A Caistor Wedding.

ATKINSON—GRANT.

A very pleasant event occurred on Tuesday, April 18th, at 4 o'clock when Rose Lillian, the second daughter of Wm. and Mrs. Grant of Caistor, formerly of Tichborne, Hampshire County, England, became the bride of John Atkinson, a prosperous young Caistor farmer. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. H. Monsinger of Chesapeake, at the residence of the groom.

The bride, who was daintily gowned in white muslin, was given away by her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Moran, who wore a pretty gown of linen lawn, prettily trimmed with insertion.

The groom was ably supported by Archibald Grant, brother of the bride.

After the many friends and neighbors present, had tendered their heartiest congratulations and best wishes, all wended their way to the dining-room to partake of the wedding dinner. The many pretty and useful presents testify to the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

We bespeak for Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson a very happy and prosperous wedded life.

Renton

(Intended for last week.)

The wet and cold weather has kept seeding back another week.

Orchard trimming is about all done in this vicinity.

Easter passed off quiet in our burg. Hen fruit was plentiful and at time of writing no has taken an overdose of them.

Fishing George of Port Dover spent Easter at home on the Rolling Valley Farm.

What about our good roads system, our roads last week were something terrible.

Geo. Duncan had a bee on Monday taking down a building.

Hired help in this vicinity is very scarce. Those who are without help at time of writing in our burg are: A. Mitchell, Hugh Newell, P. Mitchell, R. Brock, R. Yeager and that chappie on the Rolling Valley Farm. Would some of those friends who read the Jarvis Record be kind enough to direct some good men and boys up our way if you know of any.

Mrs. John Rowntree of Nelles Corners spent Good Friday with her son on the Rolling Valley Farm. J. J. McCowell was in Delhi attending the funeral of his nephew, Mr. Murphy, who was accidentally drowned last week.
