"Luck is ever waiting for something to turn up. Labor with keen eyes and strong will, will turn up something. Luck lies in bed and wishes the postman would bring him the news of a legacy; labor turns out at six o'clock and with a busy pen or ringing hammer, lays the foundation of a competence. Luck whines, labor whistles. Luck relies on chance; labor on character."

The horse which can be ridden or driven is the animal that is bringing the money in the horse markets of the world to-day and it is the union of the thoroughbred sire and the so-called cold blooded mare produces the type which has made the Canadian half bred horse most eagerly sought after by dealers everywhere. This part of Canada has for over half a century been famous for its half-bred horses. We have a splendid agricultural district peopled by progressive and prosperous farmers who vie with each other in raising of fine horses, cattle, sheep and swine.

Our readers should keep their weather eye open for swindlers and fakirs as they are numerous and work every scheme to catch people. The latest swindle worked by a sharper in one of the cities recently, is an apt illustration of the ability of these dead beat fakirs to catch not only the ignorant but all others who are not constantly on their guard. This swindler walked into a jewelry store and selecting a $125 watch left a cheque for $400 drawn on an out-of-town bank, with instructions that the watch be regulated and that he would come after it and his change a week later. On returning he was informed that his cheque was no good. "Well, that's strange," he said, "It's the second time the bank has done that thing on me. But here's the money for your watch," and he counted out $125 in currency and started for the door. Oh, yes," he said, turning around, "you had better give me that check." It was willingly handed over to him. On the back was the jeweller's endorsement. With this the man went to the bank got it cashed and was never heard of afterwards.

CHURCH NOTES.

METHODIST CHURCH

Large congregations greeted their former pastor, Rev. J. Wass of Ridgeway on Sunday last when the anniversary services were held. The sermons were of interest and profit to all. The choir rendered appropriate music at both services. At the evening services Miss Shirley Rodgers delighted the congregation by rendering in splendid style, "Nearer my God to Thee." On Monday evening a congregational tea was given, the pastor Rev. Mr. Eddy, occupying the chair. Addresses were given by Messrs. J. C. Sanderson, Joseph Ivey, Andrew Rodgers and Rev. Mr. Wass, the latter taking as his theme "The Duty of Happiness and the Happiness of Duty." Solos were rendered in excellent style by Misses Maud Parkinson and Shirley Rodgers and Miss Foster of Pt. Dover. A male quartette consisting of Messrs. Arnold and Marshall Robert, J. Hunwick and Charles Stallwood added materially to the pleasures of the evening. Mrs. Charles Walters contributed an exceptionally well rendered reading. The singing of the National Anthem followed by prayer brought the evening's exercises to a close. "Acquaintance" is the topic for this evening's mid-week service. Miss Maud Parkinson is to lead the discussion.

Subjects for Sabbath next, morning, "The Bible and the Tercentury," evening, "The richest person our world has ever seen."

Obituary.

Another sudden death took place on Monday evening, 6th of Feb., when the township of Walpole was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Hugh Hyland, one of the most highly esteemed ladies in the township. Mrs. Hyland had not been in the best of health for the past few months, but her physician, who was out the day previous to her death, did not consider her dangerous as she was able to go around and appeared to be so lively. On Monday evening about 10:30 just before the family had all retired they heard a little struggle and to their sorrow she had passed to her eternal home above. Mrs. Hyland was born in the township of Trafalgar and was the eldest daughter of the late Chas. O'Hara, and was in her 78th year. She was married 57 years ago to the late Hugh Hyland, who predeceased her fourteen months ago. She came to this country and settled on the farm on the stage road, where she lived until her death. The funeral took place from her late residence Tuesday morning, the 9th, to St. Ann's church, Walpole, where requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Cleary and afterwards was laid to rest in St. Ann's cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss five daughters and two sons: Mrs. Andrew McDonald of Prince Albert, Sask., Mrs. P. J. Slattery of East Oxford; Mrs. S. H. Murphy and Mrs. M. J. Leavey of Walpole, Miss Louie at home, William at Cayuga and Joseph on the homestead. The spiritual bouquet was a particularly large one. The pall-bearers were the six nephews, J. Hyland, D. Colburn, W. Star, Edward Fitzgerald, W. O'Hara, Wilfred O'Hara. May her soul rest in peace.

