The Control of Bovine Tuberculosis.

The issue of the Report of the International Commission on the Control of Bovine Tuberculosis is of significant interest at the present time particularly in view of the active public demand for some definite and authoritative pronouncement in consideration of the whole situation as regards Bovine Tuberculosis in its relation to the welfare of the Live Stock Industry and to its influence on public health. The economic importance of the subject has occasioned a very great deal of discussion in scientific and agricultural circles and has led to the adoption by various legislative and municipal bodies of measures for the suppression and eradication of this great scourge of domesticated animals and for the protection of the people against infection through the consumption of diseased meat or polluted milk. It has long been felt, however, that for the North American Continent a really efficient and satisfactory programme could only be arranged and undertaken with any prospect of uniform and permanent success through concerted action on the part of the governments of both the United States and Canada and only also when the legislation enacted or policy adopted was in substantial agreement with the expressed views of representative authorities of both countries.

The Report referred to, embodies the deliberate conclusions of just such an official and representative delegation and both farmers and the public generally are to be congratulated in having now placed before them in most concise and readable form a statement containing an epitome of the researches of the Commission and of the recommendations which it has at length determined to make. The decisions which have been reached are eminently conservative in their nature and for this reason, if for no other, they will exercise a much stronger appeal than would otherwise be possible, particularly in the case of those who may for any reason be prejudiced against legislative interference. The prevalence of the disease and the consequent loss to the breeders, as well as the now acknowledged danger to public health are not minimized but gravely acknowledged and seriously considered. In the recommendations which have been made, however, due regard has been given to the great practical difficulties which must of necessity be encountered in the conscientious carrying out of any policy likely to be of use in combating the malady.

Compulsory slaughter of infected animals is not advocated though the destruction of those showing clinical symptoms of the disease is advised. Compulsory testing even is not insisted on, except in herds where the disease is known to exist, though the usefulness of tuberculin, as a reliable diagnostic agent, when properly administered, is confidently affirmed. The Commission bases its great hope of ultimate success in accomplishing the intention of whatever legislation may be enacted on the co-operation of the breeders of live stock in the policy of rearing healthy herds by protecting the young from contagion of any sort. A sufficient explanation is given of the methods advocated and in order to safeguard the interests of those now possessing clean herds, stringent precautionary measures are recommended regarding the shipment, sale and interchange of stock. The policy as presented is in every way reasonable and cannot but commend itself to any fair thinking man.

It is unnecessary to enter into a further discussion of the details of the Report of the Commission, as a copy may be easily obtained by any reader. The fact that this report is likely to form the basis of a new policy shortly to be adopted by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa should give its contents a special interest for Canadian owners of cattle and swine. The time is evidently ripe for such a departure and the Minister's hands will no doubt be strengthened by the steadily growing sentiment on the part of the public in favor of such action. In the meantime and until a definite policy is announced, a careful study of this publication should be made by every farmer and breeder in the country. Whether or not it may be to his advantage to lay his plans forthwith, in accordance with the proposed scheme as therein outlined, will remain for him to decide, but the information which the report contains is of immediate practical value and should not be neglected. It may be obtained by addressing the Veterinary Director General, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ont.

Another Dairy Farms Contest.

At a meeting of representatives of the two Ontario Dairymen's Associations, and of others interested, held in Toronto recently, arrangements were made for the holding of another Prize Dairy Farms Competition throughout the Province of Ontario, similar to the contest that was held so successfully during 1909 and 1910 under the direction of the farm paper Farm and Dairy of Peterboro.

It was decided to establish this year, a fifth district to cover the Beauharnois District in the Province of Quebec. Thus, the contest will be interprovincial in character. As Prize Farms Competitions have been held for a number of years in the Province of Quebec and as some of the best farms in that Province are located in the District of Beauharnois, it is likely that these farms will run even the best dairy farms in Ontario a hard race for the interprovincial honors.

This year Ontario will be divided into four districts. Ten handsome prizes will be offered in each district, or forty in all. District No. 1 will include that portion of eastern Ontario lying east of Kingston. District No. 2 will be that portion of eastern Ontario lying between Kingston and Yonge St., Toronto. District No. 3 will include that portion of Western Ontario lying north of a line running from Hamilton to Goderich. District No. 4 will be that portion of Western Ontario lying south of the same line.

The farms that won first place in each of these four districts in the contest held in 1909, have been barred out of this contest, as well as the farms of R. A. Parhale of St. Thomas who won the Provincial Championship last year, and of O. D. Bales of Lapsing, who won the fourth prize in last year's Provincial Contest.

In this contest, as in the last one, points are offered for all branches of the farm, including the farm house, barns, live stock and crops. Full particulars about the contest may be obtained from the Secretary of the Prize Farms Committee, H. B. Cowan, Farm and Dairy, Peterboro. The chairman of the Committee is the well-known Institute speaker, Mr. Henry Glendenning of Manilla, Ont. It is to be hoped that a large number of our local farmers will enter this contest and thus help to show that we have as good farms in this section as can be found elsewhere in the province.
