immediate requirements. On Wednesday morning his mail included a letter which enclosed a cheque for $500. This cheque was made out on the Bank of Toronto and bore the account number 91, the sender and donor being Mr. C. P. O'Grave, whose address was given as 16 Park road. The letter had given appearance of being authentic, and Mr. Vipond immediately wrote a warm letter of thanks to the unknown friend of the church. Without delay he sent the cheque to the bank and notified the parish officers that enough money had been forthcoming for immediate necessities. Yesterday morning, Mr. Vipond received word that the cheque was a bogus one and that the Bank of Toronto had no such account. He then proceeded to make the investigations which he had neglected when the welcome cheque arrived and relieved the financial situation. He discovered that there was no such person as Mr. C. P. O'Grave, and there was not a house at 16 Park road.

An effort will be made to find the perpetrator of the trick. If the matter were placed in the hands of the Crown, proceedings could be instituted, as the issuing of such a cheque is a criminal offence.

TAKING MEN BACK

Mr. Hays Says Grand Trunk Will Keep Agreement.

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—The position of the Grand Trunk employees who went out on strike and have not since been restored to employment in the service of the road was brought to the attention of President Chas. M. Hays here today by Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways.

Mr. Hays intimated that the agreement with the men's representatives, Hon. Mackenzie King and Sir Frederick Borden, was that as many as possible of the men who had not committed acts of violence would be given employment again within the ninety days of the date of settlement of the strike. He said that seventy-five per cent. of the employees have been taken back and given their former places, though only two-thirds of the ninety-day period had expired. Mr. Hays is understood to have given assurance that the company had every desire to live up to the terms of the settlement, and that there would be further restorations during the thirty days of the terms which still remain.

Suit for Libel.

Montreal despatch: The Montreal Street Railway entered an action for libel against the Montreal Star today in the Superior Court, claiming $100,000 as damages suffered by it on account of statements by the newspaper at various times. The street railway alleges that for some months the paper has conducted a systematic campaign against it by printing unfair headlines, distorting facts, and giving incorrect reports of accidents or legal proceedings in which the company was involved.

MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION

Mr. W. H. Rowley, of Hull, Chosen President for the Year.

British Columbia Business Act Not So Stringent After All.

Presentation of Reports on Transportation, Insurance, Etc.

Vancouver, B. C., despatch: The election of officers of the Manufacturers' Association this morning resulted as follows:

President, W. H. Rowley, Hull, Que.

Vice-President, Nathaniel Curry, Montreal.

Provincial Vice-Presidents, T. B. Rogers, British Columbia; S. N. Dougal, Quebec; J. P. Edwards, Nova Scotia; T. R. Deacon, Manitoba; T. S. Sims, New Brunswick; Hon. S. L. Hazzard, Prince Edward Island; W. H. Clarke, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Treasurer, George Booth.

This morning the association convened in the Board of Trade rooms, because preparations were in progress in the Dominion Hall for the grand banquet which closes the convention this evening.

Mr. Ewing Buchan, President of the Board of Trade, in welcoming the manufacturers, took occasion to say that in Industrial Canada, the association's monthly, it had been suggested that British Columbia was anti-Canadian in regard to the companies act. He thought this was due to a misunderstanding. In British Columbia they had had a companies act for many years. An amendment was brought forward in the Legislature and passed before the Board of Trade and other organizations discussed it. A deputation went to Victoria to interview the Attorney-General, who said he could not alter the act, but invited suggestions for amendment. As a matter of fact, the British Columbia companies act was less stringent than those in other Provinces.

Mr. Heaton read the report of the committee on insurance, which contained the following information:

In no previous year has there been an equal volume of business transacted. Your committee believes it to be desirable to refer to the relationship between the insurance department and the Mutual Insurance Companies organized under the auspices of the association. At the meeting of the executive council in June, 1908, it was decided to move forward with the work of the department with that of the mutual insurance companies, partly because the companies required the services of the manager of the department. It was then agreed that the association should allow the companies the sum of $1,000 per annum, as previously mentioned, as a reasonable allowance to cover the share of the salaries and expenses of the staff of the companies (including the manager), on the general work of the department and for that of the mutual insurance companies. This agreement was confronted by the 1908 and 1909 conventions, and in recommending its renewal for the current year your committee has thought it desirable to let the members know the conditions actually existing between the two organizations. While there is now a much closer relationship between the two than was contemplated at the start, the association has no more responsibility to the companies now than then; the closer alliance has undoubtedly benefited both, and the committee believes the association will be well pleased with the progress of the companies created under their auspices when the report of their representative is presented.