Don't Sell Firearms to Minors.

Our attention has been called to a case which was decided by the Division Court at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, recently, under section 119 of the Criminal Code of Canada, by which it is declared to be a criminal offence for any person to sell or give a pistol or any air gun, to a minor under the age of 16 years. In the case referred to a boy had purchased an air-gun, and while shooting sparrows, a shot accidentally struck a woman on the street in the eye. She brought an action for damages against the person who had sold the gun to the boy, and the High Court has sustained the verdict. It is also made a criminal offence by the same statute for the person to sell a pistol or air-gun to anyone whether a minor or adult, without keeping a record of the sale with the date, name of the purchaser, and name of the maker, or other mark by which it may be identified. If there are local complaints, and we are told there have been, strict attention should be paid to obeying the law in the future.

Haldimand Rural Deanery

The Haldimand Rural Deanery met in Cayuga on Tuesday and Wednesday, last week. On Tuesday there was a special service in St. John's Church at 8 o'clock, at which Rev. Canon Belt, Jarvis, preached a very practical and helpful address on "The Kingdom of God." Wednesday at 8 a.m., there was a celebration of Holy Communion, the Rev. Rural Dean Godden, M. A., being celebrant, assisted by Rev. F. C. Walling. This service was well attended. At 10 a.m. there was a "Quiet Hour" service, conducted by the Rev. F. C. Walling. After this the Deanery convened for business at the Rectory, the Rural Dean being in the chair. The first order of business was the electing of Rev. A. Bennett of York, to succeed Rev. R. H. Ferguson of Hagersville, as Secretary. Rural Dean Godden then made the usual opening address, touching on matters of importance to the Church in this County. A resolution of sympathy and regret was passed to Rev. E. C. Earp, Dunnville on account of his enforced removal from the Deanery, through ill health. A motion of regret was also tendered Rev. R. H. Ferguson, on account of his intended removal from the Deanery to Port Dalhousie. Coupled with this were the wishes of those present for Mr. Ferguson's success in his new parish. The program was then proceeded with, which consisted of an address on, "The proper reading of the Liturgy," by Rev. R. H. Ferguson and a paper of "Revivals" by Rural Dean Godden, Caledonia. Both numbers were well prepared, and full of interest and instruction. After this the Deanery arranged, subject to approval of the Standing Committee of the Diocese, the details of the new Diocesan and Missionary apportionment. It was decided to hold the May meeting of the Deanery at York. Before closing a vote of thanks was tendered the Rector of the Parish and Mrs. Walling for providing dinner for the Deanery. At 5 p.m., what all present called a very pleasant and profitable session, was brought to a close with prayer and the benediction by the Rural Dean.

Trip to Mt. Lowe.

The following letter was received by W. E. Sowler from his brother, who is wintering in California with his daughter Mrs. Howe, describing a trip they took up into the mountains which we thought would be of interest to some of our readers.

Mr. and Mrs. Howe and daughter Ruby and myself left the depot at 8th and Main Sts., at 8 a.m., Dec. 29th, and as we turned into the street, looking to the north east, we came in full view of the Mountains and though we were about 28 miles from the summit there was not five minutes at a time that we were out of sight of the grandly bristling sides of the old San Gabriel Range, and as we came into and passed through the Pasadena and climbed up into the foot hill town of Altadena, which, by the way, is one grand array of beautiful homes which wealth, culture and refinement has transformed from a sage brush desert into a veritable garden of Eden, in a very short space of time.

