

Right at Last

"An admirable sentiment," he said, slowly, "and it does honor to your humanity, my lord; but still I fail to see how it is applicable to me."

"You will not understand, and yet the matter is plain enough," said Bertie, smilingly and cheerfully. "The matter concerns me because I am Miss Trevelyan's friend."

"I lost no time in getting to the matter in hand, but after apologizing for the lateness of the hour started off at once."

THE SNOW SILENCE. Soundless Periods in the City That Came Along Occasionally. I like the snow silence," said Mr. Goodington, "the stillness that falls on the city when snow comes."

"Catarrhozone" Heals the Lungs Cures Catarrh. When Catarrhozone is inhaled, it carries comfort and healing to every part of the breathing apparatus. It is a pungent error to suppose that diseases of the mucous surfaces of the nose, throat, and lungs can be cured by internal medication.

HE DISTURBED THE SALMON. Some queer charges are brought from time to time in the police courts in connection with game and fish preservation, but that brought against a collier at Cockerthorpe seems to be unique. The man was charged with disturbing salmon on their spawning beds by walking up and down the river banks.

SHILOH'S CURE. The phrase applied to the administration of James Monroe, "the era of good feeling," first appeared in a Boston newspaper, the Columbian Sentinel of July 10, 1817. From that time until the present hour the two administrations of Monroe—a period of eight years, 1817 to 1825—are referred to in the terms of the newspaper paragraph which so aptly expressed the public sentiment of the day.—From the Magazine of American History.