The railway and transportation committee's report, presented by Mr. Walsh, stated that whilst an analysis of the new freight tariff showed an increase in rates on the whole, in view of the fact that such rates are lower than generally in effect, and as all interested are practically on the same footing, the committee did not feel justified in entering a protest.

As to the policy of the railways in adopting the mileage basis in regard to commodity rates, the committee is of the opinion that it is not in the best interests of either the railways or the public.

The adjustment of through rates on manufactured articles, the product of Canadian industries, is still in many cases against Canada, thus offsetting to a large extent any protection afforded by the tariff, although it is believed that the railways are coming to the view that it is in their best interests to assist in the development of home production.

So far as the committee could ascertain, no definite steps have been taken to sanction the increase.

The reports were adopted.

LAURA SECORD.

Work on Monument at Queenston Heights Has Been Completed.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 26.—The monument to the memory of Laura Secord, the heroine of the war of 1812-13, has been erected at Queenston Heights. The work was completed today. The date of the unveiling has not yet been announced. The monument bears the following inscription: "This monument has been erected by the Government of Canada to Laura Ingalls Secord, who saved her husband's life in the battle of these Heights on October 13, 1813; who risked her own in conveying to Captain Fitzgibbon the information by which he won the victory of Beaver Dams on July 24, 1813."

DEATH RATE

Lowest in United States Ever Recorded—Fifteen a Thousand.

Washington, Sept. 26.—The death rate in the United States for 1909 was fifteen in each thousand, according to a bulletin about to be issued by the Census Bureau, and this is the lowest average ever recorded for this country. The figures cover only the cities and states having laws requiring the registration of deaths and these represent an estimated total population of 48,776,893 or 55.3 per cent. of the estimated total for the entire country.

The total number of deaths recorded was 732,338, of which 398,587 or over 54 per cent. were of males. The greatest mortality occurred in March and the lowest in June. In 1908 the number was 15.4 per cent., the last year indicating a falling off of almost half of one per cent.

Excellent as the showing is, it was not so good as was made in England, where the rate was only 14.5 to the thousand. The low rate in both countries is attributed to the absence of widespread epidemics.

PROF. JACKSON

Demands An Explanation of Statements From Rev. Dr. Cleaver.

Declares He Was Misrepresented at the Methodist Conference.

Toronto despatch—"I write to ask what explanation you have to offer and what kind of reparation you promise to make for the wrong you have done me." This is the concluding paragraph of a letter which Prof. George Jackson, of Victoria College has written to Rev. Dr. Solomon Cleaver since his return from abroad. It is an echo of the Methodist General Conference discussion on the orthodoxy of Professor Jackson.

In sending a copy of his letter to The Globe Professor Jackson says: "I enclose herewith a letter addressed by me a week ago to the Rev. Dr. Cleaver. Dr. Cleaver has to-day replied, expressing regret if he has done me any injustice, but adding that he cannot condemn himself for the use that he has made of my words, inasmuch as he thinks he only gave to them their natural interpretation. He adds, moreover, that, much as I may protest against 'Unitarianism,' I persist in teaching its very essence."

Under these circumstances I have no alternative but to ask you to give to the correction the same publicity as has already been given to the original misstatement. I entirely acquit Dr. Cleaver of any intention to misrepresent me; he is altogether too good a man for that, but at the present moment he is suffering from a kind of intellectual squint which prevents him from seeing things as they are, or distinguishing things that differ.

PROFESSOR JACKSON'S LETTER.

The communication to Dr. Cleaver is as follows:

Dear Dr. Cleaver, I have only just returned from England and am only now learning what happened in the recent Conference at Victoria.

I am utterly weary of this business, in which you and I have figured so prominently, and if I can help it, not one yard further will I be dragged through the controversial mire; but there is one point on which I must ask an immediate explanation from you.

In the resolution submitted by you to the Conference, and reported in this week's Christian Guardian, you quote, as the ground of the condemnation which you asked the Conference to pass upon my teaching, several sentences from my writings. The last of these runs as follows:

"On a question of moral duty Jesus is to be listened to; on this matter (the casting out of devils) He is simply to be ignored."