But on to the Mountains! After winding through shady avenues and enjoying the entrancing spectacle of the hoary old mountains at close range, we suddenly rolled into the deep shade of Rubio Canyon, about 2,000 feet above sea level, grand in the extreme, where the car landed us in a pavilion at the foot of the incline. Then we were ushered into a car made to hold about 28 people and which is attached to a steel cable and we started on the trip up to Echo Mountains, where the great Chicago World's Fair search light is located; also a fine Observatory, here is an altitude of 2,500 feet. The incline is 3,000 feet long, being a vertical height of 1400 feet. After taking a long and delicious view of all the places we have just passed through, including the city of Los Angeles, spread out in a beautiful panorama below and to the south of us, we embark on the most wonderful trolley ride it has ever been my lot to enjoy.

But, first let us take a look into Echo Canyon which is 2,700 feet deep, and as grandly rugged a bit of scenery as one can well imagine. Now for the five mile trip that has 127 curves and whose highest point is 2,700 feet. This is the circular track, which is only about 75 feet across, and one horse shoe curve that is not more than 60 feet long and the ends not more than a rod across, but one end is 12 to 14 feet above the other, as we are climbing towards "Ye Alpine Tavern." In one place we could see seven tracks, including the one we were on.

And now for the scenery. To one sitting on the front seat of the car. The ride through the forest covered sides of the precipitous and rocky glades, the different vistas that open out before one as an opening through between shoulders of the mountain, revealing in the distance range on range of the grand old Sierra Madre's. After making various turns and detours through semi darkness, so dense is the shade of the grand old Oaks and Pines, that show their great antiquity, by the heavy coat of the greenest of green moss, which hang to their branches and encircle their quartered and ancient trunks. We felt as though we would like to stop off and take a more leisurely trip through its ever changing scenic splendor, but time was flying and so was the car and all too suddenly we rolled into the glen in front of "Ye Alpine Tavern," where we stepped out to begin to 1100 feet climb to the top, a three mile "hike," which we at once began and which we accomplished in about one hour and twenty minutes. Arriving there we ate a nice lunch which we took with us. On the trip from the tavern to the top we had some grand views of the different ranges, some near, some far away and some so far away they were mere banks against the clearer blue of the sky. And on the other sides beautiful valleys, where the green fields of crops that were irrigated, showed up in their wonderful green against the gray and hoary mountain fastnesses, but the top in the finishing touch to all the wonders we have seen.

From the summit we saw much of the San Gabriel Valley, at places the silvery thread of the San Gabriel River can be seen. The City of Flowers (Pasadena), South Pasadena, Glendale, Hollywood, and then Los Angeles and beyond the city of Long Beach and the Pacific Ocean and the Santa Catalina Islands, which are 65 miles away to the Southwest and if the air had been a little clearer we would have seen the mountains of Old Mexico. But, as it was, taking it all in all, we had a grand day. We walked back to the tavern by another route and arrived in time for the 2 o'clock car, returning over the same route and viewing the same scenery from the opposite direction, which made it ever new, arriving at home in Los Angeles about 4.30 p.m. Thus ended a very enjoyable day.

Forgot to mention that the weather was perfect. A beautiful, bright, sunny day with the temperature somewhere between 70 and 80 degrees—reminded me of a nice June day in Beechwood.
Geo. H. SOWLER, Los Angeles, Cal.

WOMEN TO THE RESCUE
Women of Montreal have organized a movement for the betterment of the people and the observance of laws. These women state that the men are too busy with their commercial business to attend to this movement, and they intend to go ahead unaided. Ten women who have started this movement, all of whom are good housekeepers met at the house of Mrs. J. Clark Murray, 20 McTavish St., and after discussing the many nuisances they are subjected to throughout the year by the unnecessary hinging of door bells, decided to form themselves into a band and start a war upon the shopkeepers, and others who intrude their business in private homes, by bringing scampish, painted signs or other things which the housekeepers claim are unnecessary.
