This is Their Experience With City Children, the Chiefs Declare.

Lack of Proper Home Training Gause of Mest Going Astray.

Ottawa despatch: A strong condemnation of moving picture shows, couched in a sane, logical, setting forth of their baneful influences upon the minds of the young thased upon their own experiences in cittes with juvenile criminals) was the feature of last evening's session of the chief constables in the parliamentary committee rooms.

Seldom has this moot question been discussed in a more intelligent manner, and by men more capable of discussing it from the standpoint of actual every-day experience in the handling and the detection of the causes leading up to juvenile crime. And although there were no sweeping statements or intemperate condemnations. one and all seemed agreed that the moving picture, with the pool room and the cigarette, had a very detrimental effect upon the moulding of the child is to good citizenship.

A namer on "Juvenile delinquents," of Mon by Caief Detective Carpenter, of Montreal, was responsible for a general and thorough discussion of the subject. A splendid paper on the "Twentieth Century Policeman, and How to Retain His Services," was also read by Chief Cons. Slemen, of Brantford, A motion of Chief Inspector Archibald's, of Toronto, that the association should publish an official organ, was referred to the executive committee.

In his paper, "Juvenile Delinquency, Chief Carpenter pointed out that ninety per cent. of the youth of the country who go wrong did so through defects in their home training. The future greatness of a nation lay in the training moral surroundings of the child in its home life. He pointed out that notwithstanding the increased efforts that are being put forth for the lessening of juvenile crime statistics and police records showed that it was on the increase, and the source of this threatening evil could be traced to a lack of proper training in the home.

Pittsburg, July 3,-Two hundred and fifty feet above the ground, suspended by a rope that was burning and his clothes blazing from naptha and carbon oil, Chris Sinkas, a stack painter, 36 years old, made his way down, handunder-hand to earth, while a crowd of men stood horrified at the Westinghouse Electrical & Manufacturing Company's plant in East Pittsburg yester-He held a rope in his left hand to regulate the speed of his descent, at the same time using his right hand in an effort to blot out the flames. When Sinkas reached the ground his clothing was almost entirely burned from his body, he was terribly burned about the right hand and arm, chest and face, and his left hand was raw and bleeding from being torn by the rope as he made the swift descent.

Sinkas was painting a smokestack built recently to a new addition to the power house. Before the tar was apthe rust, Sinkas went to the top of the stack. Before starting to work he lighted a cigarette, and tossed the lighted match, he supposed, to the ground. Instead, the match dropped into a bueket of naphtha and oil. An instant later an explosion occurred, and Sinkas, sflame, made his sensational trip down he burning rope.

MINE ON FIRE.

Escape of Miners Through Emergency Hole — Was It Incendiary?

Clarkesburg, W. Va. July 3. Fire of alleged incendrary origin is burning fiercely in the Chieftain mine of the Clarksburg Coal Co., at Wilsonburg, near this city. Sixty miners escaped through an emergency opening, and it is believed every man who was at work succeeded in reaching the surface. The mine, it is said, will be practically ruined. Water has had little effect, and this morning every opening was being sealed within cement in an effort to smother the fiames. The loss will be heavy. The state mine department

GLIFFORD ON EPISCOPACY

British Baptist Divine Urges Suppression of Church in Canada.

Fight the Monster, for It Means Anti-Democracy, is His Advice.

"To Be a Non-Conformist is to Be Placed on Lower Social Scale."

Toronto despatch: "I regret to see since my arrival in America evidences on every side of the growth of Episcopalianism. Beware of Episcopacy, be warned in time, for I quite anticipate that you will be made to suffer for many of its evils 20 or 30 years from now. Fight the monster, for Episcipacy means anti-democracy and eocial pressure on all of those without its rold."

Thue spoke Dr. John Clifford, the noted British Baptist divine.