You led the Conference to suppose that this sentence represented my own attitude towards Jesus Christ.

What are the facts? The sentence is taken, not from my book on the Old Testament, but from an article on the problem of Demoniacal Possession, contributed by me to The Methodist Review (an organ of the American M. E. Church, South), in July last. The paragraph to which it belongs—and this is the point to which I want to call your attention—describes, not my position, but that of those to whom Jesus is "only the greatest of our religious teachers"; a position which you must surely know I utterly repudiate. If you had but turned back one page of the Review from which you were quoting (or rather misquoting), you would have found these words: "For the New Testament stance who accepts, as the present writer does unreservedly, with his whole mind and heart, the church's teaching concerning Jesus Christ, etc." Why did you not read that to the Conference? You were referring to an article written by an absent brother minister, which probably not half a dozen of your hearers had seen, and you were therefore, doubly bound to be fair. Yet, in your eagerness to make out a case against me, and to damage me in the eyes of my brethren, you put a construction upon my words which a moment's thought ought to have shown you they could not possibly bear.

I wish to ask what explanation you have to offer, and what kind of reparation you propose to make for the wrong you have done me. Yours sincerely,

George Jackson.

Chief Clerk Dismissed.

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—Joseph A. Freegon, chief clerk and accountant at the Printing Bureau, has been added to the list of officials at the bureau whose services have been dispensed with as a result of the re-organization which Hon. Charles Murphy has been carrying out for the past three months.

SHED HIS CLOTHES

Doukhotobor Passenger Strips on London Depot Platform.

Was Getting Near to Nature's Garb When Constables Stopped Him.

London despatch: A startling but rather amusing incident that at the same time excited the sympathy of many occurred at the Grand Trunk depot yesterday morning on the arrival of train No. 6 from Chicago.

A Doukhotobor, en route from Chicago to New York, according to his ticket, alighted from the train as it pulled in. He walked to the middle of the platform, and there proceeded to divest himself of his clothing.

He first threw his hat to the platform, then his coat and vest, then took off the heavy leather belt which he had buckled around his waist and threw it some distance from him.

As it landed on the board platform there was a heavy thud and a rattle of money. And later investigation showed that the belt was lined with bills and silver.

Following the belt came the man's braces. By this time everyone on the depot had been attracted by the unusual actions of the man. The station constables were busy getting the people on their right trains, and did not at first see the man.

The shirt was quickly unbuttoned and jerked off, and the man stood uncovered from the waist up.

At this point Constable Logan ran up and grabbed him. He was taken into the men's waiting room and ordered to dress. When the re-garbing act was completed he was put back on the train again.

The constable and others felt sorry for the man, as it was clearly evident that he was sick, and also that he was a little out of his head.

THE BOY SCOUTS.

General Baden-Powell Sees Roosevelt and Asks His Co-operation.

New York, Sept. 26.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt has decided to get an early start for the Saratoga convention. He determined a few days ago not to leave for the convention until Monday afternoon, but to-day it was announced that he had decided to start at noon on Sunday.

Visitors were numerous this forenoon. Roosevelt's city headquarters. The Colonel's non-political visitors included Lieut. General Baden-Powell, the British soldier, Ernest Thompson-Seton and Dan Beard. These three came together and urged upon the Colonel the importance of the "Boy Scouts of America" movement in which they are interested. Gen. Baden-Powell said that they were assured of the Colonel's co-operation in furthering the aims of the society which were primarily educational and not military, contrary to the general impression, the General said.

CHILD'S BODY

Found in Rafters of a House in Stratford—Eaten by Rats.

Stratford despatch: Young Harry Dockerill, while hunting for pigeons in the attic of his father's residence, 195 Ontario street, found the body of a child half eaten by rats, lying between two joists.

So badly decomposed was the body that Dr. Rankin was unable to discern the sex of the child, which he believes was placed in the attic probably a year ago.

One of the bedrooms of the Dockerill family is situated immediately below the place where the body was found, and they have been annoyed for some time, indeed since they moved into the house three months ago, by an inexplicable odor, the origin of which is now explained.

The police are working on the case, and an inquest has been ordered.

LABOR MEN

Favor International Union in Event of an International Strike.

