One Minute Washer

The ONE MINUTE WASHER washes cleaner than other machines on account of twice the agitation of clothes being secured through any given movement of the operating handle. This principle also creates more suds, thus meaning a saving in soap.

The ONE MINUTE WASHER without dispute to be the easiest running machine on the Canadian market. The principle of employing reciprocal motion through compound operating levers develops three times the power of rotary motion, thus accomplishing the desired result with one-third the labor. All things being equal it saves time, labor and soap. One trial is sufficient to demonstrate the truthfulness of all claims made.

That has ever been offered here. We advise the farmers to take pains in showing their seeds.

 THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS

Peter K. Kennedy relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility and weakness for many years. I lay in bed and could not get up. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I lived or not. I imagined everybody was looking at me and I was a disgrace. I had no sleep at night, my head ached, my hands and feet were cold, I was nervous, my appetite, digestion were shaky, eyes blurred, hair fell out, memory poor, etc. Weakness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me to stop smoking and tried many first-class physicians, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was the magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so."

CANADA'S GIFT

TO THE TWELVE NATIONS

No Doubt NOW that Canadian Farmers are to be Exposed to the competition of all the Great Food Exporting Countries of the World

From The Canadian Century
 When it was first made known that the Reciprocity Compact not only gave American farmers free entrance to Canadian markets and extended the same privileges to the United Kingdom and the British colonies, but also opened the door wide to Argentine Republic, Austria, Hungary, Russia, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, Japan, Bolivia, Columbia and Venezuela, Canadians in general thought there must be some mistake. They could not believe that without getting any concessions whatever from any country except the United States our Government would admit farm products from all those countries into Canada to compete freely with Canadian farm products. The wording of the Reciprocity Agreement was very plain, there seemed to be no doubt about its meaning, and yet it was such an extraordinary arrangement, so unfair to Canadian farmers, and so likely to lead to disputes with the American customs officials that many people believed that the Government would give some explanation showing that the agreement had been wrongly interpreted. However, there is no longer any such hope. Mr. Robert L. Borden questioned Hon. Mr. Fielding on this point and Mr. Fielding admitted that the Reciprocity Agreement meant exactly what it appeared to mean and that Canada would get nothing whatever in return from any of the twelve foreign nations or the British countries that share with the United States the privilege of sending their farm products freely into the Canadian market.

 If the Reciprocity Compact, simply provided for free trade in farm products between Canada and the United States there might reasonably be difference of opinion as to whether it would be advantageous to Canadian farmers or not. We think that even such an arrangement would have been a bad bargain for Canadian farmers because the surplus of farm products in the United States is enormously greater than a surplus of Canadian farm product, because the farming season is earlier and longer in the United States and because our farmers would always be at the mercy of the tariff legislation of the United States Congress, while they would have no voice in the election of Congress, but still there would be room for argument as to whether our farmers would gain enough by admission of their products to United States markets to compensate them for losses in the home market; but from the farmers point of view nothing can be said in favour of allowing twelve foreign nations and the food-exporting British colonies to send their farm products freely into Canada without giving our farmers anything to compensate them for this unexpected competition in the Canadian home market.

Orchard Planting Number

Those who intend planting fruit trees this spring, whether beginner or experienced fruit growers will be interested in and perhaps secure some useful information from the March Number of the Canadian Horticulturist of Peterboro, Ont., which devotes considerable attention to this subject. Selection of soil and location suitable for an orchard, preparation for planting, how to plant, the best varieties, cultivation after planting and other subjects of like nature are dealt with by competent authorities in number. Article also appear dealing with the subjects of spraying, fertilizing, renewing old orchards and other matters which will prove of interest to the practical fruit grower at this season. A report of the deputation of the fruit and vegetable growers who waited on the Government recently in regard to the proposed tariff changes is given in this number by a staff representative who accompanied this deputation. An illustration showing the members of this deputation on the steps of the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, also appears.
 Amateur flower growers and gardeners can secure many useful suggestions from this number. Articles appear dealing with dahlias, cannas and climbing roses. "Intensive gardening on a small plot" gives the experience of the writer in the management of a small vegetable garden, describing the preparation of the soil, fertilizing of the soil and planting. "What to grow and how to grow it" explains in detail the making and management of a hotbed. This issue is well illustrated throughout, the illustrations adding greatly to the education value of the articles. Persons wishing to subscribe for the Canadian Horticulturist may do so through this office. The special clubbing of The Record and The Canadian Horticulturist is $1.65. If you wish to see a sample copy of the Canadian Horticulturist you may secure one from the publishers.

A Profitable Partnership

A father with a view to encouraging his young daughter, aged 20, to purchase a Canadian Government Annuity, that she may have an absolutely sure income of $300 a year so long as she may live from and after the age of 55, offered to contribute $25 a year for this purpose if she would from her earnings contribute the balance of the annual premium necessary to secure the said Annuity, an offer which the daughter readily accepted on ascertaining how small an account she would be required to pay. She found that by a saving of $2.27 a month, in addition to the $25 a year (or $2.09 a month) to be paid by her father, the Annuity of $300 would not only be secured, but that it would be paid for 10 years in any event so that should she die before the 10 years expired the Annuity would be continued for the remainder of the term to such person as she might name, thus insuring a positive return of $3,000, but, as has been said, with the proviso that should she survive the 10 years the Annuity would be continued to herself so long as she may live. Should death occur before 55 all that had been paid in with 3 per cent compound interest would go to her heirs. It is certainly a most attractive investment, and other fathers and mothers desiring to set so excellent an example to the children of any ages may ascertain full information on the subject by applying to their Postmaster, or direct to the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom all letters go free of postage.

Society Notes

The following is a suggestive comment on "Society News" by a correspondent of the Clifford Express: "Mrs. Giddyhead and Mrs. Snodgrass will be at home to their friends at the home of the former, Feb. 24th, and as they do not want to have to dust the parlor suit and destroy the cob webs too often, they will not receive again this winter. If their "hubs" keeps away from non-local option towns, and if the baby is not teething Mrs. Stuckup and Mrs. Snickerdoodle will receive at the home of the latter Saturday right after dinner and stay away the rest of the winter. Finally Mrs. Commonsense has and will throw open her doors to all her neighbors and friends from Jan 1st to Dec. 31st, Sundays excepted. You may not find her with the "rat" in her hair nor gorgeously attired. She may have the sleeves of a neat wrapper rolled up to the neck wrestling with some dishes or pounding dough that Mary and John and Kate and Douglas and baby may have something to eat. The kitchen may not be gorgeous in appearance but she is every ready to chat pleasantly with her guests and on their going away will ask them to step in any time they can find it convenient. Mrs. Commonsense is the woman that has made and is making this great old country of ours move ahead."