Dr. Clifford ran concisely over a wide variety of subjects, explaining tersely his views without the least loss of time or waste of words and no visible trace of heat or emotion until he touched upon his pet aversion, clericalism. Then his keen eyes snapped and burned with excitement while he propounded his views in vigorous,

"Clericalism! I despice it and will fight it with all the energy of my being. You in Canada must beware of its insidious growth and resist it with all the courage of your heart.
"In England I call myself a layman, and would ecorn to even appear in a garb that would indicate that I am a cleric. It is refreshing to come to Canada and see our ministers repudiate clerical attire and appear in white waistcoats. I rejoice to see them do so. I would not even wear a hat that looked clerical. Speaking of the Free Church problem Dr. Clifford eaid:

"We in England are penalized for being Bantiets and are forever paying the price of our high ideals and strong convictions. "The King is not a member of the Free Church, but of the State Church. Society belongs to the State Church, and to be a Non-Conformist is to be placed on a lower social scale." Then followed his warning for Canada as given above.

Dr. Clifford is in close touch with Premier Asquith, and in discussing the question of forthcoming legislation he predicted the sure abolition of the veto of the House of Lords. The Liberals and Laborites would inevitably succed, he claimed, legislation formerly passed would be rein-troduced and the bills would be passed in about this order:

Dr. Clifford explained that the educational bill of 1902 placed the Roman Catholic and Anglican schools upon the rates of the people, so that the rates they pay now are a direct contribution towards the maintenance of the Roman Cathelic and Anglican churches through their schools

Where there is a refusal to conform with laws, ratepayers have their goods seized and sold to satisfy the taxes, and in many cases resistance has resulted in imprisonment of the delinquents, although this drastic method is only followed where the offender has no goods of his own to seize. JUMPS FROM TRAIN

Woman Rolls Bown 10-Foot Embankment and Escapes Into Woods.

Toronto despatch: While the North Bay express was running south yesterday at a speed exceeding 35 miles an hour a woman prisoner, Rose Rae, behour a woman prisoner, Rose Rae, being conveyed from North Bay to the Mercer Reformatory, escaped the custody of Mrs. Scott, the woman bailiff, by leaping from the train.

The woman was in a party of five, all being conveyed from the same jail to the city, one being an insane girl who took up most of the bailiff's attention.

The train had stopped at a small station near Gravenhurst, and had not quite attained full speed when the wo-man arose from her seat and, seeing the door leading to the platform open, made a sudden rush up the aisle. Mrs. Scott dashed in pursuit, but she was a few seconds late, and by the time she arrived at the train steps the prisoner had thrown herself from the train. She rolled down the ten-foot embankment into a small culvert. She quickly rome to her feet and, holding her hand to her face, staggered into a dense bush. Mrs. Scott wired back work of the escape and the Provincial police are looking for the fugitive.

EUCHARISTIC PROCESSION

Madrid Procession the Most Gorgeous Ever Seen in Europe.

Open Air Altars and Hu-dred I a of Flowers Strewn Along.

Madrid, July 3.-'The Eucharistie Congress, which has been in session her for several days, reached its climax to-day in a great procession, which started at 3.36 from the Church of St. Jerome, in which monarchs are crowned, and crossed the capital to the palace in great pomp and splendor. Open-air altars and triumphal arches erected in streets decked with precious Gobelin tapestry, bunting and garlands, converted the cay into an immense temple. It was the most gorgeous spectacle ever seen in Madrid, and it is estimated that it was

From a magnificent altar, hung with Gobelin tapestries and docked with jewels in the vast Castelar Plaza, the Pope's Legate blessed the people, and the belle of all the churches in the city pealed. The palace was hung with tapestry.

The King and Court received the archbishop who bere the Host at the state entrance to the palace. The congregation of Nocturnal Adoration formed a cross with torches, amid the immense crowd. The scene was magnificent.

As the sun set behind the Guadarama mountains a salute of 21 guns was fired. The legate then gave the Papal blessings to the kneeling covereign, court clergy and the multitude. To-night the city was brilliantly illuminated.

Madrid, July 3.-It is officially stated that while the Eucharist procession was passing through Calle Mayer, one of the city's greatest thoroughfares, yesterday, a bomb was exploded in a side street.