London, Sept. 26.—With a view to strengthening the seamen's position in the event of an international strike against the shipping federation, a conference of delegates representing 100,000 men and thirteen trades unions, covering the dock and transport workers of Great Britain, has pronounced unanimously in favor of an international union. Representatives of the French and American dock workers are in attendance.

ROYAL ALLIANCE.

Kaiser's Daughter May Wed Possible Heir to Austrian Throne.

Berlin, Sept. 25.—It is reported in connection with the Kaiser's present visit to Vienna that the engagement is being arranged of the Kaiser's only daughter, Victoria Louise, to the Archduke Karl Franz, eldest son of the late Archduke Otto. Archduke Karl would be Emperor of Austria failing the succession of Franz Ferdinand. There are religious differences in the way, as the Archduke Karl is a Roman Catholic.

GERMAN DEFICIT.

Revenue Nearly $11,000,000 Short of Budget Estimates.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—The Government is still struggling with the problem of revenue which failed of solution through the fiscal explanation of 1909. It has been rumored for some months that the Government intended to introduce at the next session of the Reichstag a bill providing for additional taxation. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, however, has recently had a conference with the Cabinet, at which a decision was reached to postpone action in the matter until after the elections to the Reichstag, which it is expected will be held in the autumn of 1911. The conclusion generally accepted is that the Government is unwilling to risk the political effect of new fiscal legislation prior to the election.

According to the figures for the first five months, it appears probable that the revenue for the present fiscal year from new taxes will fall $10,750,000 short of the Budget estimates, which placed the expenditure at about 30 per cent. less than they proved to be.

FRENCH FLAG

Mayor of Montreal Censured by Committee For Slighting It.

Montreal despatch: The City Council disposed of the flag question, which has been a bone of contention during and since the Eucharistic Congress, by this afternoon adopting the report of the Reception Committee, which named Mayor Guerin for disrepute, and provided flags from municipal buildings should be in the hands of the City Clerk. The trouble arose through the relegation to the rear of the City Hall of the tricolor, and the placing on the postoffice at the right of the main tower the "Irish Flag" during the Congress. At to-day's Council meeting some acrimonious speeches were indulged in, Ald. Tetreault declaring that those who hoped to sweep the French language from the continent had a big task before them.

The committee, composed largely of French-Canadians, passed the following resolution: "Under these circumstances your committee does not think that the Superintendent of the City Hall is to blame, but it cannot refrain from judging the attitude of the Mayor as showing the lack of courtesy, especially since the Mayor was an active member of the committee; and it would have been easy for him, instead of ignoring its members, to confer with them and arrange the question of flags to the satisfaction of all."

A LONG MARCH.

Duke of Connaught Visited Queen's Own in Camp.

Salisbury, Sept. 26.—The "Red" and "Blue" forces are in position for a big battle early to-morrow. They are merely manoeuvring to-day.

The Queen's Own Rifles are eager for blood. They are now in the centre of the "Red" position, after a march of fifteen miles along the Avon River. They stood the march well, and are in fine condition. The Duke of Connaught and Lord Roberts both visited the Queen's Own camp this evening.

One of the aeroplanes made a short flight this morning, but owing to the heavy mist the officer in charge was not able to see anything of the enemy.

FRANK JACKSON

Game Across Willingly to Stand Trial in Chatham Tragedy.

Windsor, Ont., despatch—Frank Jackson, 23 years old, wanted in Chatham, was brought from Toledo yesterday by Detective Greer, of Toronto, accompanied by Detective Blandly, of Toledo, who made the arrest. Jackson is wanted in connection with the killing of Jacob Enzor, another negro, during a drunken brawl on the night of June 10. The prisoner offered no objection to crossing the border and was taken back to Chatham last night to stand trial. James Johnson, a Detroit negro, who was arrested some time ago in connection with the case, is expected to give evidence against him.

SUPREME COURT.

Several Important Suits to Come Before Court in October.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 26.—The Supreme Court will have the heavy list of 52 cases to deal with at the October sitting. There are four cases from Ontario, three of which are important constitutional references on disputed points of jurisdiction between the Dominion and the Provinces. One of these is as to authority over fisheries. Another is the right of the Dominion to enact insurance legislation. This arises from the decision of Judge Dupuis in Montreal that the Insurance Act was ultra vires. The third case is whether companies incorporated by the Province have authority to do business outside the Province which incorporated them.
