Boyd-Wendland Nuptials

A very interesting and quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, Jan. 25th, at the personage, Hageraville, in which two of our young people were the principals. The happy man was Mr. David Boyd, a highly respected young farmer, while the young lady whom he chose "for better or for worse" was Miss Louise Wendland, second daughter of our genial landlord, Mr. C. Wendland. The bride looked very neat in her travelling suit which was of navy blue, with hat to match. Miss Maggie Wendland acted the part of bridesmaid, while Mr. Geo. Veigle did the duties of best man. At the conclusion of the ceremony which was performed by Rev. J. S. Kelly, the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents where all partook of a tempting wedding feast. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd have settled down to the sterner realities of life on the groom's fine farm, just west of town. The Record joins with the many well-wishes in the hope that their future will be an uninterrupted honeymoon.

New License Forms.

New forms of marriage licenses now are being issued from the Parliament Buildings, which are a great improvement on the old forms. The entire responsibility of notifying the Government of the performance of the ceremony now is placed upon the officiating clergyman, instead of the party issuing the license. The procedure has been simplified by the printing upon one sheet of paper the forms for the license issuer and clergyman and the affidavit to be made by the contracting parties. After the affidavit has been made and the license filled in, it must be taken to the minister, who makes out the particulars. A detachable slip is filled in and sent to the Divisional Registrar by the clergyman, while the rest goes to the Registrar at the Parliament Buildings.

Farmers Bank bills are cashed at par. A few of these notes are floating around and many people have been wondering whether they are good. All bills up to $100 are good, but there are some $200 bills that have been stolen, and one should be careful in accepting them.

Orchard Demonstration.

The assertion has been made that agricultural papers could not practice what they preach, but the Farmer's Advocate and Home Magazine has the courage of its convictions. Faith backed up by works is the kind that carries strongest proof to the doubting mind. Believing earnestly in this principle, the publishers have followed up their valuable line of Orchard demonstration by purchasing a farm of 135 acres, six miles north of London, where the methods advocated through the paper will be worked out in practice, and where new ideas may be tested before being recommended for general adoption.

The farm is what is known locally as the old Sifton place. The rolling land, while naturally good, has been worked out and infested with weeds till it has become about the dirtiest farm in the County of Middlesex. The barns are dilapidated and the fences down. Altogether it presents an excellent opportunity for showing what can be accomplished in restoring a run-down property. The Managing Editor of the Farmer's Advocate will live on the place, superintending it with the assistance of a competent working foreman.

This is not to be an experimental farm, except incidentally, nor yet a model farm save in so far as any well-managed farm should be a model. It is simply a farm run on a straight commercial basis, where strict accounts will be kept and the information published from time to time. "Good farming without frills" is the motto.

Replying to your letter in reference to the remarks your competing agents are making regarding "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence. Evidently this party is feeling the effect of the fence you are selling.

The sample we sent out are all made on our machines, and are either taken right from the rolls of fence, or made on a small machine welding four wires. They are in no way special, like some of the samples we have seen of other brands of fence.

Every rod that we sell you, you are to put out with the following guarantee:

Guaranteed that the wire is not injured at the joints.

Guaranteed adjustable to uneven ground.

Guaranteed that stays will not separate from strands.

Guaranteed all right in every particular.

And if at any time your customers receive a piece of Pittsburgh Perfect that does not live up to this guarantee, under same strain as other fences receive, we stand ready and willing to replace it with fence that is perfect.

We will further agree to pay $1.00 per stay that your competitor removes with his fingers after the fence is properly stretched on the posts, if he will pay us 10c. each for all that stick.

Wishing you every success, we are,
Yours Truly
Pittsburgh Perfect Fence Co.
H. C. Woodside, Manager.
